Scheme to Raise $10,000,000 Campaign Fund - Unique Situation With Wall Street Backing the Former Radical.

YORK, Sept. 8 .- (Special.)-William Randolph Hearst's "conservative" speech at Jamestown on Labor day has created great excitement among his devoted followers.

"In 1905 we worked for municipal own ership," said one district leader today, "in 1906 we dropped it and became radi cal. Now we are conservatives. Will someone please tell me where we are at?" At Jamestown Mr. Hearst sald: "I have no patience with the prejudices which exist between alleged classes when the classes themselves do not really exist. There is no reason for hostility between ist and wage-earner." This is in sharp contrast with a favor ite extract from his speeches last year when he said: "The corrupt corporation purchase from politicians the right to rob the people, practically securing l employer and employee, between capitalcenses to exploit the people." Changes Front on Capital.

In view of what Hearst has said re garding Morgan, Ryan, Belmont and other financiers, his followers were sur prised when they heard that at Jamestown he had given yent to this surpris ingly conservative tribute: The great financial promoters, organ fzers, executives of America are worthy of recognition and reward.

"They work as hard as any of us, and their work is absolutely necessary to the full production of the riches out of which are paid here in America the highest wages in the world. Through many an anxious day and many a wakeful night these men have planned and pros cuted the great enterprises which have developed the wealth of the nation and have given employment to millions men. Let them have a liberal share of that wealth as long as that is the incer tive which stimulates them to useful ac tivities. Let them have wealth as long as it is honestly acquired through enter prises that benefit the whole community The riches they amass and call their own are seldom spent in extravagance and luxury upon themselves, but are put back into new industries to produce mor wealth and give employment to mor

"Harriman is thoroughly convinced that Roosevelt will be renominated. He be lieves that Hearst running on a Demo cratic ticket with independent support could defeat Roosevelt, if he has a sufficlent campaign fund.

"This fund Harriman is willing to rais among his ailies in Wall street. He is also prepared through his Southern Pacific connections to turn over the Demo-

This probably explains why William R Hearst, for the first time in his life, has paid eloquent tribute to "The Captains of industry," who have beretofore been un mercifully cartooned and scathingly paign fund if he set his mind to it. "It would be a funny thing, though." he continued, "to see Wall street passing the hat for William Randolph Hearst. Practically every big man in the street has been roasted by the American, and it would be a bitter pill for them to contribute for a Hearst fund.

"But it seems to be the rule that the men who are most bitterly attacked by Hearst one year are his warm supporters the next.

"Look at Charles F. Murphy and Sena tor Tom Grady, who were lampooned 1905, and boomed Hearst for Governor in 1906. Last year Pat McCarren was the coat, but if Rockefeller gives the word McCarren would be compelled to cheel for Hearst. And if you will notice, Rockefeller has been treated in a kindly man ner by the Hearst papers of late."

How the labor leaders would enjoy see ng their leader's campaign "financed" y what they have been taught to call the Plunderbund," is a question.

"In this country labor is universal and is universally honored and appreciated," he said at Jamestown. "In this country there is no working class, but every man worthy of the name is a workingman. SHUNNED BY HIS FRIENDS

Broken in Health and Spirit He Now Pays Penalty for His Eccentric Doctrine Alone in Villa Near Florence.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 .- (Special.)-Extled by the contumely of his fellow men, crushed in health and spirit by his failure to reform society and re ligion and cheered only by the ministration of the "affinity" for whom he abandened his wife and children and sacrificed public respect, Dr. George D. Herron, the most noted of modern so cialists to set the example followed by the eccentric artist, Ferdinand Pinney Earle, is living in seclusion in a suburb of Florence, Italy,

George D. Herron married Mary Everhard, sweetheart of his college days at Ripon, Wis., in 1883. The "affinity" did not enter into their lives for ten years. Dr. Herron from boyhood thought and spoke fearlessly. His socialistic ideas did not suit his Congregational charge at Burlington, and he resigned to fill a chair of Applied Christianity in Iowa College, at Grinnell, endowed especially for his oc cupancy by Mrs. Caroline Rand, widow of a Burlington lumber king. Finds Affinity in His Church.

Mrs. Rand and her one daughter, Car rie, were members of the Burlington church and Carrie Rand was a most enthusiastic student of the clastic minister's socialism. The Rands followed Herron and his family to Grin nell and continued to be almost as a part of the professor's family, Carri-Rand went about with Mrs. Herron and this kept gossip quiet for several years,

The public breach came in 1900, when or. Herron went traveling Europe with Mrs. Rand and her daugh ter and left his family at home. His resignation from the college faculty followed on his return. Dr. Herro then went to Chicago, and in January, 1961 lanched "the next social aposto late," or a school of applied Christianity, which should teach religion as

In March, 1901, Mrs. Herron pro cured her divorce in Tigona, charging desertion for five years. The omplaint was suppressed, but friends of the deserted wife asserted that Mrs. Herron had been forced by her husband to take the step in order that he might marry Carrie Rand.

Original Marriage Vows.

Dr. Herron and Miss Rand wen through a form of taking each other for a "companion" which he had pre pared, and then went to live on farm at Pumptown, N. J., a present from Mrs. Rand.

Dr. Herron's brilliant career as public lecturer ended with his marriage to Carrie Rand. He continued to write of the predicted social revolution, but when he sought to make addresses he was repulsed on every hand and even many of his socialistic friends abandoned him. A year and a half ago, Dr. Herron's health having broken down under the strain of criticism, the family went to Italy and purchased a villa near Florence, which may be the home of the "companions" until the end.

At Pumptown it is said that Dr. Herron will not come home before next Summer, if at all. It is reported there are now three bables in the household, and that Dr. Herron and Carrie Rand live together in perfect harmony and love.

Mother Leaves Them Fortune.

Before their going, "Mrs. Herron's" mother, Mrs. Rand, dled. The daughter was left $200,000 and was made trusted of the residue of the Rand estate, of which part went to found the Rand school of socialism in East Nineteenth street. Dr. Herron was to be its "first apostle," but it is announced that his health will not permit.

Dr. Herron's abandoned wife tool her four children and the alimony, which at the time was said to have been $60,000, provided by the mother of Miss Carrie Rand, and herself to a North Carolina mountain village.

that the Oregon land-fraud prosecutions are to be resumed is the first definite information the people of this state have been able to get on this important subject. United States Attorney Bristol, however, is still unable to say when he will be able to proceed with the trials of the pending cases. He says he is awaiting instructions from United States Attorney-General Bonaparte, by whom the land-fraud prosecu-

It seems to be the wish of the Department of Justice to first clear the docket of untried cases before making a further investi-

Though Mr. Bristol has not been officially advised of the wishes of the Interior Department and the Department of Justice, it is understood Special Prosecutor Heney, who is on his way to Portland from San Francisco, for a conference with Mr. Bristol, will deliver to the latter all of the documents, with the probable exception of the Binger Hermann and the John Hall cases.
