PALETHORPE ON THE STAND

Admits Part of Mrs. Nancy C. Campbell's Allegations.

G. H. Palethorpe took the witness stand in Judge Gantenbein's department of the State Circuit Court sesterday to tell of his connection with the transaction by which Mrs. Nancy C. Cainpbell, a widow, alleges that she was swindled out of her home at Salem. He admitted that he told Mrs. Campbell that there were 6000 cords of wood on the farm he traded for her property, worth $1.15 a cord_net. On direct examination he also admitted he told her before the bargain was made the farm had a five-room house on it, but cross-examination brought out the fact that he told her the house had three rooms downstairs and that the matter ooms downstairs, and that the garret was unfinished D. D. Winkel testified that he put in an acre and a half of garden on the Palethorpe property one season, and that two good rains that came would have kept the ground moist if the land had been worth cultivating. The vegetables, how-ever, were not worth harvesting. The case will probably go to the jury this Millwright Demands Damages.

Joseph M. Rogers has brought suit in the State Circuit Court against the Port-Lumber Company to obtain $50,000 dam-ages because of alleged negligence on the part of the company in not equipping its machinery with proper safety appliances. The plaintiff charges that on July 18, 1907, he was assistant millwright for the defendant and was repairing a loader chain when the machinery started, with the result that he was caught in a gear and so seriously injured that it was necessary to amputate his arm. He ajit He alleges that the gear should have been boxed, and that the starting lever, which was evidently thrown over by the jarring of the machinery, should have been provided with a lock of some kind.

Willard L. Carmack Answers His Wife's Divorce Complaint.

Willard L. Carmack has filed in the State Circuit Court an answer to the complaint of Hattie C. Carmack for a His defense is that his motherin-law is the cause of all the trouble between him and his wife. His wife's mother, he says, is a spiritualist and clairvoyant, and spent a year in his home against his wishes. On account of her continued interference in the affairs of the family, he says, he one day ordered her to leave, which made her angry. He alleges that his wife waxed, indignant over this action on his part and con-cocted with her mother the scheme to file a divorce suit in order to get his property He says his wife has an ungovernable temper and frequently called him vite names and beat him in the presence of other people

Carmack says he is the owner, with J. F. Gilbert, of the Diamond Ice Com-pany, but that the business is not yet on money making basis. Mr. and Mrs. rmack were married in Portland July

ESTIMATES CITY'S GROWTH

Mrs. H. M. Clinton Says Portland Has 225,000 Population.

Mrs. H. M. Clinton, local manager for R. L. Polk & Company, which is com-piling the 1907 directory of Portland, estimates that the population of the Rose Clty, including the contiguous suburbs, is not less than 225,000. This estimate is based on the increased birth rate, which based on the increased birth rate, which has doubled in the last three years, the large percentage of increase in school attendance and the increase in the vol-ume of business at the Postoffice. Mrs. Clinton expects to have the new directory completed next month.

While it is not natural for everyone to have extremely long hair, it is possible for every lady to have . beautiful hair, for when the scalp is not diseased, the hair will grow naturally and abundantly.

The chief disease of the scalp is dandruff-which is highly contagious-and dandruff is now known to be caused by an invisible vegetable growth called the dandruff germ. Ordinarily, the first signs of scalp infection are dryness, dullness and brittleness of the hair, although the disease sometimes causes excessive oiliness. Following this, the hair loes its luster, the scalp itches more or less and dandruff appears. Falling hair and baldness represent the last stages of hair destruction, Newbro's Herpicide-the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ-will cure any stage of this disease, except chronic baldness, which is incurable. Herpicide not only destroys the dandruff germ and stops falling hair, but it is a most exquisite hair-dressing, making the hair light and fluffy and giving it a silken gloss. Almost marvelous results sometimes follow the continued use of Herpicide. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.
