OUTLOOK FOR HOPS

Various Opinions Differ in Making Estimates.

VERMIN OVERRUN YARDS

With Many Growers Indifferent and Cultivation Badly Neglected Prospect None Too Good to Equal Last Year's Yield.

About this time last year hop dealers were wide apart in their estimates of the growing rop, and even at picking time estimates ranged from 115,000 bales to 140,000. When risal figures were available and the total reached the enormous amount of 160,000 bales, it went to prove that the best posted men anything like accurate estimates.

Today dealers are again apart' in their turing crop sun all the way from 130,000 to Returning from a tour of the principal hop-growing counties. Harry Hart says the outlook is none too good for a repetitions of last year's yield. He found many yards badly cultivated, in some instances only half done and a majority of the growers discouraged and indifferent, in view of low prices. He reports lice present in most yards and if wet weather happens of any considerable duracult to rid the yards of the vermin. great extent, but, on the other hand, extreme hot weather is liable to do great injury to burrs. Hart reports some contra be heard of at around 10c a pound, and ex presend it as his opinion that with a smaller leid this year than last, hope ought to be ringing over 10e by harvest time. He rearked the people who are predicting that this year's yield will be 175,000 bales are mong those who last year made an estimate 115,000 bales, and in his opinion they will as wide of the mark in one direction as ney were in the other this time last year.

Advices from Sonoma County, California, states that hop acreage in that county has acreage was 2120, whereas this year it is placed at 2860, or an increase of 740 acres.

A London cable received yesterday reports the hop market dull, the weather unsettled and cool, crop prospects remaining favorable which report was regarded here as rather contradictory, as cool, unsettled weather has been supposed to influence erop prospects ad-

COUNT ON GOOD YIELD. Early Potato Crop Larger Than That of Last Year.

It is rather too early to obtain reliable data encerning the crop of early potatoes, but in observers among dealers say the yield this ders and Early Rose are in the market in a apart from local sources, supplies are not excessive. Price for these early varieties ranges from about $1 to $3,40, the latter figure being for extra funcy stock and well matured. More pointoes moved at $1,25 yesterday than at any other figure, according to the opinion of several prominent dealers. There is no inquiry from San Francisco for early potatoes, the production locally evidently being sufficient to supply the trade there Farmers up the Valley are too busy harvest ing at present to give much attention to dig specied until the rush in other directions to next day or two from Walla Walla, and as the street is practically cleaned up, the shipments will meat with good sale. Dealers are looking for a bare market before Danvers

Use of Sulphur Allowed.

The agitation over a ruling recently made regarding the use of sulphur in fruit drying has resulted in an amended ruling. San Francisco Commercial News says:

"Late advices by letter from the East state that the Department will allow for this season the use of sulphur in drying fruits, but as little as possible should be used by the lyyer or packer. This sets at rest for this year at least the use of sulphur, and before another season it is quite likely that other methods will be employed in drying and pack ing fruits if the Department insists on en-forcing the full text of the pure food law in this particular regard. It is a well-estab-lished fact that in early days it was found impossible to dry apples so as to protect ther against worms, and it was only when a Mr. Plummer, then living in Oregon, invented the evaporator, which he brought to California, was it found possible to dry fruit so it would have keeping qualities. Since then the dried fruit industry on this Coast took on new life and has grown to very large proportions."

Among Vegetable and Fruit Men. A car of Exeter cantelopes arrived yesterday and a car of Turlocks is due to arrive today. lencia oranges that met with good rale, as stocks are none too heavy. Green apples are becoming scarce, the receipts from The Dalles country not being sufficient to supply lemands of local retailers, and no relief is in sight until the next San Francisco steamer arrives. Field tomatoes are plentiful and are quoted at $191.25 per box. Estimates place the Oregon crop of prunes at 22,000,000 pounds and Washington at 5,000,000, according to figures furnished by the California Fruit Grower. A froit firm at Toppenish, Wash., more fruit in Eastern Washington than previously reported, and that considerable will be shipped from Walla Walla and the Snake River country, adding that the Yakima section will market large crops, as much new acreage is

Grain Market Remains Inactive.

The local grain markets continue in a state of inaction, there being only the small move ment of wheat to the South that always marks this season of the year, and which is not regarded by the trade as of any consequence In price-making. Rye flour and meal were advanced yesterday 50c a barrel, on accoun of the rapidly-disappearing stocks and be sause the season is ended. In some of the grain counties of California it is reported that the wheat acrouge has fallen back this year. Dwners of lands have found there is more money to be made in fruits than in grain and where the falling off in wheat acreage occurs. an increase to a greater proportion has or curred to fruit screage.

ST. LOUIS July 25.—Wool steady. Medium grades, combing and clothing, 25@ yards of Washington are looking fine and a big crop is expected. The market is dead.

The dealers say there is no hope for 1900s, though this does not necessarily mean that poer prices will prevail for the new hope. England will produce an enormous cop this year, according to reports, and if such proves to be the case, the effect may be demoralising. The following bearish report was received today: "Weather is unsettled; coeler. Crop prospects are still improving. Estimate 450,000—300,000. Market unsettled; prices irregular. July 25.—Speculative operations fell into abeyance today with the anticons fell into abeyance today with the anticonsequence that the Southern Pacific directors had adjourned for a week without taking formal action on the dividend. Superficially the hait in the market might be construed into doubts as to what the dividend rates will be.

As a matter of fact, it was allowed to be mal action on the dividend. Superficially the hait in the market might be construed into doubts as to what the dividend rates will be. As matter of fact, it was allowed to be understood that the executive committee of the stock from a speculative standpoint was a bruited question, but the healtation of the market seemed due rather to doubts over which apeculative programme might be portended by the singular procedure regarding the dividend question.

Lust year there was excited speculation in the Harriman atocks up to the meeting of the dividends were declared, and the street became fremsied before the public announcement of the action was made on August 17. Yet it was established by the testimony before the Interstate Commission in the Harriman investigation that the dividend rates last year had been discussed and proximably determined at a meeting of the executive committee on July 19.

Yet it was established by the testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Harriman investigation that the dividend rates last year had been discussed and prosumably determined at a meeting of the executive committee on July 19.

The price of the stock went to 91% today in the early extension of yesterday's movement, but the amount of sales to realize at the higher level became so portentous as to dis-bid the amount of sales to realize at the higher level became so portentous as to discourage further attempts to advance it.

On the day last year when the announcement was published that the stock had been placed on a 5 per cent dividend basis it sold at 80 and in the weeks following up to 27½, the record figure. Since that time it has sold at 64%.

Southern Pacific dominated the day's market and when it reacted from the early advance the rise in Reading was ineffective to hold the market. Other factors were of little infumarket. Other factors were of little influence on stocks.

Monty on call continued to rule easy, but rates for time toans were marked up again from six months. Sterling exchange rates were maintained today in spite of duliness in that market.
