Awful Consequences of Standard Oil Fine Predicted by Congressman.

POPULISM IS RAMPANT

Plutocratic Statesman Terrified at Prospect of Centralized Government - He Gives Roosevelt a Few Adjectives Indirectly.

MARSHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 22.—So-called extension of the executive authority was strongly deprecated in an address delivered by Congressman Samuel McCall this afternoon at the Marshfield Fair Grounds. Referring to recent Governmental prosecutions, he said the fine of the Standard Oil Company for the offense of accepting dis-criminating rate was probably not greatly exceeded by all other fines imosed by the Federal Courts since the stablishment of the Government. Mr. McCall asked why old laws were enforced rather than new ones de-manded, and pointed out that at the time when Congress was asked to confer upon an executive department power to fix a rate, there then reposed upon the statute books the very act against febates and discriminations whereunder this $30,000,000 fine was

He Fears Central Power.

"The practice in the Government," said Mr. McCall, "of expending the maximum amount of noise and disturbance to secure the minimum of good may be diverting, but it is costly. I believe the Populistic agitation started by the rate bill, far more than the legislation which resulted therefrom, has financially and industrially injured the country. If a similar public senti-ment had been created 66 years ago many of our great commonwealths would today be unsettled areas. "The effect of the rate bill will be

ALL EXPECTED TO TURN OUT

All-Benton School Fair Begins Next Week.

CORVALLIS, Or., Aug. 22.—(Special.)— It is estimated that nine-tenths of the people of Benton County will visit Cor-vallis the last three days of next week. The occasion is the All-Benton School Fair, and another estimate is that nine-tenths of the school pupils of the county will be in the parade for review by Gov-ernor Chamberlain. It is also expected that Senator Fulton will occupy a place on the reviewing stand. Both are to make on the reviewing stand. Both are to make addresses during the fair, as will also Superintendent J. H. Ackerman, President Kerr and others.

New York Leaders Fight Over Hughes and Taft.

MOVE TO INDORSE OHIOAN

Woodruff and Parsons Lead in Supporting Big Secretary, but Page Will Revive Resolution in Favor of Governor.

> NEW YORK, Aug. 18 .- The Times to day says:

Trouble is already brewing in the Republican State Committee over the re-ported promise of Chairman Woodruff and County Chairman Herbert Parsons to deliver a Taft delegation from this state at the National Convention. There are indications that the meeting of the ommittee on September 26 will be eve stormler than was the last meeting, at which Governor Odell introduced his fanous Hughes resolution. The outcom is regarded as very uncertain.

was ascertained yesterday that State Senator Page is at war with the two leaders who have pledged their support to the President's candidate, and that he s already busy striving with some of the members of the committee. He proposes at the meeting in question that a motion shall be made to take the Odell resolution indorsing Governor Hughes off the table. He hopes, between now and the date of the meeting, to win over a sufficient number of the committeen insure a fight on the resolution, and, with the aid of the Odell contingent, to pass it, despite the opposition of Woodruff, Parsons and their adherents.

Hughes and Roosevelt at War.

In some quarters the activity of Sena tor Page is taken as a hint that there is to be war between Mr. Hughes and President Roosevelt over the New York machine. The Governor's friends assert that it is not that he is seeking the Presidential nomination himself, but that he would prefer to see the delegation from this state to the convention represent the wishes of the people of the state rather than the dictates of a boss. Mr. Woodruff is in for a lot of trouble at the committee meeting, no matter whether Mr. Page succeeds in his en-deavor or not. The Odell resolution in favor of Mr. Hughes is certain to be an issue, and the activities of the Senator who represented, the Governor at the State Convention last year, even if unsuccessful in the main, are sure to result in the resolution receiving stronger sup-port than it obtained at the last meeting. It is practically certain, therefore, that Mr. Woodruff and probably Mr. Parsons as well will be put in a position in which they will have to declare themselves either pro-Hughes or anti-Hughes, which is precisely what neither wants to do.

Odell Overjoyed at Fight.

The Odell faction is jubilant over the outlook. Messrs. Woodruff and Parsons have already been sufficiently embarassed by the lack of patronage for machine men that has marked the Hughes administration, and the popularity of Mr.
Woodruff, at least, is said to have greatly diminished. It is with great difficulty

Mr. Woodruff, at Nantucket, has spent a week with William Barnes, Jr., leader of Albany County, following the conference which both men had with the President last Monday. dent last Monday. They have been dissing the non-partisan ticket plan for the Court of Appeals Judgeship nominees this Fall, and the preliminary work of obtaining a Taft delegation from this state. It is said that Mr. Barnes is to see to it that Aibany and Erle Counties are in line. Mr. Woodruff will deliver Kings and Queens, Mr. Parsons is to be held responsible for Manhattan. Nas-sau, the President's own county, will look

With these countles safe, the President, Woodruff and Barnes expect to enforce the unit rule and make the state dele-gation solid. Knowing this, both Senator Page and the Odell men will proceed to attack the Woodruff-Parsons-Barnes forces in the sections referred to.

Secretary Must Pay or Remit Fine on Steamer.

MAKES SKIPPERS LAUGH

Induced Steamer Captain to Violate Law to Save Time in Coming From Honolulu-Collector

Stratton Smiles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22 - (Special.) Customs Collector Stratton fined the steamer Asia $1000 yesterday for violating the coastwise passenger traffic law and his action has raised the curtain on s humorous official pantomime in which Os-car Straus, President Roosevelt's aid, and head of the department which rules the ways of ships, is seen in the role of a Cabinet officer who has broken the law earnestly cogitating the dilemma whether to remit the fine or assume the punish-ment and pay it. He will have to do one or the other, for he caused the vessel to break the law, but the wily captain demanded and obtained a cash deposit, and if the Secretary does not remit the fine $1000 on the Straus expense account will find its way to Uncle Sam's Treasury via the San Francisco Custom-House.
Mr. Stratton fined the Asia for bringing the Straus family from Honolulu here. One of the marine statutes probloits a foreign vessel carrying passengers from one American port to another. Mr. Stratton smiled broadly when he assessed the fine, which is $300 each for the Secretary, Mrs. Straus, their son, Private Secretary Mrs. Straus, their son, rivate Secretary Wood and a traveling companion. He pointed out the section which provides that the fine may be remitted by the Sec-retary of Commerce and Labor, if he thinks the offense unintentional

"It's up to Straus," said the Collector when the ship's agents asked about mitiwhen the ship's agents asked about miti-gating circumstances.

"Yes, it's up to Straus," remarked the Asia's captain. "We've got his thousand.
If he does not remit it, why, we will pay with his money." And a foghorn roar reverberated through the Custom-House corridors.

Mr. Straus was applious to get hor Mr. Straus was anxious to get home. The Asia was the earliest boat over and he took it, despite the law which his own department administers. He put up the $1000 to indemnify the ship's company, and Custom-House officials are wondering whether he will indemnify himself by anything the fine remitting the fine.
