EXACT REDRESS FROM MOROCCO

France and Spain Send Warships and May Land Troops at Casa Blanca.

Powers Notified by France of Intentions-State Bank at Tangier Pillaged and British Official Captured by Rebels.

Aug. 2.-The French PARIS. Aug. 2.—The French and Spanish governments are acting in concert and in great promptness to meet the situation that has arisen in Morocco. A warship of each of these powers is now in the harbor of Casa Bianca, and three Prench and one Spanish men of war are on the way to Morocco.

France has proposed to Spain the immediate landing of French and Spanish troops at Casa Blanca and, in anticipation of a favorable reply, has prepared three transports at Toulon to convey 2500.

tion of a favorable reply, has prepared three transports at Toulon to convey 2500 men and 600 horses to Morocco. What further steps, if any, are contemplated have not been made public. Slight delay and embarrasement in meeting the situation is caused by the absence of Premier Clemenceau, who is at Karlsbad taking the cure.

An official communication issued today says that the action of the powers in Morocco is limited to that granted them under the Algedras convention. Up to midnight no telegram had been received from Tangler reporting the arrival there of fresh news from Casa.

A dispatch received here from Oran, Algeria, reports that the State Bank at Tangier has been pillaged and that a British consular employe has been cap-tured between Tangler and Elksar. There is no confirmation of this news from

The French newspapers, excepting the Socialist journals, are unanimous in de-manding that the government take decimanding that the government take decisive steps to enforce respect for France in Morocco. Some newspapers express the opinion that Germany will not now stand in the 'way, and they think the time is ripe to abandon M. Delcasse's policy of 'pacific penetration,' which they contend has served only to arouse the hatred of the Moors, or the French, march straight to Fez.

The Republique Francaise says that unless the head of Maclanin Pasha, the Governor of Casa Blanca, is obtained, a genuine holy war is likely to be precipitated, and this would endanger Algeria.

Clemenceau Tells French Policy French Premier, who is taking the cure at Carlsbad, has given out an interview upon the Morogcan situation, in which he says France will be guided by two main considerations in dealing with the situation arising from the Casa Bianca murders. First, she will, if possible, find a peaceable solution of the difficulty, and secondly, she will only take action in reement with the powers who took part the conference at Algedras.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 2.-So as to facultrate fair representation of all countries in the permanent court of arbitration, it has been proposed that the judges be appointed for 10 years, but that this period of time be di-vided among more judges when several of the countries are entitled to have only one representative. Spain and Portugal would have one judge each for five years; Sweden, Norway and Denmark one each for three years, and Servia, Bulgaria, Montenegro and Greece one each for two years, etc.

GOVERNMENT BY IMPULSE

American People Are Easily Swayed by Unreasonable Prejudice.

The psychology of a people is reflected in its Government. And with us impulse joins conviction in the creation of a Government by parties. No other organization of the governmental powers is subject to such subtle, such sudden and spectacular changes as is a democracy. For a democracy must always he a Government by parties; and parties are the repository, not only of conviction, but also of prejudice of dogma, and even of passion. Factional wars have threatened monarchies and laid waste principalities, while creedal differences have devastated whole continents and Atlantic Monthly, eradicated entire populations. In America we have a War of the Roses every quadrennium; and having outgrown religious intolerance, we have transferred to the political arena all the impulses of factional warfare.

The impulses of the masses is like the flashing, erratic lightning. It has been the destruction of the ambition of many of our greatest men when they been the destruction of the ambitton of many of our greatest men when they appeared for high office; because it has been attracted by secondary faults, or by idle tales, or by wliful misrepresention. The unthinking populace too often believe the canard; they allow trivial events to unbalance their judgment.

There was the princely Hen'y Clay. Who ever was more widely accialmed than this wonderful orator of the Whigs? The extraordinary in political life was commonplace to him. He never spoke to crowds—he spoke to acres of people. His name was woven into song and story and paraphrased into a hundred appellations of endearment. For half a century he was the striking figure in our National life. Every journey he undertook was a progress, for towns emptied their progress, for towns empired their populations into his pathway, and farms were deserted when he passed through a neighborhood. And whenever he arose to speak the Nation was his auditory. The adoration of the American people for Henry Clay is one of the remarkable incidents of our political his-

Yet he was five times defeated for the Presidency—three times as a party candidate before the people, twice as a can-didate for the nomination before the Na-tional convention. There were many rea-sons for these multiplied defeats, but principally the false charge that Jack-son hurled against him in 1824 when Clay gave his votes in the House of Representatives to John Quincy Adams for President rather than to the imperator, Jackson. Adams made Clay his Secre-Jackson. Adams made Clay his Secre-tary of State, and Jackson shouted: "Bargain and corruption!" It was a false and unjust cry. Clay was perfectly sincere in his desire to keep Jackson sincere in his desire to keep Jackson out of the White House, and John Quincy Adams could never be suspected of trickery. Yet the people helieved the cry. It was re-echoed and rephrased every succeeding time the brilliant orator ran for the Presidency. He could not live it down; he could not explain it away. Such was the credulity of the people and such their fickleness.

such their fickieness. Clay is not a solitary victim to impul-siveness. A catalogue of the noted men who have been sacrificed to the mis-guided impulse and the blind unreason guided impulse and the hind unreason and dislike of the people would include the names of many of our really great men. Webster, Calhoun, Cass, Biane, Reed, are included among the regal victims of the lightning of impulsive poli-

The usual explanation of this unfortunate phenomenon is that these great than the p men are too big for the office. That is a graft cases men are too big for the onice. In a saturity ing admission for an American to make. No man is too great for the exalted office of President. But there are men too great to juggle with the follies and prejudices of the populace.

The President a Pistol-Toter? Baltimore News,

Baltimore News,
We have been greatly surprised by the information that President Rooseveit "goes armed" for self-protection, the fact that he carries a "gun" having been accidentally revealed, so itis alleged, in Washington, D. C., during the unveiling of the Masonic Temple in that city. It seems that while the grand master was tving the symthe grand master was tying the symbolic white apron around the President's waist he found it necessary to lift His Excellency's coat tails, and that this exposed to the view of many spectators the butt end of a revolver protruding from the right-hand hip

We are the more astonished at this particular revelation because at this particular time we know of no strenuous situation nor of any threatening condition that would justify Mr. Roose-velt in toting a pistol. The present period is especially severe. There is peace in Warsaw. Every enemy has been vanquished and not a head is in sight. Foraker has taken to the woods, Harriman has been silenced, the Rockefellers are on the run, and every railroad president has sought refuge in the cyclone cellar. Indeed, were it not for Mr. Roosevelt's well-known habits of abstinence, there might be room to conjecture that it was not a gun that the Washington Master Mason exposed to view when he brushed aside the Presidential coat talls. The hip pocket is not exclusively a receptacle for revolvers.

morning. At that time a fresh venire of 100 talesmen will be returned into court by Sheriff O'Neil and from among them the attorneys hope to select eight men to fill the trial panel.

The first negro to present himself in any of the bribery-graft cases was briefly examined and disqualified himself this morning. He was James L. Wright, a mulatto barber. He confessed to a fixed Henry Gille, a merchant; Jonas Elsas-ser, bookkeeper; Charles C. Bradford, seaman's outfitter; Norman H. Hall, merchant, and V. H. Poss, civil engineer, stood aside in the order named on account of bias for or against the defendant. Among the more interesting questions suggestively asked of talesmen by the defense were these:

"Was Mr. Rudolph Spreckels ever a customer of yours? "Do you ever recall in all the years of your residence in San Francisco anything that attracted more attention than the prosecution of the so-called graft assessment.

The invariable answer was: "No. "Are you a member of any laboration, or are your sympathies with the labor unions?

"Are you an active member of any political organization recently formed?" "If you were convinced in your heart that this defendant was guilty but the instructions of the court required you to acquit, what would you do?" An interesting talesman was Charles C. Bradford. Answering a question by the prosecution as to whether he could the prosecution as to whether he could

Mr. Johnson launched an indignant oblection, but was cut short by Judge Dunne, who said:

"The objection is sustained. Mr. Schlessinger, I will thank you to frame only such questions as go to show the juror's state of mind."

APPEAL AGAINST INDICTMENTS

Halsey and Others Carry Validity

Question to Supreme Court. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2 .- The question of the validity of the many score of indictments returned recently by the Oliver grand jury has at last been submitted to the Supreme Court of California Theodore V. Haisey, the "outside man" of the Pacific States Telephone Company, now on trial on a charge of bribing Supervisor Lonergan, filed a petition yesterday with the Supreme Court, appealing to that body for a writ of prohibition, restraining the Superior Court and Judge Frank H. Dunne from trying his case.

A similar application for a writ of prohibition against Judge Carroll Cook was filed on behalf of the six carmen indicted June 26 by the grand jury on charges of felony alleged to have been committed in a streetcar riot. This decision will apply to all six cases. The attorneys for the indicted officials of the United Bailroads also appeared in the chambers of the Supreme Court yesterday after the filing of the Halsey petition, and ansounced their intention of filing similar briefs.

The petitioners in praying for the writ rely iargely upon the opinion given recently by Judge Cook on a motion to quash the indictments in the cases of the strike rioters. In his opinion Judge Cook field that the acts of the grand jury since the new grand jury panel was drawn in February last are null and void. Judge Cook refused at the same time to set aside the indictments, suggesting that the whole dictments, suggesting that the whole question be passed up to the Supreme Court. This question is now before that body, and the indicted ones do not desire their trials to proceed until a decision is rendered.
