SLOGANS ARE SUBMITTEN.—It is evident that the East Side Business Men's Club will have slogans in abundance to choose from, judging by the answers that are being received as a result of the $50 offer for the best one. Letters are being received from outside cities and towns, including Pendleton and Salem. Nearly 75 answers have been received, and others are coming almost daily to the committee. How the judges will select the best and award the prize at this time is not known, but evidently it will not be an easy mat-ter to decide. Brevity will be one of the main points considered in awarding the prize. The slogans must be suggestive of the advantages of the East Side as a shopping and business district. The contest will close at noon, October 3, when the $50 cash prize will be awarded. The slogan that is accepted will be placed at several conspicuous street intersections in East Portland and Albina in the form of an illuminated sign. The object in offering the prize was to call attention to and advertise the East Side, and this end certainly has been accomplished. The East Side Business Men's Club will also understant to and advertise the East Side Business Men's Club will also be the state of endeavor to induce business men to illuminate the streets at night.

WILL NOT CALL PASTOR.—The Mississippl avenue Congregational Church will not call a pastor to take the place of Rev. William L. Upshaw, who has gone to Eastern Oregon, until the improvements to be made in the church building have been completed. It is proposed to remodel the church at an expense of $5000. A new basement will be built for Sunday-school nurnoses, and the present building will be raised before the work can go forward and be paid for when the building is completed. These improvements have been contemplated for some time. When they are finished the church will stand a better chance to secure a good minimum of the bables who have been awarded to be the church to secure a good minimum of the bables who have been awarded to be the sal present it is thought been awarded to be consentation to provide the bables who have been awarded to be the sale of the bables who have been awarded to prize will be entered by a convention to ister than at present, it is thought; hence no call will be extended until the Spring. Rev. Mr. Broadstreet will supply the pulpit for the present.

DINNER TO MAJOR BETHEL-Fifteen of the best known sportsmen in the city last night gave a farewell dinner in the Orenight gave a farewell dinner in the Oregen Grill to Major W. A. Bethel, U. S. A.
Major Bethel is one of the best known

CONTAINS VALUABLE ARTICLES.—The Chamber of Commerce Bulletin for September just issued contains many articles of a nature calculated to advertise Ore-gon's resources, all profusely illustrated. Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, con-tributes an interesting article on "Forest The statistical depart ments are down to date. A feature of the number is the department headed "In-dustrial Notes," which tells of new in-dustries established throughout the state during the past month. An attractive cover design in three colors is a feature of the issue.

MANY STUDENTS MATRICULATE,-Class work will begin this morning at 9 o'clock at Columbia University. Registration was begun yesterday and up to last night 124 students had matriculated. It is expected that this number will be very largely in creased during the present week. Prospects are bright for the most successful year in the history of this institution. Four new instructors have been secured from Eastern Universities and during the Summer the university buildings have been remodeled.
