Kaiser and Czar Confer All Day on Affairs of World's Powers.

NO EFFECT ON ALLIANCES

Germany Announces Full Approval of French Action in Morocco.

SWINEMUND, Aug. 5.—Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Nicholas of Russia have spent the entire day together at sea. A review of the German fleet was witnessed in the morning from the German battleship Deutschland and this evening there was a reception on board the Russian imperial yacht Standard.

A semi-official communication regarding the meeting of the two sovereigns declares that their conferences have served further to strengthen the traditional friendly relations between them and that the meeting has given proof of good understanding today between the leading statesmen of the two empires. Every question of an international character has been the subject of thorough discussion between the two emperors, with the result that their views hold therein have been found to be in absolute accord.

The occurrences in Morocco are not likely to cause any misunderstanding after the clear and friendly explanation of the situation made by M. Fichon, the French Minister of France, to Prince von Radolin, the German Ambassador to France, and the determination of all the signatories to carry out the terms of the Algeiras Convention.

It is declared from the same semi-official source that neither the alliances of Russia and Germany nor the relations of those powers with other powers have been affected as a result of the meeting. In the course of which both rulers expressed the most earnest desire for the present period of peace in the world and in the maintenance of universal concord in peace.

KAISER SHOWS HIS WARSHIPS Entertains Czar on Deutschland, Brother Henry's Flagship.

SWINEMUND, Aug. 5.—Emperor William went on the Russian imperial yacht Standard today and took Emperor Nicholas with him on board the German battleship Deutschland, the flagship of Prince Henry of Prussia, which, after hoisting the flag of Grand Admiral and both imperial standards, stood to sea, followed by thirty warships—battleships and cruisers—to take part in a series of maneuvers.

The fleet returned to the roadstead in the afternoon. Prince Henry had lunch with the two sovereigns. Subsequently Emperor William accompanied Nicholas to the Standard. As the two emperors passed, the crews of all the warships cheered the Russian sovereign, the bands played the Russian national anthem and the ships fired salutes.

BETTER FRIENDS THAN EVER Two Emperors Agree Peace in Far East is Secure.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 5.—A semi-official statement has been issued here concerning the meeting of Swinemund of Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas. The meeting is said to be the return by Emperor Nicholas of the visit paid him by Emperor William in July, 1905, and it is described as having been most cordial.

Prince Von Buelow, the German Chancellor, and M. Volokoy, the Russian Foreign Minister, discussed various political questions, but without any definite aim. It was agreed by both sovereigns that peace in the Far East is nowhere threatened.

AFFECTS DEAL WITH BRITAIN Meeting of Emperor May Prevent Settlement With Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 5.—Public opinion here attaches importance to the Swinemund meeting only as affecting the progress of the Anglo-Russian negotiations, which will close soon. The choice of the time for the interview, just preceding the concluding of the Anglo-Russian accord, is taken as a demonstration of the fact that the traditional friendship of the Russian and German courts remains intact and has not been affected by the newer friendships.

The present state of the Anglo-Russian negotiations is such that Germany could easily effect the ultimate issue. During the last two years the Russian and British governments have taken up successively all the questions affecting their interests, principally in the near and middle East, and, while the utmost frankness has been displayed on both sides, coupled with evident willingness to receive a common ground for agreement, yet up to the present the whole scheme is still in process of negotiation and a great deal depends upon the deliberations of the next few weeks. The understanding may be expanded into a political agreement similar to the Anglo-French entente, and it may be contracted into a settlement of local questions. In either case the negotiations have served to bring the two countries closer together than they have been for a century.

The Russian liberal press, whose sympathies naturally favor Russia's adherence to the Anglo-French group, ventures the opinion that the meeting of the emperors at Swinemund will not exercise any appreciable effect on the course of the war. The Russ, however, regrets that the interview preceded the conclusion of the Russian-British agreement. The Reich, according to the Novoye Vremya's suggestion that Russia use her good office to restore Germany in the confidence of the Western powers, questions whether Russian interests would be benefited by such a course of action.

NOTHING AGAINST GERMANY Russo-British Agreement Gives Satisfaction at Berlin.

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—The Russian Foreign Minister, M. Isvolsky, communicated to the Chancellor von Buelow on Saturday the terms of the Russo-British agreement. The German government, the Associated Press is semi-officially informed, has indicated its entire satisfaction, nothing therein being regarded as detrimental to Germany. The agreement, it is affirmed in non-official quarters, almost altogether concerns the status quo in Asia, especially in Persia.

America and Japan to Prove Friendship by Treaty.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A special dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: Japan and the United States propose to demonstrate to each other and to the world their mutual desire to maintain close and friendly relations. The demonstration is to take the form of negotiations for the removal of all differences which have arisen between them. As a result of investigations into Asiatic immigration conditions which Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus and the Japanese commissioners are making, the two governments will be in a position to approach the settlement of the grave exclusion question with a better appreciation of each other's necessities and embarrassments.

"Williams' Headquarters, Jackson, Aug. 5.—Do not let the ballots or original tally sheets go out of the hands of the election officers. We have won this election and do not propose to be counted out. (Signed) 'BEN F. WELLS, Chairman.'"

John Sharp Williams gave out the following to the press: "I have certainly been elected. Why the opposition does not concede it, I cannot understand. If there be any honest reason for holding back the returns, I cannot conceive it."

Mr. Wells received a message tonight from J. M. Thompson, of Tupelo, that he had been requested to send the ballots and tally-sheets to the chairman of the State Executive Committee, and declined to comply. Mr. Wells indorsed this position.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The Commercial Appeal today says: "That there will be a contest, no matter which way the Senatorial primary in Mississippi went, is the information that was received from several reliable sources in Mississippi last night. Revised figures have reduced Congressman John Sharp Williams' lead to 756 votes, and this may be reduced still further when complete corrected returns are received from several remote counties."

ABERDEEN, Wash., Aug. 5.—(Special)—County and city officials were busy today issuing warrants at the instance of the Rev. E. L. Benedict, of Hoquiam, for the arrest of all persons who kept their places of business open Sunday. There were about 40 persons named and the warrants were not ready tonight and went over. Late this afternoon there was an offer of compromise with the saloon-keepers. Benedict, it is said, agreeing to withdraw the complaints if the saloon men would close, other places of business not to be disturbed. Tonight, the saloon men met and refused to compromise, so the war is on in earnest.

Mayor France, in a statement tonight, says he is not so much interested in morality with Mr. Benedict as it is notoriety seeking. Threats have been made against the person of Benedict by the so-called vicious element.

Coroner's Jury in Winona Explosion Blames the O. R. & N.

COLFAX, Wash., Aug. 5.—The jury impaneled by Coroner D. B. Crawford to hold an inquest over the body of Roscoe Buchanan, the car inspector who lost his life in the dynamite explosion at the Winona depot, was out 20 minutes and returned the following verdict:

"We find that Roscoe E. Buchanan, a car inspector for the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, met death August 3, about 7 A. M. Death caused by an explosion of dynamite stored in the coal house of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company at Winona, Whitman County, State of Washington."

"We find the explosion due to the fact of said company storing dynamite in an unprotected place."

Judge E. K. Hanna, of Colfax, who conducted the examination, elicited from Daniel Branch, an employe of the railway company, who was a witness, that he knew there were 15 boxes of giant powder, with caps and fuses, aggregating 69 pounds in weight, stored in the coalhouse. The explosives had been stored there about a month.

Superintendent William Gleason and other employes of the company denied this fact, alleging that the coalhouse contained only a 19-gallon tank of gasoline. This did not explode, being about 20 feet from where the powder was ignited. It was further alleged by the officials that the boxes in the coalhouse contained nits.

Many damage suits are threatened on account of the explosion.

The Whitman County village has the appearance of a town visited by a cyclone since the horrible fire and explosion. All residents are calmed and the injured are being well cared for. Buchanan was buried at Winona at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America. He leaves a widow and two baby boys.

the war talk in Japan is confined to the politicians of the Progressive party, who are opposed to the present ministry. He continued:

"There is no talk of war with this country among the great mass of the people nor among the government officials, and I believe the whole thing is confined to a political move on the part of a small coterie of Japanese politicians. Any reference to the government being forced to assume an inimical attitude toward this country by the power of popular opinion is sheer nonsense. While Japan has a National Diet, the suffrage is confined to about 3 per cent of the entire population, the other being disfranchised by lack of property qualifications. With 88 per cent of the people having no vote, their opinion has little weight in shaping the policy of the government."

"The present ministry is very friendly with the United States and the party out of power—the Progressives, as they are called—is simply agitating war with this country in order to embarrass the government and create an issue for the coming election. I think the whole thing has no significance outside of the phase offered by Japanese politics. The Progressives have several newspapers, corresponding to the jingoes in this country, and they of course publish inflammatory editorials, with the object of working up a feeling in support of their cause. None of these newspapers have much standing with the better class of Japanese."

"These organs agitate in spite of the fact that they know Japan is financially unable to make war. The national debt is so heavy that it is impossible for the government to borrow money, regardless of the quality of the securities of settlement is that of immigration. Although a delegate to the men from California came to Washington to urge the President to take action toward lowering the bars against Asiatic immigration, there is no doubt such an action is impossible at the present time. Eventually, in the judgment of the President, all the immigration in Japanese waters by American sealers, 50 years ago the latter refused to admit Americans into their country. Today Americans do not admit Japanese. Fifty years hence the objection of the United States to the Japanese coming here will have disappeared and, moreover, the density of population will be such that the Adalacs will find sharper competition than they do now and will not care to come to this country."
