New Governor Has-Long Conference With Roosevelt-Judge Rodey Says Situation the Worst in Any

American Territory.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 31.-Radical reforms in the territorial government of New Mexico are to be inaugurated upon the arrival in Santa Fe of Governor George Curry, who has just returned from the Philippines to assume that office. President Roosevelt conferred with General Curry for two hours today and sent him on his way thoroughly imbued with the necessity of ruling with an iron hand until the alleged tangle of intrigu-and graft in New Mexico had been Judge Rodey, who called on Secretary Loeb during the conference at Sagamore Hill, remarked that in his opinion the sit-uation in New Mexico was the worst, from the standpoint of discord, intrigue and crookedness, that could be found in any of the dependencies or territories of the United States, "and the President could not have found a better man than Curry to straighten out the tangle," he added. Chief Justice Kent. of Arizona. arrived at Oyster Bay for a conference with President Roosevelt just as Governor Curry was leaving.

On leaving Sagamore Hill, Governor Curry said he had gone over the New Mexico situation in a general way with the President. He will spend one day in Washington and then proceed to Sante

PANAMA RAILROAD BLOCKED

Sinking of Track in Black Swamp Cuts Road in Two.

COLON, July 31 .- The damage to the roadbed by the sinking of the land around Lion Hill, ten miles from Colon, s more serious than was reported yes terday. A portion of the track built over a marsh, which is known as the Black Swamp, between Ahorca Lagarto and Lion Hill, sank within 30 feet of a number of freight trains. Both ends of the isthmus are tied up, and passen-ger trains are irregular, the passen-gers being transferred by means of temporary pathways.

A similar subsidence occurred in the It same locality several years ago. would seem that the swamp was un-able to bear the strain of the recent double-wacking. All efforts are being made to repair the damage as quickly

CITY MAY PRODUCE GAS

St. Johns Will Consider Municipal Ownership Plan.

After discussing the pending gas franchises last night for nearly two hours the St. Johns Council again postponed final action, this time until the meeting of August 13. Mayor Couch was desirous of securing some action last night and even suggested that all three franchises be granted, but this The Justice then fixed bail at $3000, with did not meet with approval of the two sureties, which was furnished. Council. Before the regular session the members held a long caucus in the committee room on a proposition sub-mitted by Councilman A. R. Jobes that mitted by Councilman A. R. Jobes that the city erect a plant and supply its own gas if it be found practicable. SEOUL, Aug. 1.—An ordinance disbanding the Corean troops was promulgated yesterday.

That this was the subject of the con-suitation came out in the open session when Mr. Jobes suggested that the city might do this under the charter. There was no discussion of the subject. Councilman King said that all the franchiese contained good points and Councilman King said that all the franchises contained good points and some features that were objectionable. The franchises are asked by James Steel, F. L. Purse and S. D. Davidorf. Davidorf proposes to establish a plant that will cost $35,000, the cost to be $1.45 a thousand feet and to be reduced as the gas consumption increases. The first year $250 is to be paid the city. The franchise is to run 25 years. The James Steel franchise offers heating gas for 75 cents a thousand feet and to be reduced as the gas consumption increases. The first year $250 is to be paid the city. The franchise is to run of Seattle, knocked out Joe Elilott, of this city, in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round contest.

At $25 P. M. the ring was cleared and Councilman Jobes has studied the question closely and is inclined to think the city can erect and operate its own plant, and this matter will be considered along with the franchises. The Council is moving slowly for the reason the matter is important and it does not want to make any mistakes. A proposition to oil the principal streets of St. Johns was received last night and taken under consideration.

TRUSTY AT SALEM WALKS AWAY UNDER GUARD'S NOSE.

Charles P. Duke, Sentenced to Two Years and a Half. Works Clever Ruse and Gets Away.

SALEM, Or., July 31-(Special.)-By working a clever ruse upon a green guard in the prison brickyard, Charles P. Duke, an ex-printer and newspaper rep who was doing two years and a half for obtaining money under false pretense, walked away from the penitentiary unwalked away from the pententiary un-concernedly and literally from under the shadow of the guard's rifle barrel, into the public highway and to liberty about 3 o'clock this afternoon. Duke had no sooner got under cover of the dense undergrowth of brush upon the oppo-site side of the road from the prison than his absence was discovered by Foreman L. Burton, of the brickyard, and reported to the prison authorities. Guards were dispatched in all directions in search of the fugitive, but up to a late hour to-night he had not been apprenended.

Duke, who is but 24 years of age, was received at the Pentientiary from Clatsop County, June 20, this year, under two and a half years' sentence, and has been working in the prison brickyard with a crew of convicts making brick for the insane asylum wing extension new insare asylum wing extension.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Britt sent Nelson tottering back with a right to the jaw. Nelson almost went to the floor. He was up quickly in fighting position and Britt smashed right and left hard to the face, and then hooked a hard left to the body. Nelson closed in and milled at his seconds. Britt cleverly protected himself from the Dame's onslaughts. Britt had the advantage of the round.

Round 3. Nelson waded in with left to the face and at close quarters drove his right thrice over the kidneys. Both missed some forceful blows, and after some sparring, Britt mearly sent Nelson against the ropes with right and left to the jaw. The Dane came back fighting viciously, only to receive a terrific left to the stomach and a right swing to the face. Apparently Nelson was undaunted, and he kept forcing the pace and made Britt break ground. Nelson jabbed a vigorous left to the face and followed it with two left swings to the same apot, Then ensued a furious raily, Nelson having the better of it. As the gong sounded, Britt sunk his left twice to the Dane's stomach, making the latter wince. The round was comparatively even. Nelson waded in with left to the face and

Round 4.

Nelson, as usual, stepped quickly to the center, and after some sparring. Britt drove two straight lefts to the face and followed it with a right to the ear. Britt bled at the nose from the effects of Nelson's left jabs in the previous round. Nelson forced the Callfornian to his (Britt's) corner, where Britt sent Nelson back with short-arm left swings to the jaw. Nelson only smiled significantly, however, and, getting in close, swung a left and then a right to the face. Britt covered himself as best he could and they mixed it furiously in the center of the ring. Nelson doing much execution with his shortarm jolis. At the call of the bell. Britt rallied and drove in two terrific blows to the face. Nelson went to his corner quickly, showing no effects. It was a hard fought round. With Nelson enjoying a shade.

Round 5.

Nelson forced Britt to a neutral corner and this men fought shoulder to shoulder without damage. Britt's shoulder, welloped the Atlantic Fleet, came to Washington today accompanied by his aide, Captain ingersoil, for a talk with Department heads over the details of the proposed trip of the battleships to the Pacific I t can be stated that the plans to send the battleships to the Pacific will not be matured before Fall. Admiral Evans will rejoin his flagship, the Connecticut, tomorrow in New York.

Round 6.

Nelson jabbed left to Britt's sore mouth and Britt sent the Dane's head back with a left hook. Then they mixed it, Britt doing much clever ducking and smothering. Britt drove his left hard to the body and Nelson jarred Britt with three terrific left uppercuts to the jaw. Britt fought back desperately and in a mid-ring mix both landed fearful right and left wallops to the jaw and face. It was give and take, Britt throwing science to the winds. Britt came out of the melse with bleeding nostrils, while Nelson did not appear disturbed to any extent. It was Nelson's round.

Round 7.

They exchanged lefts to the jaw and then followed some in-fighting, in which Nelson invariably excelled. Nelson forced his man about the ring and against the ropes, but did not land. Nelson then forced Britt sgainst the ropes, landing almost at will. Britt electrified the crowd by making a great raily. He waded into the Battler and planted left and right, and then right and left to Nelson's face. Nelson smiled as the gong rang and the round ended with honors about even. Joe Gans injected life into the contest by rising in his seat and shouting. "Good boy. Jimmy."

Round 5. They exchanged lefts to the jaw and then

Britt staggered Nelson with left hooks and short right-arm Jolts to the jaw. As Nelson missed a left swing, Britt brought the blood from Nelson's nose with three hard lefts to that organ. Then Britt backed away and continued to pepper Neison's face with left and right swings. The Dane shook his head and went in all the time, with-out, however, stemming the rain of blows to the face. The round ended with the honors Britt's by a clean margain.

Round 9. The crowd cheered Britt as he arose. They went in close and Britt, backing off, shot two lefts to the Battler's face. He foltwo lefts to the Battler's face. He fol-lowed it with left to the jaw and right to the same piace. Nelson, maddened percep-tibly, fought back hard and landed twice with the left to the face. Nelson nearly slipped to his knees from a misspent blow and, as he came in, Britt whipped his left with great force to the jaw. After some sparring, Britt, backing away, drove his left thrice to the face and varied it with a couple of right swings to the face. Nelson closed in, only to be a target for Brit's unerring left to the face. Nelson went to forcing the fight, and was met time and again by left and right to the jaw. Britt fairly smothered his man with left and right smashes, and Nelson tottered about the ring like a beaten man. We huns to Britt and at times butted the Californian for which he was warned by the referec. The bell rang and Nelson spat blood as he went to his seat. Britt brought the crowd to its feet in this round and clearly earned the honors received. Round 13.

Britt, fighting carefully, landed twice with lefts on the Dane's stomach. Nelson advanced, with Britt backing away, and battering the Dane's face at will. Britt was very cool and appeared to gain strength as the fight progressed. Then Britt shot a fearful left to the stomach and followed it with a light left to the jaw. Nelson, however, forced the fighting. He was rewarded with a right swing flush to the jaw. Nelson again almost slipped to his haunches, but was quickly in fighting position. Britt landed two right swings flush to the jaw. landed two right swings to the jaw and then a left hook found refuge on the same spot. Nelson valuity sought to land on his antagonist, but could not locate him. "Britt, Britt," yelled the crowd in unison, as the gong closed a Britt round.

Round 14. Round 14.

Acting under Nolan's instructions, Nelson, with a determined expression, forced Britt about the ring. As usual, his efforts to locate Britt were fruitless, and Britt landed several left swings to the Dane's head. They closed in and Britt peppered his man with right and left jolts to the face. Britt drove Nelson's head back a foot with a terrific straight right. Britt then shot his left and right to the face and they wrestled for a moment, during which Nelwrestled for a moment, during which Nelson gave Britt the elbow and floored him. The crowd yelled its disapproval. The men went at it hammer and tongs, Nelson landing a hard right to Britt's body as the gong rang. It was Britt's round.

Round 15.

Nelson rushed Britt around the ring and received a hard left clout to the face. Britt then drove two wicked lefts to Nelson's Jaw, completely turning the Dane around the followed this with another left to the face, and they fought to close quarters. Referee Welch prying them apart. Britt backed about the ring, landing his left to the Dane's jaw with telling effect and regularity. He continued this to the close of the round, which found the men in a clinch. The crowd was again on its feet yelling for Britt. Up to this time Britt had a clear lead over the Dane. Round 15.

Round 16.

They fought ineffectually at close quarters. Breaking, Nelson uppercut with right to the jaw and then "butted" with his head. The referee pulled the men spart and Britt swung his left to the head. Again they closed in with Nelson inclined to butt. Nelson sent Britt's head back with a right to the jaw and then sent his left to the face. Nelson fought strongly, forcing Britt to a corner. The clusive Californian, however, sent the Dane to the center of the ring with a succession of right and left smashes to the face and head. Britt's round.

Round 17.

The boxers closed in, both holding to some extent. Britt staggered Nelson with a left swing to the jaw, and they clinched. Separating, Britt landed right and left to the jaw and easily avoided the Dane's attempts at retailation. They clinched and Weich separated the men. "Go in," came the injunction from Nelson's corner. The Dane obeyed, but was met with a left to the face. Nelson drove his right to Britt's stomach and Britt staggered Nelson with left swings and with a terrific right to the same place. Then Britt sent the blood spurting from Nelson's mouth with a fearful left smash to that member. The gong rang and for the first time the Dane showed signs of weak-ening. ening.

Britt crossed his left to the ear and then shot his right to the nose. A left hook to the mouth again started Nelson bleeding. Britt sent a straight left to the face and then swung his right to the jaw. Nelson forced his man about, only to receive a telling left uppercut to the mouth. A straight left to the mouth was followed by two right swings to the same place, and the Dane was forced to cover up and stall. Britt staggered his man with a right to the bead and then sent in a left hook to the body. Britt continued to pepper his mun and got away without a blow from his antagonist. It was all Britt. Nelson's right eye was nearly closed at the end of the round.

Round 20.

They shook bands and fought hard at close quarters. Nelson drove a wicked right smash to the jaw. Nelson appealed to the referee about Britt's holding on, and they mixed it furiously, Britt having all the better of it. Britt drove Nelson to the ropes with several hard swings. Nelson tottered about the ring helplessly. Britt went at his man like a maniac and almost sent Nelson through the ropes with a right flush to the jaw. The gong rang at this stage and saved Nelson from a knockout. Nelson went to his corner vomiting and Britt was given the decision at the end of the round. Round 20.

AT THE HOTELS.

left thrice to the face and varied it with a couple of right swings to the face. Nelson closed in, only to be a target for Britt's interior of the face. Nelson went to his corner with a battered face and Britt smiled grimly as he cought his corner. It was Britt's round by a big margin and he received a tremendous ovation as he took his seat.

Round 19.

Nelson endeavored to get to close quarters, but the Californian was too clever. He backed away and drove, two rights to the same epot. Britt clearly outpointed hock again stepping away, the Californian shot his left to the nose as Britt stepped back. Again stepping away, the Californian shot his left to the face twice and then uppercive with right to the jaw. Britt sleed out with left, landing on the nose and the going closed the round. It was all Britt's Nelson was clearly outpointed and could scarcely locate his manning the stand right short-arm hlows to the head and followed Britt met him with left and right to the face twice and then nose and the going closed the round. It was all Britt's Nelson was clearly outpointed and could scarcely locate his manning the stand right hort-arm hlows to the head and face. Although Britt heat Nelson in this round, Nelson forced the fighting, however, but invariably Britt met him with left and right to the face. They worked to the center of the ring and Nelson went to his knees, partially from a slip and Britt's impress in his direction. Then thay mixed it viclously. Britt outpointing

PUSH!

Who said they didn't want Portland and Oregon to grow? Now let's get in and patronize everything made at home, that is, where it doesn't cost any more. A little of this will bring us ahead of all other cities and states in a remarkably short time. We guarantee you the best hard-wearing shoe for men, boys and youths which you can get for your money made right here in Portland. If we do not do this, we do not ask your patronage. Ask your shoe dealer for our shoe. You need not be deceived for our name, "The J. A. Reid Shoe," is stamped with a steel stamp on the bottoms of every pair. If your merchant does not supply them he is keeping back our progress, which is our mutual loss. Boys' shoes $2.59 and $3.00 per pair. Men's $3.00, $3.50, $3.50, $3.50, and $4.50. High tops cost more of course,
