

HEARST SPEAKS TO LABOR UNIONS

Condemns Class Hatred and Urges Co-operation of Capital and Labor.

HAVE UNIONS ON BOTH SIDE

Independent Leader Would Reward Law-abiding Corporations, but Punish Lawbreakers With Prison Sentence Like Others.

NORFOLK, Sept. 2.—William Randolph Hearst, of New York, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, were the principal speakers at today's great Labor day celebration at the Jamestown Exposition. The weather was clear and thousands of people from all parts of Virginia, together with several thousand here for the opening of the grand aerie of Eagles tomorrow, attended. The exercises were held at the reviewing stand on the Lee parade grounds.

Mr. Hearst arrived this morning from San Francisco, accompanied by Mrs. Hearst. They proceeded to the exposition grounds with Mr. and Mrs. Gompers. When introduced by President Tucker of the Exposition, Mr. Hearst was given an ovation. He said in part:

No Reason for Class Hatred.

Labor Day should rank with the Fourth of July as a characteristic American holiday. In this country there is no working class but every man worthy of the name is a working man. The American people are prejudiced which exist between alleged classes, when the classes themselves do not really exist. There is no reason for hostility between employer and employee; between capitalist and wage-earner. Capital is but accumulation of wealth. Wages are but the division of product. Employer and employee are entitled to their share of the profits and, as long as the division is just and equitable, there is no occasion for conflict. If the division is not just, it can always be made so by arbitration and there is still no occasion for conflict. A condition of class hatred, such as has developed in Colorado, is a curse to this country. There should be no prejudice entertained by the capitalist toward the laborer and there should be no prejudice by the laborer toward the capitalist. There should be an appreciation of the essential part which each plays in the creation of wealth.

Corruption by Corporations.

Their effectiveness as combinations of capital is seen in their enormous power for good and their menace lies in the misuse of that enormous power for evil. There is no greater danger to our government, to our people and to our public morals, than the corrupt use of the Government power by corporate wealth. You hear much today of how the laborer in San Francisco has fallen, but you hear little of how powerful public service corporations tempted a sacred human being with great wealth and brought a once respected man to ruin and disgrace. While it is the fashion to criticize San Francisco just now, I venture to assert that the only difference between San Francisco and some other cities is that San Francisco is punishing her corrupt officials. There is many an official elsewhere who has stolen office or dealt in public property, who would fare like Schmitz, if there were more honest and fearless District Attorneys like Union Labor Leader Landon.

Reward Good, Punish Bad.

Let us recognize and reward the good which honest corporations accomplish, but let us with equal justice condemn and punish the evil which corruption in corporations spreads. Let us recognize the corporations as we do our individual citizens. Let us make laws impartial for all and then make all impartially obedient to the laws. Let us give every opportunity to legitimate enterprise, but let us enforce the prison penalty against powerful criminals as we do against the weak and helpless. Let us go forward and not back; let us recognize the faculty of organization is the measure of intellectual development, but let us proceed with the same respect for each other's rights, with consideration of each other's services, with appreciation of each other's value. Let us recognize unions of labor, unions of farmers, unions of capital, and let us conduct them, not narrowly and selfishly, but broadly and unselfishly for our own best interests and for the public interest as well. Let us combat organization that operates for evil with organization that operates for good. Let us organize a union of all good citizens to preserve our Government as patriots founded it, to conduct it impartially for the benefit of all and to perpetuate for our children the independence, equality and opportunity which our fathers with devotion, sacrifice and heroism won for us.

TWO PARADES AT GOLDEN GATE

Union Men Turn Out to Hear Talks and Have Sports.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Labor Day in San Francisco was observed with more than usual enthusiasm. The weather was perfect and work of all kinds was suspended, while almost the entire populace flocked to the center of the city and Golden Gate Park, either to view or participate in two great parades, which constituted the chief features of the celebration. San Francisco Labor Council, with its 105 affiliated unions assembled near the park panhandle and marched through the main driveway to the new stadium, where literary exercises and athletic sports occupied the greater part of the day. The oration of the day was delivered by ex-Congressman James G. Maguire. Valuable prizes were offered to the winners of the various athletic events and were competed for by many of the best athletes on the Coast.

The parade of organizations affiliated with the Building Trades Council was headed by Grand Marshal P. H. McCarthy. After the parade dispersed the men and their families went across the bay to Shell Mound Park, where literary exercises were held. The only thing which occurred to mar the pleasure of the day was rioting on Market street at the noon hour, during which several persons were hurt.

Chicago Has No Parade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—For the first time since the inauguration of Labor Day a great parade of unions was omitted. Several days ago the great organizations decided to abandon the parade and devote to other uses the large amount of money which was formerly expended on it. Business houses and factories were generally closed.

Haywood Speaks at Omaha.

OMAHA, Sept. 2.—W. D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, was the principal speaker at the labor picnic here today.

NO KANSAS SALOON OPEN

Abstinence Advocates Swarm to Oklahoma to Fight Liquor.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 2.—(Special)—For the first time since the Kansas prohibitory law was enacted 25 years ago there is not an open saloon in the state. This is due to Attorney-General Jackson, who has driven the agencies of a dozen breweries from the state, confiscated their property and collected heavy fines. He has gone to Wichita, Leavenworth, Atchison and other cities and personally filed complaints against saloon-keepers and started injunction proceedings against owners of buildings in which these places have been run, thus driving all out of open business.

At Atchison the saloon men have fitted up a Summer garden on an island in the middle of the Missouri River containing about two acres. The line between Missouri and Kansas is the middle of the river and the title to this property is claimed by both states. Snowboats built between the Kansas side and the island carrying the thrifty and from the garden, Attorney-General Jackson, of Kansas, and Hadley, of Missouri, will hold a conference to see if something cannot be done to stop this evasion of the Kansas law, as it is claimed that one-half the island is Kansas territory.

Kansas temperance advocates are flocking to Oklahoma to participate in the contest for prohibition in the new state that will be decided September 17, when the vote on the new constitution is taken. Kansas is sending scores of speakers there to help in the fight. An appeal to this state for help says that the liquor interests from the Atlantic to the Pacific are centralizing their fight for control of the new state.

Chief of Police Cranston of Leavenworth, acting with full understanding with Police Judge Taylor, is waging a strenuous war on men who refuse to support their wives. Recently many have been arrested and sent to the workhouse on the vagrancy charge, because they have frequented liquor resorts and permitted their wives and children to support them. The two declare that they will show no mercy to any man who abuses his wife or who refuses to support her.

SUICIDE TO AVOID ARREST

Burglar Shoots Policeman, Is Cornered and Shoots Himself.

LYNDHURST, N. J., Sept. 2.—George Cassidy, a policeman, was shot down and killed early today, while endeavoring to arrest two burglars who had been caught in the act of robbing a store. The burglars were then pursued by a crowd, and rather than submit to capture one of them killed himself in a swamp. The other burglar escaped.

Cassidy had arrested the men and started with his prisoners for the station house, when one of them drew a revolver from his pocket and, pressing against Cassidy's coat, pulled the trigger. Cassidy fell down and the two men ran away. The shooting aroused the neighborhood and the crowd gave chase. The burglars separated, one of them making for the Passaic River. When the crowd pressed too close, the burglar turned and fired a fusillade of shots, but no one was hit. The burglar then ran into the swamp, trying to find a place where he could swim the river, but the mud and slime dragged him down, and he became exhausted in his efforts to escape. Realizing that he would be captured, he used the last cartridge to shoot himself. He was dead when his pursuers reached him.

CAR KNOCKS OUT WAGON

Mrs. Olcott Colt Fatally Injured. Motorman and Conductor Arrested.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Cleo F. Colt, wife of Olcott Colt, formerly of Hartford, Conn., was probably fatally injured early today in a collision between a runaway wagon, in which the Colts were riding, and a trolley car on Sixth avenue. Mr. Colt was badly bruised. The motorman and conductor of the trolley car have been arrested. Mr. Colt is the son of the late arms manufacturer. Mr. and Mrs. Colt were driving across Sixth avenue when an empty car, returning to the car barn, crashed into the light runaway. The car was speeding at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and the eye-witnesses state that all the lights were out and the gong was silent. The car hit the wagon squarely cutting it in half and throwing Mr. and Mrs. Colt to the curb, 15 feet away. The horse was jammed against an elevated pillar and became entangled in the harness. Mr. and Mrs. Colt were removed to a nearby hotel, where it was found that Mrs. Colt was paralyzed from her waist down and suffering from internal injuries. Mr. Colt was bruised all over and was injured about the head.

Rate to Trans-Mississippi Congress.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Sept. 2.—The rates to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress have been decided upon, so far as the fare is concerned, and Colonel Clifford L. Jackson, who is chairman of the committee on transportation, has announced that one and one-third fare will enable anyone to come to Muskogee next November from any point in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory. The tickets, however, are limited to November 24 on their return date, a matter which the committee will try to have extended so that delegates and visitors will have more of a chance to see the beautiful Southwest country. Denver has put in her formal bid for the meeting of the Commercial Congress in 1908.

New Suits for Autumn

Smart tailored costumes for Fall wear are plentiful here now. The models for Autumn 1907 show decided changes from the lines for last Spring and the suits that were worn a year ago. The long coat seems to be much in favor, the Redingote, the three-quarter and the seven-eights length being among the new models we are showing. The ever popular Eton is strong as ever in the short jacket models, and is sure to be popular because of the opportunity it provides for elaborate trimming effects. Another short jacket suit that has already met with favor is the thirty-inch semi-fitting coat, in the tailored effect. The materials in these suits are velvets, in many shades, broadcloth in plain weave and chiffon finish, chevots, serges and many patterns in fancy wool suitings. Trimmings used are laces, Persian braids, silk braids, appliques, etc., on the Eton and trimmed models, and straps and pleats on the tailored styles.

Come to see the display Tuesday in the second floor suit salons. The biggest and best suit store in all Portland ready this season with the best assortments in its history, for the opening of the season.
