After outbatting the Angel band four to one, the Portland baseball team only threatened to win the game at the Vaughn-street grounds yesterday after-noon. With the score 3 to 2 in favor of the visitors in the ninth, the home guard filled up the sacks, but Cap Dillon fooled them by switching pitchers on the spur of the moment. Ennon Califf did the honors on the mound for Portland and ought to contribute a collection of leather medals to his teammates for the able manner in which they failed to support him in the first inning.

him in the first inning.

The opening canto was really a heart-breaker, for two runs were registered by the visitors without the semblance of a hit or anything that would legitimately entitle a bush league club to a score. Califf himself made a mistake in passing Bernard as the first man up. Casey, the usually reliable, messed up Carlisle's poke and Anson Mott followed this by pawing Dillon's hit around with his tootsies long enough to permit the bags to fill. long enough to permit the bags to fill.

Mr. Clarence Cravath, who is slated to demonstrate to the major leagues his idea of an outfielder's duties, was the next individual to face the Oregon City twirler, and "Gavvy" laid down a bunt along the first-base line which he in-tended for a sacrifice. Patsy Donahue, siso a big league candidate, fielded the ball cleverly enough, but the Angel in the right garden beat him to the initial perch, and while this speed test was being conducted a la Dan Kelly at James-town, Bernard and Carlisle chased them-selves over the spot which, when dented properly, rings the gong amouncing the scoring of a run.

After the two aces had been stowed away in the Dillon-Berry locker, Mr. Brashear succeeded in getting a pass and both he and the Loo Loo captain enboth he and the Loo Loo captain en-deavored to purioin a sack or two, but James Byrne was there on watch and one of the thieves was caught in the act. A few seconds later the same Mr. Byrne nabbed a frisky individual off sec-ond, and an attempted steal by Ellis made the third out.

Califf Becomes Generous.

In the second canto Brother Califf was too liberal with Bert Delmas and when that worthy had ambled and gone to second on an out, it was an easy matter for him to negotiate the platter on Bar-ney Bernard's two-bagger. That was all for the visitors. Califf settled down nicely and held them level cleverly dur-ing the remainder of the matinee. However, three was a plenty.

Portland made a bid in the eighth. Carl Druhot, the Portland boy who has seen playing in the East for the past two seasons, was prevalled upon to play center field for McCredle, and was the first man up. He connected for a nifty single to center. Bassey waited and was walked by Hosp. Then came the mighty Patsy Donahue. Patsy connected for a Patsy Donahue. Patsy connected for a mighty wallop, which came very close to being a foul and caused Frank Dillon much worriment, for it chased Both Druhot and Bassey over the platter. Dillon's expostulations with his ancient enemy, the umpire, was of no avail and Donny's hit went on record-and so did the two runs, Jimmy Byrne started the ninth with a bit and forthwith the Beavers became dangerous and caused the Angels a heap of anxiety. Califf hit a pop fly to the pitcher. Casey singled to right. Druhot, a left-handed batter, ambled to the plate. His appearance gave Dillon a fright, for he immediately chased Hosp, the right-handed, and introduced Dolly Gray who handed, and introduced Dolly Gray, who heaves 'em from the left side. Dolly had not warmed up and passed Druhot. filling the bases. Bassey hit to Dillon and Byrne was morgued at the register. Then came the "Mighty" Donahue, who to his own great disappointment, as well as to that of the fans, ignominiously fanned out and the game was over.

RUNS AND HITS BY INNINGS.

Anson Mott got into the game yester day with a vengeance after he made his disastrous error in the first. He re-deemed himself by accepting ten chances most accurately and wound up the game by retiring two Angels on a double play. He took Hogan's bounders and retired Brashear, after which he threw to Donahue, but a triffe late to catch the batter. Donahue returned the ball quickly and Delmas, who attempted to take third,

Jimmy Byrne worked a smooth trick on "Rube" Ellis in the sixth inning yesterday. Ellis waited for a walk and got it, but on the fourth ball Byrne half-way blocked the pitch and the sphere rolled toward the stand. Byrne walked after the ball as though disgusted and Ellis dashed for first. Byrne picked up the ball and continued toward toward. Ellis dashed for first. Byrne picked up the ball and continued toward the stand. whereupon Ellis made all speed toward second, and the nifty little Portland catcher simply turned around and threw to Fay, putting the runner out by sev-eral yards. Jimmy made a great hit by this play.

Carl Druhot made his first appearance in a Portland uniform yesterday since the time when Dugdale was a Portland manager. "Colly" became a favorite immediately, for on his first appearance he worked Hosp for a pass. His next two trips to the plate resulted in line hits at Brashear. On the fourth trip, however, he shot one past believes so far, however, he shot one past Delmas so fast that the Angel shortstop hardly had a chance to see it. This resulted in the first scores for Portland, as Bassey was walked and Donahue hit a two-bagger. In the ninth Druhot worked Dolly Gray for another life but was left on the for another life, but was left on the Ennon Califf hit in hard luck yesterday, for in addition to pitching a star game he connected with the call on every trip to the bat. But every time the swat was into some fielder's hands. Cravath and Ellis robbed him of two good hits by splendid running catches.

Cravath's catch of Mott's long foul in the sixth inning was as fine a bit of fielding as has been seen on the local grounds this season, for in addition to making the catch on the incline leading to the clubhouse after a hard run, he turned quickly and nearly threw Donahue out at second. Cravath goes to the big league next season and his throwing should assist him to make good, if nothshould assist him to make good, if noth-

Bruno Siebel, who drove with the champion during the races in Portland, has parted company with Oldfield, and an Italian, Ollie Slavinna, formerly a private chauffeur in St. Louis, was given the Red Devil. The new man is able to put up a far better race than Siebel, and according to comment in Eastern papers, is one of the best track drivers in the country. It was reported in the East that Oldfield was confined in a private asylum in Detroit, suffering from insanity, the result of a blow received on the head in a race at St. Louis two years ago. The story was false, however, as Oldfield is racing almost every day. In his letter to Wallace, the champion tells of his getermination to leave racing this Fall, and go into the garage business.

PLANNED TO HOLD ONE WITH COUNTY FAIR.

One-Ringed Circus and Other Attractions to Be Given-Fair Preparations Going Forward.

OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 18 -(Speclal.)-The directors of the Clackamas County Fair Association this afternoon signed a contract with the management of the Reiss Carnival Company to secure the attractions of this concern for the Clackamas County Fair, to be held at Gladstone Park, October 10, 11 and 12 next. It is believed that this new feature will assist in bringing a large attendance to the fair, as one of the principal attractions is an old-fashioned one-ring country circus. There is also included a baby in ncubator, mirror maze and many other things familiar to patrons of carnivals and street fairs. The Reiss Carnival Company is the same aggregation that was with the Woodmen of the World carnival in Portland.

Secretary Cross, of the Willamette Valrided the grounds for the fair, came forward today with a novel proposition that will receive hearty support. Mr. Cross proposes that a space about 19 feet wide along the outer circle of the audi torium be utilized for booths, in which exhibits may be placed. The circumfer-ence of the big auditorium is close to 375 feet, and fully 300 feet of this space can be used to advantage, including the plat-form. This scheme is entirely practical, and its adoption by the executive com-mittee is looked for. It was originally planned to use the dining-room for an exhibit pavilion, but it is likely that arrangements will be made to open the Chautauqua restaurant, and this movement will not oblige people in constant attendance at the fair to go to Oregon City for their meals. The experience of Mr. Cross in handling crowds in Glad-stone Park, covering 13 years, is being sought by the directors of the Fair Asso-are wanted.

GETS FINE BULL AS PRIZE
