RESENTS AN INSULT

Democrat Tears Down Picture Reflecting on Roosevelt.

POSTED BY HAYWOOD MEN

Dares Would-be Jokers Assembled in Front of Industrial Workers of the World Headquarters to Resent His Action.

Filled with joy over the acquittal at Boise of William D. Haywood, whose cause has been warmly supported by the Industrial Workers of the World, a Socialist labor organization with headquarters at 22 Burnside street, a number of members of that body yesterday took occasion to offer a direct insult to the dignity of the President of the United States, or at least so it appeared to R. L. Heninger, who avenged the action of the "Workers" in a manner that they dared not resent.

When it became known yesterday morning that Haywood had been acquitted, members of the Workers of the World, who were idling about headquarters, secured a large mortar-bedaubed piece of wood, about three feet in length and two inches thick and studded it with wire nails. This war club they labelled "Teddy's Big Stick," and attached to it a picture of President Roosevelt taken from a magazine. Then they suspended the club on the wall of the building. By the side of it they hung a picture of Haywood enclosed in a neat frame and decorated with glistening red ribbons. Above Haywood's likeness were inscribed in large letters the words "Undesirable Citizen."

The decorations were placed in front of the headquarters in the morning, and members of the organization seeing it, laughed uproariously at the silly joke. About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the attention of Heninger was attracted to the decorations and he stopped in front of the place. After listening in vain for some facetious remark from some of the crowd congregated, and determined to resent the first spoken insult, he finally walked up to the picture of the President, into the mouth of which a cigarette had been inserted. Heninger tore it down, defying any or all of the crowd to stop him.

CELEBRATE BOISE VICTORY

Portland Sympathizers to Hold Meeting Tonight.

The acquittal of William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, will be celebrated in Portland tonight by a "Haywood demonstration" under the auspices of the local branch of the Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone Agitation League. The justification will be held in the Plaza and the gathering will be addressed by T. E. Lattimer, of Seattle, and a number of local speakers.

Partisans of the Federation will assemble at Seventh and Burnside streets at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Headed by Tomlinson's band, a procession will be formed. After marching through the principal streets the leaguers and their friends will gather in the Plaza block, where the exercises will be held.

The news of Haywood's acquittal had no sooner reached Portland yesterday morning than members of the league began to arrange for tonight's demonstration. They were assisted by the officers and members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The members of the two organizations were especially gratified with the outcome of the Boise trial. While they were not confident of an acquittal they did not believe a conviction would be secured.

MANY FLOCK TO CHURCHES

Despite Vacation Season, All City Pews Are Filled.

What is the cause of the large numbers of people that are flocking to hear local pastors on Sunday nights, when many Portland people are away from town on their summer vacations? Is it because the saloons are closed and people who used to frequent them now spend their Sunday nights at church, or is it because large numbers of people are coming into the city from outside points to live, or are passing through? These are the questions which ministers of the city are asking these days.

BY AUTO TO BEACH

Trip Can Be Made From Portland in Seven Hours.

DISTANCE BUT 95 MILES

Portland Man Says Easy Route Has Been Found and Residents of the Districts Traversed Are Improving the Roads.

To the sea beach from Portland by auto in seven hours has been proved feasible by W. J. Clemens and a party of four others, who spent Sunday before fast on the Tillamook shore at Oretown, some 25 miles south of Tillamook City. They rode to the beach on the Saturday preceding in 9 1/2 hours, after leaving Portland at 11 A. M. This is the fastest time to the seashore from Portland ever made by an auto. Mr. Clemens was new to the route and the road needs improvement; otherwise the 65-mile distance could have been covered in considerably less time, without straining the machine.

CLOSE LEAKS IN THE LID

POLICE SWOOP DOWN ON GOOD SAMARITANS.

Willingness to Help the Thirst Gets Sam Phegley and H. L. Anderson Into Trouble.

The police soldered up two holes in the Sunday lid yesterday afternoon after having seen with their own eyes that it had sprung the leaks, probably under the effect of the excessive heat. The punctures were not serious but in the aftermath of the operation Calif Griz-masher's journeymen plumbers were obliged to hermetically seal up a brace of private citizens in a pair of iron jars at the corner of Second and Oak. At the same time the desk captain somewhat of a surgeon himself, was moved to stick a porous plaster on the small of another citizen's back, said plaster drawing $35 bail money out of said citizen's pocket, which said desk captain placed on deposit. Dr. Cameron will hold a consultation of physicians under all three cases this morning.

Sam Phegley and George Higgins were out on a tour of investigation yesterday afternoon. They had discovered the jug of wine and were looking everywhere for the fig tree's shade which has for ages past been associated with jugs of joy. Meantime, Patrolmen Anderson and Goltz, a pair of eminent travelers and investigators well-known in the community, were on a botanical excursion gathering specimens of a plant known as the rum blossom. At the corner of Second and Burnside streets they saw Phegley pass to Higgins a bottle of rye. The officers acted quickly.

DESK CAPTAIN, AND NO AMOUNT OF "FLOW OF SOUL" OR "FEAST OF REASON" ON THE PART OF THE TIPPERS COULD MAKE IT OTHERWISE.

Phogley was charged with disposing of liquor on Sunday, and to make the offense worse, to a drunken man, and Higgins was charged with being intoxicated. They didn't have the twenty-five, and their night's lodging was arranged for accordingly.

Detectives Kay and Keelin were out gum-shoeing the North End yesterday, looking for holes in the lid, and found a leak at a suit case. They followed the scent of the tell-tale and pungent aroma and in a room in the Hotel Lodging House they came upon H. L. Anderson, a bartender. Anderson's suit case easily have qualified as a portable heathcote foundry. In his hand he carried a large suit case containing ten quart bottles of beer which the police seized, held as "evidence." In one hip pocket he had a quart bottle of brandy, which shared the fate of the beer. In the other hip pocket was found a quart bottle of rye, which was likewise seized. Kay and Keelin kept on taking stout and after securing enough joy-juice to equip a side-board, asked Anderson whether he didn't carry a movable saloon license with him.

FRANK L. SMITH MEAT CO.

226-228 Alder Street, Between First and Second. Phone Main 411. "FIGHTING THE BEEF TRUST"

We've plagiarized Dooley. We herewith plagiarize Shakespeare and a few others:

DRAMATIS PERSONAE

King Beef Trust (Whose Object is to Encompass the Earth). Hired Man (In Charge of the Portland Branch of the Beef Trust).

KING B. T.—Hey, there! What news do I hear from my Western possessions?

HIRE MAN—My lord, there is a fellow out there by the name of Smith who is raising the dickens.

KING B. T.—Smith? Smith? I've heard that name before.

HIRE MAN—My lord, we hear it evermore.

KING B. T.—Prithce, tell me the worst; what is this man Smith doing?

HIRE MAN—Every time we try to gag the public and make all the business come our way, Smith shoots up our plans and leaves us in the soup.

KING B. T.—Woe's me! Woe's me! Tell me the rest.

HIRE MAN—And he's razzing off all our plans for making the public dig up for that packing plant. If Smith keeps a-doing things, we won't be able to sell those lots, and we can't raise any money.

KING B. T.—I've struck an idea.

HIRE MAN—My lord, hand it out quick, before you forget it.

KING B. T.—Go back and tell those Portland chumps that if they don't buy those lots right away we will double the price. See—double the price. That threat has always worked wonders in the meat business. We've got to make the public dig up and buy those lots and pay for that packing plant. Great Guns! Do the fools expect us to build the plant with our own money? And that fertilizing plant. Good joke! They don't know where we are going to locate that. Ha, Ha!
