Total Membership of 70 Unions. These Pay Annually About $10,-000 Rent-Labor Leaders Do Not Attend Taft Meeting.

Portland's labor unions are considering the practicability of eracting a Labor Temple to cost about $100,000. This project was considered at the regular meeting o Federated Trades Council last night and the plan was very generally indorsed. The president and secretary of the Council were constituted a committee and instructed to communicate with other Pa-cific Coast cittes where the labor organ-inations maintain such buildings, for the purpose of ascertaining the cost of conructing and operating such a structure committee will in due time repor the information gained to the Council, when the subject of building a temple in this cky will be further considered.

Unions in Good Condition.

There are more than 70 labor unions it Portland and it is estimated that these organizations pay not less than $10,000 a year in rent for the quarters occupied. They have a membership aggregating $600, so that it is figured that from the saving in rent and by levying a small as-acasment on each union man it would re-quire but a short time until the funds for a building would be provided. As a rule the different labor organizations of this city are in good financial condition and are better able to consider such a project than they have been in years.

The committee in charge of the Labor day celebration reported that approximately $1000 had been realized from the demonstration. On motion the Council extended the committee a vote of thanks and congratulation for the very success-

It was announced by the anti-wood trust committee that it would be pre-pared to deliver wood to customers about October 1. Lafe Pence, of whom the committee has purchased a wood supply, has notified the committee that he will begin delivering the wood late this month. Orders have already been received by the labor committee for several hundred cords. The committee is also negotiating with a local coal company and may arrange to handle this fuel also for the Labor Absent From Taft Meeting.

Personal invitations were received yes by a number of the prominents of organized labor in this city requesting their attendance at the Taft meeting last night. The invitation asked the recipients to accept seats on the plat-form. None of the invitations was ac-

"We were prevented from attending the Tatt meeting, tonight not only because it chanced to be the night for the Federated Trades Council meeting," said Mr. McDonaid, last night, "but we did not wish to be placed in a position that might be construed to mean the indorsement of Mr. Taft by organized labor." ment of Mr. Taft by organized labor."

David Treasurer, the chief engineer of the ship, who says he has brought at least 5000 monkeys into this port, said yesterday that the python which is missing awoke when the Montrose was off Sandy Hook and gave signs of being hungry. "It hadn't had a meal in six months," he said. "We gave the varmint a coop of chickens, but they didn't seem to help much, for it crept out of its box and crawled up to the poop deck and swallowed pounds of dyestuff, mainly red, blue and green matter. Then it disapand green matter. Then it disap-peared. The 'orrible thing is 22 feet long, weighs 200 pounds, not counting the coop of chickens and the dye, and is at large. GROWERS PROTEST TO COMMIS-SION AGAINST INCREASE.

Say Present Cost of Shipping Less Than Carload Lots Will Result in Crippling the Industry.

At a meeting of the Oregon Railroad Commission this morning the hearing of the grievances of the Oniongrowers' Association against the Southern Pacific Company will be continued. On February 1. last, the rates for handling onions it less than carload lots were raised, as was also the charge for hauling fertilizer. Since the greater part of the shipments by the oniongrowers is in less than car-load lots, the advance in these rates is considered excessive and the growers say that their continued enforcement will result in crippling the industry.

At today's hearing the railroads will present their side of the controversy. The old rates were the same for shipments of old rates were the same for shipments of less than a carload as for carload lots and had been in force for about 14 years. The rate from Hillsboro to Portland on onlons was raised from 7 cents a 100 either in carload lots or smaller ship-ments to 13 cents for less than carload lots and 7 cents for carload lots. From Beautiful the sold rate of 5 cents has Beaverton the old rate of 5 cents has been raised to 7 cents for carloads and 11 cents for less than carloads. The rate from Sherwood for carload lots remains at 8 cents a 100 but for less than car-load lots the charge has been increased to ill cents. Formerly the charge for car-loads of fertilizer from Portland to either of the three points named was $6. This has been increased to $8, which the onion-growers declare they cannot afford to pay. The complainants are demanding that the old rates be restored. Several local merchants are expected to attend today's hearing and add their testimony to that of the producers who represent an in-dustry that in 1893, when the old rates were first effective, consisted of 117 acres. At the present time more than 500 acres are devoted to the growing of this crop the district affected by the increased

West Point Commandant Orders Silent Treatment Stopped.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 .- The "silent treatment" given a "plebe" at West Point, it is stated in dispatches received here, has resulted in a clash between the plebe class and the commandant at the Military Academy, Colonel Robert Lee Howze which threatens to deplete the supply of U. S. Army officers four years hence, for Colonel Howze issued an order two days arm to the select that unless the cade ago to the effect that unless the cadet was relieved entirely of the "silent treat-ment," he would dishonorably discharge ment," he would dishonorably discharge the entire class.

Arcadet, the son of a wealthy Chicago man, is the young man around whom the trouble centers. He is a plebe, and, it is stated, received the "allent treatment" not only from his own class, but from the cadets in the other classes because of a complaint he is alleged to have made when he was mildly hazed by a fellow classmate.

The cadets, it is understood, have determined to remain firm in their aititude.

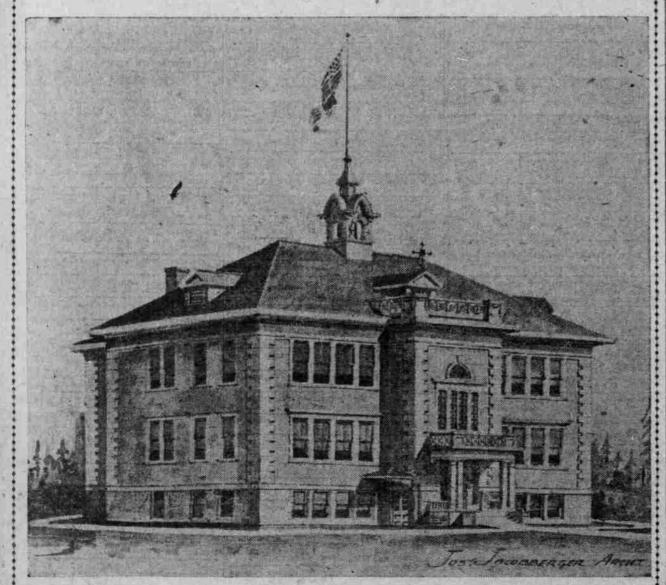

OUT OF A JOB.

The "out-of-a-job" man can quickly find employment if he advertises in The Oregonian. There are many employers in Fortland anxious to secure the services of men and women in all branches of business. Most of them wisely use the "want" columns of The Oregonian and "want" columns of The Oregonian, and take their pick of the applicants. You can take your pick of jobs if you do as the employer does and advertige. Tell your qualifications in a "want" ad and you will be surprised at the many business houses who need help such as you can

You can, of course, apply for a position from door to door, or office to office, but that takes time and car fare, and the chances are you won't be listened to. You will be listened to, however, if you

In this way you place your application—for that is what the ad will be—before a large audience of employers, an audience that could not be reached in any other way. Your name need not appear other way. Your name need not appear in the at. It can be addressed care of The Oregonian, and no one but yourself will know who the applicant is. person new to Portland who visits Rose City Park with serious intentions, returns to purchase a home site there. Most of these people are from the East, with intimate knowledge of the magnificent suburbs of the great cities of the Nation. Invariably they declare that Rose City Park possesses greater charm than any of them. Usually, also, their purchases are made after a careful examination of the other suburbs of the city. Their judgments are exceptionally good. It is creditable to themselves as well as to Rose City Park that they choose the latter place.
