EAST SIDE BARN NEARLY COMPLETED

The East Side city barn, between East Sixth and East 10th streets, and near Cook for the Street-Cleaning Department's use, is nearing completion and will be occupied some time this month. It is little less than 200 feet long and nearly 30 feet wide. With the basement it is three stories high and not an unattractive building, after all the protests that were made by residents of the neighborhood. On the first floor there are stalls for 22 horses. The building has cost about $16,000, exclusive of the site. It will greatly facilitate the cleaning of streets on the East Side and lessen the cost. The crew and teams for the East Side Cleaning Department will have their headquarters at this barn, and will always be near their work.

DEATH OF GEORGE C. PEERY

George C. Peery, a well-known Portland man, died Wednesday at his home on Prospect avenue, Mount Tabor, after a long illness. He was born in 1828, and went with his parents to Missouri in 1835. He came to Portland ten years ago and settled at Mount Tabor. He is survived by his wife and the following children: L. T. Peery, of Cuba, Cal., and Miss Georgia Peery, Mount Tabor. Mr. Peery was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence.

LOUISE KENT HOME AGAIN

Miss Louise Kent, who became so popular with the Baker Stock Company, has returned to Portland yesterday after playing a Summer engagement as leading woman of the Frawley Stock Company in Minneapolis. Miss Kent immediately became a great favorite in that city and was offered flattering inducements to remain at the head of the company during the coming season, but on account of her contract with the Baker Stock Company next season was compelled to decline the offer. Miss Kent will spend August at her mother's country place, rearing up for the regular Baker season, which opens September 1.

The entire office force of the Chamber of Commerce is engaged in sending out the booklets on Oregon which were recently published by that organization, it being necessary to engage extra help. Although the entire edition of 50,000 has not yet been received from the printer, there are enough booklets on hand to satisfy the immediate demand. More visitors have inspected the permanent exhibit in the Chamber during the past month than ever before. A large number of prospective settlers are given information daily.

CLEMENS RECOVERING

Robert Clemens, who was slightly burned by an electric current while working on the lines of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, at Seventeenth and Upham streets, late Wednesday afternoon, is rapidly recovering. It was he instead of Elmer Downing who was injured. The latter escaped uninjured. John Caribera, who was killed at the time Clemens was burned, was found at an autopsy held by Dr. Glen Wheeler to have died from the effects of contact with an electric current. It was first believed that Caribera had died from heart failure superinduced by the excessive heat and in order to ascertain this Dr. Wheeler was called upon by the coroner to examine the corpse.

DEATH DUE TO HEART DISEASE

Fatty degeneration of the heart caused the death of N. C. Haversant, who died suddenly in his apartments at 271 Pine street, late Wednesday afternoon. This is shown by an autopsy performed yesterday by Dr. J. D. Fenton. There had been an intimation of foul play, and an inquest was held in part yesterday. The jury will find the case at 1:30 P. M. afternoon.

POLICEMAN ROBERTS EXONERATED

A jury impaneled by Coroner Finley, brought in a verdict exonerating Patrolman Griff Roberts for fatally wounding William Stevens in innocently yesterday during a riot at East Sixth and East Morrison streets, the night of July 20. Rev. Henry A. Barden, a juror, remarked, "we cannot have more policemen like Roberts."

CHANGE AMONG DEPUTIES

WIFE-BEATER IS WHIPPED

Henry Schaffer, a Slavonian, who pleaded guilty in Judge Cleland's court when arraigned for wife-beating, received 15 stripes from the cat-o-nine-tails at the County Jail yesterday. It was thought by Acting Jailer Beatty that Schaffer would take his punishment without a murmur, but after he felt the first cut across his bare shoulders he began to writhe and beg for mercy.

NANCE O'NEIL CLOSING SUNDAY

Engagement of Distinguished Actress at Marquam Near Close.

This is the last week of the engagement of America's most distinguished tragedienne, Nance O'Neil, at the Marquam, and that wonderful young actress is giving one of the finest performances of her career. The splendid manifestation in the third play, "The Golden Fleecce," has seldom been equaled on the American stage. The entire course of the play is a masterpiece of acting both by herself and the members of the company.

"A Royal Slave"

There is only one romantic drama on the local stage this week, and it is "A Royal Slave," presented by Frank DeCamp, at the Star Theater. Mr. De Camp has starred as Aquila, the hero of the play, for three seasons, and has made the character his own. It is considered by the patrons of the house as the best play for the theater in months. Eunice Murdoch, the emotional actress, is seen to advantage, and the balance of the company is well cast. "A Royal Slave" will run until Sunday night. There will be matinee Saturday and Sunday. Seats for the remaining performances are now on sale at the box office.

"The Road to Frisco" Tonight

"Give the public what it likes" is the motto of the Lyric management, and as consequence you will find that popular theater always well patronized, no matter how warm the weather gets. There are no dull days at the Lyric. There is no "off season." This week more than ever, this has been noticeable because there has been a regular crush at the doors of the Lyric to see that splendid frontier drama, "The Road to Frisco," in which Walter Smith's company has been so successful. Everybody likes the show and everybody comes away saying, "good show." The Lyric is the place for your friends and so the word goes around that the good show of the week is "The Road to Frisco." Another reason for the heavy patronage is that the house is always cool and comfortable. Go tonight. Matinee tomorrow.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

"The Undertow" Next Week

Probably the most-discussed drama of recent years is "The Undertow," which will be the offering of the Stockwell-MacGregor Company at the Marquam for next week, commencing Monday night with Franklyn Underwood in the leading role. The play tells a story of political and municipal graft, which unfortunately has become all too familiar with the public.

"The Westerner" at the Lyric

You'll find that the Lyric is keeping up its record for excellence next week when "The Westerner" will be presented by the Allen Stock Company. This is one of the big successes of recent seasons and always makes good, and it is a play of such a nature that will be given, commencing Monday night, will mark a new record for Portland's most popular stock organization.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

"Taming a Husband"

Women are always anxious to learn how to treat that brute, Man. One way of doing it is shown at the Grand this week in a bright "little comedy" called "Taming a Husband." An artistic contribution to vaudeville it has no superior, at least none as yet listed. Portland's Mollan and Stanley Johns interpret the two roles. Grace Orna is a woman who can sing and act, and funny stories, and she is the Cavana has the best novelty act in the country. Allen Shaw, premier of coin manipulators, is also on the bill. These are only a few of the many acts on the programme. The night shows start at 7:45 and 9:30 o'clock.

Good Show in Cool Theater

The best show in the coolest theater is the offering Pantages makes to its patrons this week. Pantages is so situated and ventilated as to defy the heat on the hottest days. Beauvaly and company in a comedy sketch, "The Wild Flower," serve as the feature. This is a play of life and love by clever people and you are bound to enjoy it. Supplementing the feature are many excellent numbers, including the Musical Nelsons, Ella Hazlett, the girl from the Bowery, the Yalto Trio, the Southern Quartet, Jean Wilson, and "Wanted—A Husband" on the biograph.

MAD ACTION OF DRIVER

Sailors of Maine Attacked by Drunken Man, One Killed.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 1.—Garrett Walsh, a first-class fireman belonging to the crew of the battleship Maine, was killed, and Chief Master-at-Arms T. M. Baker and Chief Baker J. Ackerman, of the same ship were wounded, the former probably fatally, by Fred Gutierrez, a "beach wagon" driver in Ploebus last night. Gutierrez was arrested. The tragedy grew out of a quarrel over paying fares. The sailors had employed Gutierrez to drive them and a sick shipmate to Old Point Comfort. En route to the ship, asked the driver to stop in front of the Palace Hotel to get a drink. The sailors, anxious to catch the launch to the ship, asked the driver to force the payment of the fares then started. According to spectators, Gutierrez caught Walsh by the collar and jerked him out of the back door. Ackerman and a soldier named Smith followed. Then Gutierrez stabbed Ackerman in the arm with a knife. Flourishing his weapon the driver threatened the sailors and soldiers, and Walsh fled into a rear room of the hotel, closely followed by Gutierrez. Later Gutierrez stabbed the master-at-arms and escaped, but was finally arrested. Walsh was found dead, his throat cut, his heart pierced and his body badly cut. Gutierrez, who had been drinking, said the sailors attempted to beat him.
