STRIKERS FEELENCOURAGED

HOPEFUL LETTERS EXCHANGED WITH OTHER CITIES.

Managers of Telegraph Companies Report They Have Force to Send Out All Business Offered.

Cheering news was received at the headquarters of the striking telegraphers at the Esmond Hotel yesterday from various cities throughout the United States, and similar messages were mailed from here to the men for-merly behind the keys in other cities. Not a man has deserted the ranks of striking telegraphers during the past few days.

A committee from the Telegraphers'

Union visited a meeting of the Freight-handlers yesterday, and the speeches of the strikers were received with cheers. The Freighthandlers declared that they would do all in their power to help the telegraphers, saying that the move of the Federated Trades Council in promising support to the strikers met with their approval. Esmond yesterday morning and declared that they were with the circus and had just dropped around " to see how the boys are getting along." The visitors were soon convinced that the boys were getting along very well, and all were going to go out and see the elephant. There were no down-in-the-mouth men around the Telegraphers' headquarters all day yesterday, al-though so many went to church that the rooms looked deserted for a time. Letters received from Knoxville, Au-Atlanta and El Paso declared that "all the boys are very jovial and enthusiastic." The local operators say that they had a wire from Louisville yesterday denying the report that the operators there had gone back to work.

A delegation of the strikers recently called on the officers of the Chamber of Commerce and asked that organization to take some action toward aiding the men in their efforts for getting better pay. As yet, the commercial body has not taken any action in the matter, but it is thought that it will do so soon The members of the Telegraphers Union are making plans for a gala time at their benefit ball, to be given in Murlark Hall, Twenty-third and Wash-ington streets, next Thursday night. There will be many unique electric decorations, and telegraph instruments will be placed in booths along the sides of the hall, so, besides talking, there will be plenty of dot-and-dash

Manager John Annand, of the local Manager John Annand, of the local Poetal office, said last night that six men, including the chief operator and himself, were at work here. "We had all of our wires clear at 12

"and the New York and Chicago officer were all clear by 2 o'clock. One reason why we are doing so well is because our wires do not run into depots, and so are not tampered with by country operators."

When one mentions the country station agents to William Dumars, man-ager of the local Western Union of-fice, his eyes begin to flash and he says things.

"Those hyenss in the country towns are causing us lots of trouble," he declared last night. "Every one of them ought to be sent to the penitentiary If it was not for them, we would be doing our regular amount of business and could attend to it. We have all the men here that we need." "How many men have you at work here?" was asked Mr. Dumars.

"Well, now, I told you we had enough to do what work is required," he replied. "If we had more operators we would simply have to let them go, because we have all our wires working. Two new men came in today, and one from Pendleton vesterday."

The two who arrived yesterday were reported at the strikers' headquarters to be from Salem. It was also said at the Esmond yesterday that Churchil, the operator brought from Oregon City by Mr. Dumars, was quite ill Friday and Saturday from the effects of over-This Mr. Dumars denied last night, saying that Churchill never felt so well in his life.

REAL ESTATE DEALER DIES

J. E. Sisson Suddenly Expires in Marquam Building.

J. E. Sisson, a real estate dealer, occupying offices in the Washington Building, died suddenly about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the office of Dr. C. H. Wheeler, in the Marquam Bullding. Mr. Sisson was on a business call at the office of E. J. McKeltrick, in the Marquan Bullding when he suddenly complained of severe pain over the heart. Mr. Mc-Keltrick removed him to the office of Dr. Wheeler, where he was treated, Mr. Sisson expired within a few minutes Coroner Finley was notified, and took charge of the body. Mr. Sisson left no family and so far the county authorities have been unable to locate any of his relatives. He was well known in his business life.

CASHIER OF DEFUNCT BANK COMES FROM EAST.

Scapegoat of Fallure Will Have Chance to Shoulder Blame or Accuse Other Officials.

> Interest in the failure of the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank now centers in the return of Cashier W. Cooper Morris, who is expected to reach the city today. Not only will Mr. Morris be able to tell of the failure of his hurried trip East, which was a forlorn hope to save the bank from the crash that overtook it or at least to postpone the inevitable, leged transactions in high finance charged to him by other bank officials who accuse him of handling the bank's money with a recklessness that they characterize as criminal.

> As yet Cashier Morris has had no chance to defend himself, but has been made the scapegoat of both president and directors of the defunct institution. What he will have to say and whether he will attempt to shift the blame upon the others or will accept the odium for the others er will accept the odium for the failure will be of importance to all who are interested in fixing the responsi-bility for the disaster to the bank. No progress was made yesterday in the slow work of listing the bank's visible assets, but this will be resumed this morning. President Moore did not go to the bank yesterday, and Receiver Devlin did not prosecute his task as usual. A report to depositors, showing what they report to depositors, showing what they may reasonably expect in the way of dividends, will be made by the receiver just as soon as the accounts can be gone over.

Meanwhile additions to the list of depositors who are asking for telephone securities in lieu of their deposits continue to be made. Additions to the list already published to the amount of nearly already published to the amount of nearly $162,000 have been made voluntarily by large depositors. This feature of the situ-ation is regarded as most favorable to a satisfactory settlement of the claims of the bank's creditors.

The sultcase full of securities taken East by Cashier Morris to hypothe-cate for funds to tide the bank over its difficulty did not arrive yesterday, so far as known, but this is thought to be due to the fact that the express companies do not make deliveries on Sunday, and the bonds are doubtless already in the Wells-Fargo vaults.

DISTRICT NEEDS HYDRANTS

Without Them Highland Engine Company Will Be Handicapped.

The Fire Department will install, at Highland September 1, a fire engine which will afford excellent protection to a wide district. The engine-house I tions but no one was injured has a favorable location, and can respond promptly to calls in any direc-tion. It can follow Union avenue to Woodlawn and Piedmont, or go on Alberta street to East Twenty-eighth and south on Union avenue. It can also reach the carbarn district within reasonable time. It will be greatly handi-capped, however, in affording this large district fire protection because of the scarcity of hydrants, which are widely scattered. At the carbarns on Kilingsworth avenue, where a considerable business center has been developed, there is a big water main, but no hydrants. This condition prevails all hrough this district, especially in Voodlawn and east and west of Union avenue. Between 50 and 100 fire hydrants must be placed in this district or the expense of installing a fire engine will be largely wasted

Portland is extending toward the north with rapid growth. Houses are being built all through the teritory as far as Columbia boulevard, but these nomes will remain unprotected unless the fire engine at Highland is provided with water connections.

The Nolta Improvement Association has taken up the matter with the Ex-ecutive Board, in the hope of getting hydrants placed at important points. The hydrants in Piedmont are fairly good, but there are practically none at Woodlawn. The Northeastern Improvement Association is also trying to get fire hydrants in the Vernon sec-

Acting Detectives Kay and Kienlen also discovered a thirst-dispenser in the person of Monroe Bolich, who was generously treating all the thirsty persons he met in the vicinity of Third and Burnside streets, each of whom was allowed to partake of the con-tents of a generously-proportioned jug of whisky. Bolich and George Benett, one of the thirsty ones, were arrested and taken before the authorities, where each was required to deposit $25 as ball. While near the circus grounds yesterday afternoon, Detective Maher, of the District Attorney's office, was attracted to Twenty-fourth and Thurman streets, and on investigation caught Chris Kalmbach, a saloonkeeper at 795 Thurman street, in the act of giving liquor to five men whom he had invited into the saloon. Maher informed Kalm-
