SMALL PROPORTION STRIKE

MacArthur Says, However, That Strikes Are Necessary to Progress - Conference Speaker Insulted by Delegate.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 34.—Walter
MacArthur, editor of the Coast Seaman's Journal, told the Industrial Peace Conference, gathered in Christian Science hall today, of the effort of a small body of disinterested citizens to save San Francisco from a terrible labor struggle.

"There were two elements in this community who wnted to fight," said MacArthur, "and when two people want a fight they generally get it. In this instance they did not, and that was due solely to the peace-loving and law-abiding spirit of certain citizens of San Francisco, who got in between the anarchists at the top of the social column and the waveplastic element at the umn and the anarchistic element at the bottom of the social column and brought peace.

the triumphs of conservative labor and capital over the anarchistic element."

The speaker declared that two months ago San Francisco was on the verge of a revolution which would have been more disastrous to the city's interests than were the carthquake and fire. He reminded his hearers that while there are over 100,000 men and women in the labor. there never have been more than 5000 on atrike at one time. He told them that they might readily understand the terrible crisis that had been passed when the cool judgment of conserva-tive men prevailed and a general strike or lockout was averted. "Let us bear in mind," he continued, "that it is only when labor makes trouble that anyone pays attention to it. As long as the individual is pro-vided with the daily needs of life he is not disposed to question how or whence they come. This is not very encouraging to altruism, I know, but nevertheless it is the fact. "If all the workers in the world would resolve never to strike again," said Mac-

Arthur, in conclusion, "the wheels of progress would stop. There would be no peace conferences and the wheels would go backward like a spring unwound." Dr. Newcomb Insulted.

From some sources the officers comprising the squad which fired the volley have been accused of acting teo hastily. Those who would criticise the officers think that if the ar-rest had not been rushed the unfortunate circumstances might have been avoided. Others are disposed to believe that the officers acted only with deliberation and a due regard for their own safety. The injured man, say they, was the aggressor, and the volley from the squad was not fired until after Olson had twice discharged his gun at his captors, once through the door and once after the policemen had entered his room. Because of the reticence of the men in the squad, none of whom will give a detailed account of the shooting, the actual facts surround-ing the affair will not be known until an estigation is conducted in event the inchief of Police Gritzmacher yesterday & Co.

Only two of these officers—Anundson and Thorpe— would make any statement yesterday, and then they would only discuss that part of the affair leading up to the time Cap-tain Bruin assumed charge of the squad. Various reasons are given for the refusal of the officers to discuss the mat-ter. Foremost among these is the stand-ing rule which prohibits officers from talking too much. Still another reason is that the members of the squad have decided not to discuss the shooting until they may be called on to testify before a board of investigation.

BOY WRESTLES MONKEY

Edward Weisendanger Is Victorious in Two Out of Three Falls.

A unique spectacle was afforded visitors at the Oaks last night when Edward Weisendanger, an 18-year-old youth, wrestled with a large monkey which has been on exhibition at that pleasure resort. The contest lasted four minutes and constated of three rounds. The boy won the first and third rounds, the monkey succeeding in downing Weisendanger in the second. The monkey was muzzled and its nalls had been trimmed to prevent injury to the boy. At the start the animal did not understand what was required of him, but when he realized that he was the national state of guaranteed mortgages.

Varicocele causes congestion of the blood in some of the most vital blood vessels of man. It causes a dull, heavy, listless feeling, which is often mistaken for nervous debility or general decline of power. Varicoccle results from partial paralysis of the delicate nerve fibers that control local circulation of the blood. The muscular coating of the veins is deprived of nervous control and becomes inactive, weakens and relaxes. The blood vessels expand from the pressure within. The circulation becomes sluggish and clots form in little nooks and pockets that constantly enlarge as the relaxation continues. These clots may pass into general circulation, and should one find lodgment in the valves of the heart, the result might be instant death. Should a clot lodge in the minute capillaries of the brain, apoplexy or general paralysis might

I CURE VARICOCELE

Don't allow yourself to be butchered and tinkered with. I have a safe, painless and sure cure, original with me and employed by no one else. I use no knife, cause no pain, and you need not be detained from business a single day. I especially solicit those cases in which many so-called treatments have falled, or where money has been wasted on electric belts or other appliances. Don't experiment when my direct method offers a certain means of cure.
