Yesterday's baseball game was hastily declared forfeited to Portland by Umpire Derrick after he had engaged in a fist fight with Captain Frank Dillon, of the visiting team.

The fight, in which the umpire struck the first blow, must have been a highly elevating sight to the several hundred women who were present as guests of the management.

The two principals in the affray, Umpire Derrick and First Baseman Dillon, came in line for considerable censure from the fans. Incidentally it may be stated that no police were on hand to quell any disturbance on the grounds.

Crowd Swarms on Diamond.

After a crowd of spectators had After a crowd of speciators had swarmed out on the diamond and sur-rounded the belligerents, three members of the Portland police force, who had probably paid their way into the grounds, as demanded by the management, am-bied on the field and joined Sheriff Stev-ers is the most of externative to clear ens in the work of attempting to clear the field. While they were so engaged Umpire Derrick, highly excited by his recent encounter with Dillon, rushed up to the grand stand and announced that the game was forfelted to Portland and that the score would be 9 to 0. This de-prived those who had paid entrance fees of witnessing a finish, which might have been exciting had the teams played it

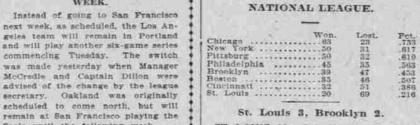

The play which brought about all the trouble occurrred in Portland's half of the ninth. Previously Los Angèles, after having been presented with enough runs to acquire a lead of one on the locals, by virtue of stupid playing and lack of life in action by several members of the home team, Califf, who had been sent in to team, Califf, who had been sent in to pitch insicad of young Hariman, was hit by a pitched ball. When Pat Dono-hue walked Califf went to second. Mott, whose work around third base at times was greatly indifferent, hit a fifth one toward Brashear, who fumbled the ball around and Califf made a try for the plate. As he slid across the pan, Brashear's throw reached Eager and the play correctly. play was close, but was decided correctly by Derrick, who declared Califf safe and tied the score. That was all the rungetting there was in the game, and it left Seat-tle with the margin. With the bases full in the fifth, Wright forced a run, then James fumbled Allen's offering that should have been worked into a double. Clarence Cravath, the hard-bitting right fielder of the Angelic aggregation, is confined to his room by tonsilitis. He accepted all six of this chances in excellent style, but was unable to solve "Adomis" Nagle's de-livery. Joe had a couple of chances to score runs with a hit, but the best he could do was to pop up a fly. Atherton came through with a couple of good clean hits yesterday. They were

Glidden Cars to Run Off Tie.

NEW YORK, July 26 .- The tie between the two runabouts that finished the American Automobile Association tour with perfect scores in the contest for the Hower trophy, will be run off by running the cars from this city to Cleveland and then if necessary over the same route as recently followed by the A. A. A. tourists, until one of the cara drops out. The machines will start Monday morning and the first day's run will be to Albany, the second to Syracuse, the third to Buffalo and the fourth to Cleveland.

Angel captain. Suddenly the umpire stopped, took a step toward Dillon and, atill holding his mask in his hand, made a heated reply. Dillon replied in kind and scokably added constitution probably added something to his remarks for Derrick immediately dropped the mask and hit Dillon on the jaw with his first. This caused a lively mixup and both men exchanged several blows before the two were separated.

Forfeits Game to Portland.

Two minutes after the belligerents had been separated and Dillon had started to leave the field in accordance with Derrick's order, and also before the field had been cleared of the crowd, the umpir declared the contest forfeit to Portland Los Angeles started scoring in the sec ond, when they chased two runs over on a pass to Dillon. Smith's poke to Casey, who tried to get Dillon at third, but Mott who tried to get Dillon at third, but Mott was asleep. Moore messed up a play and Dillon scored. Delmas hit for two bases and the "tooth carpenter" registered. Portland tied it up in its half of the same inning. Atherton, first up, hit safely to left. Bassey followed with a crack to right field. Moore sacrificed, advancing both runners. Fay popped a fly to Smith and Hartman brought both over the pan on his tap, which was not handled by on his tap, which was not handled by either Smith or Delmas, although both fielders touched the ball

A base on balls, two outs and an error by Brashear gave Portland another in the fifth. The one-run lend thus ac-quired remained until the eighth, when a bunch of errors and poor plays gave Los Angeles two more. McCredie's three-bagger and Atherton's second single tied up the score in Portland's half of the eighth. Califf supplanted Hartman on the mound in the ninth and two hits with an out gave the Angels their fifth
