

CARLAKIN WINS THREE STRAIGHT

Los Angeles Horse Forced to Go Fast to Beat Satin Royal From La Grande.

EVENTS ON SALEM TRACK

Friday's Races Fall to Bring Out High-Class Animals Which Showed Up on Eastern Programmes—Titus II Wins.

BL WILL G. MAC PABE SALEM, Or., Sept. 20.—Friday's get-away day card did not seem to the high-class horses that have been racing during the first part of the week. Only four events were on the programme, the Lewis and Clark consolation stake, affording the feature of the day. Four started in the $1000 stake off of the Lewis and Clark $6000 stake. It was simply a two-horse affair between Durfee's Carlakin and N. K. West's Satin Royal. Carlakin won the race in three straight heats with Satin Royal always a close second. The others were outclassed. Satin Royal made Carlakin trot to a close mark of 2:19 1/2 to win the second heat. Eight started in the 2:14 pace, and this also was won in straight heats. Devil's, driven by Stetson, was best of the lot and not only won the race, but in all three heats made every pole a winning one.

Sport in Running Races.

Two running cards afford the lovers of the gallopers a chance to see King G. P. McNeill, who dropped down here with a stable full of pretty fair selling platters, sent the two winners to the post. Titus II was raised the best in the scramble, Copeland got Hop Queen off flying, and was five lengths in front before Mentry could get Titus free of the jam which came at the start. He sent Titus after Hop Queen, and by the time the turn out of the back stretch was reached Titus had collared Queen. Queen just had enough left to hold the place and a faithful was best of the others. Crigg brought home the bacon for McNeill in the last race, a six and one-half furlong chase of platters worth $300. The cherry and blue of McNeill's shot to the front at the start, and the mare just tinned Bom Phyz, ridden by little old man Powell, and Marvel Mitchell had it out for the place and show.

PLANS FOR THE HORSE SHOW

Portland Hunt Club Holds Informal Discussion on Subject.

A meeting of the officers of the Portland Hunt Club was held last night in the club's offices in the Lumber Exchange building, and plans for the coming annual horse show, to be held on September 7, 8 and 9, in the Oriental building, at the Lewis and Clark Fairgrounds, were brought up and discussed. No definite plans were adopted last night. The official classified list for the show, in the form of a neatly printed handbook, came off the press yesterday. This list embraces 167 different classes, comprising saddle, coach and draft horses, speedway horses, high-steppers and tandems, mules and Fire Department horses. The club is planning to spend $20,000 on the coming show. A turf ring 22 by 200 feet, covered with tan bark, to prevent dust, will be arranged in the center of the Oriental building, at the Fairgrounds. Around this ring will be the boxes and immediately behind the boxes the reserved seats. The gallery will be built upstairs. Over 6000 people will be seated. One of the features of the stand will be a promenade, that is, an aisle between the boxes and reserved seats. The stables will be built outside the building. Room will be provided for 500 horses, together with suitable storage facilities for carriages and rigs. The city exhibitors will not be allowed the use of the stables, but will be provided with a canvas-covered pavilion, where horses may be kept during the day. A canvas-covered runway will be built to connect the main building with the stables. In order to keep the grooms and attendants near the club, the building sleeping apartments for these men, also a restaurant where they can secure their meals. From the number of entries being received, the prospects for the show are exceedingly bright. That it will eclipse any other show ever held west of Chicago is the opinion of the majority of the men behind the move.

FIRST GAME OF SOCCER BALL

Portland Club to Meet Team From British Ships in the Harbor.

The Portland Association Football Club will play its first game of the season at the Portland Cricket Club grounds, Mon-tavilla, this afternoon, when it will meet a team representing the different vessels in Portland Harbor.

The soccer enthusiasts are preparing to attend this game in a body, and an enthusiastic game is anticipated. The seamen will represent the British steamships Kalamo and Strathness and the ship Yola. The seamen's team is composed of the following players: Forwards—A. F. Lucas, F. Osborne, T. Robinson (center), A. Smith and G. Bridges; half-backs—W. Wallace, J. Todd and Alf Raymer; full-backs—T. Boydland, J. Quayle; goal—J. S. Addison.

RADER WILL ENTER PULLMAN

Willamette's 1906 Football Captain to Leave This State.

Ralph Rader, captain of last year's football team at Willamette University, has announced his intention of entering Washington State College, where he will try for a position on the football team. Rader has been one of Willamette's most consistent players for the past three years and his loss will be a serious one to the Salem institution. Before going to Salem, Rader was a member of the famous Puget Sound University team at Tacoma. This team defeated all comers during the season of 1903.

Rader has played on the Multnomah eleven several times during the past two years, and it was thought for a time that he would be in Portland during the coming winter and that he would play regularly with the local club. Rader weighs about 175 pounds and is very fast. He plays fullback, and besides being a great line-bucker, he is a defensive player of more than ordinary ability. He will prove a valuable addition to the already strong squad at Pullman.

Admit Freshmen to Teams.

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 20.—At a mass meeting of the University of California students last night the general sentiment was that the rule rendering freshmen ineligible for athletic teams should be repealed unless Stanford also adopted that rule. Professor Magro, head of the department of physical culture, has prepared statistics showing that out of 183 men composing practically 14 teams of various kinds, 14 have failed or a percentage of a little less than five, which is one-half per cent better than the standard set by the student body at large.

San Francisco 2, Oakland 1.

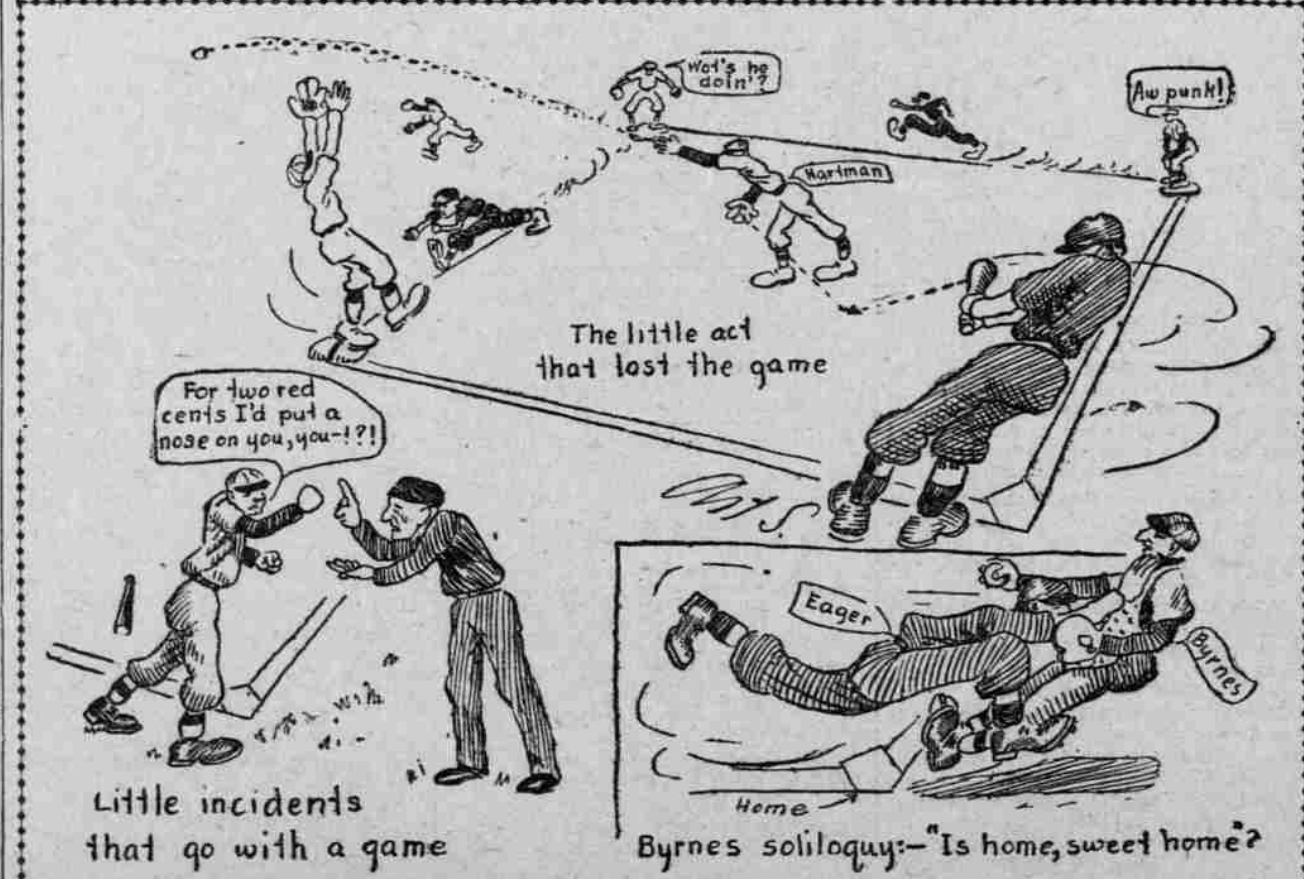

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The home team won a ten-inning game from Oakland today. The contest was largely between Joy and Hopkins, the pitchers. Oakland tied in the sixth. In the tenth with two out, Spencer was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch, and scored on a scratch hit. Score: Oakland.....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 8 3 San Francisco.....1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 3 6 2 Batteries—Hopkins and Bliss; Joy and Street.

HARTMAN AT FAULT

Portland Twirler's Overconfidence Loses Game.

ONE MISTAKE IS FATAL

Rafferty and Johnson, McCredie's New Men, Make Good—Both Find Burns for Two Bags.

Score Stands 1-0.

McCredie's reinforced aggregation of ball tossers was unable to solve Big Bill Burns' puzzles when opportunity knocked at the Portland door, and in spite of the good work of "Cholly" Hartman the Angels took the game by a score of 1 to 0. Hartman, who held the Angels to six hits, fanning eight of them and otherwise distinguishing himself, was directly responsible for the defeat in spite of his excellent work at other periods.

The display which presented the captest to "Cap" Dillon and in the fifth inning, and was due to over-anxiety on the part of the young Portland pitcher, Delmas was safe on a questionable hit, Eager followed with a double, and Bill Burns ambled to the plate and hit directly into Hart's hands and a double play looked certain. Hart, however, became too despondent. His throw to Mott went yards above the baseman's head and Delmas scrambled over the platter for the only run of the game. Eager also tried to score on the play, but Eassey retrieved the ball nicely and chucked the chubby catcher out at the register.

Tom Rafferty and Ote Johnson, the two South Atlantic League players, were on hand yesterday, and got into the game nicely. Both made good and the fans can rest assured that Manager Mac made no mistake when he purchased the two players. Get more like them, Mac, and Portland will not be playing the "man behind" stunt all next season.

Rafferty is a fast man on his feet, and yesterday celebrated his appearance in the Coast League by securing a couple of hits, one of which was a corking two-bagger to the left field fence. Johnson also picked out one of Burns' choices for a double, and had a chance to distinguish himself forever by a clout in the ninth, but was called out on strikes by that despondent umpire, Derrick. By the way, it might be mentioned that the powers down Pisco way must be trying to jolly Portland along, for yesterday the most dejected sight of the past few weeks was seen at the ball grounds. It was a real umpire in the person of Fred Perrine, and with Derrick, the double system was put into effect.

The fair ones went out in force yesterday, and incidentally it might be mentioned that a larger number of men were on hand also. They saw a splendid game and went away satisfied with only the result, but also with the work of the new men.

SUMMARY.

Struck out by Burns: E. Hartman, 2. Base hits, Ellis, Johnson, Rafferty. Three-base hit, Cravath. Double plays, Burns to Byrnes to Donahue. Stolen bases, Donahue. First base on error, Los Angeles. Left on bases, Los Angeles, 6; Portland, 4. Time of game, 1 hour and 55 minutes. Umpires, Derrick and Perrine.

Random at Random.

Johnson and Rafferty fill out the Portland team very nicely. Both are still unaccustomed to their surroundings, but showed enough class yesterday to be voted A-1 players. Johnson, the shortstop, is stockily built, something on the Eddie Housholder order, but has nothing of the rowdy about him. He meets the ball squarely and one can readily understand his record as a slugger.

Rafferty is clean built, lithe, every inch an athlete, and resembles Pat Meaney in stature and build. Like Johnson, he is a right-handed batter and is unusually fast on the bases. He is one player who has come here this season who does not loaf on a batted ball, but runs everyting out. He had only one chance in the field yesterday, but accepted that cleverly.

Jimmy Byrnes was the busiest kid on the lot yesterday afternoon. He had an even dozen putouts to his credit, four of which were of ambitious Angels desiring to register at the platter. Jimmy succeeded in guarding the coveted goal in recipient of some hard knocks for his persistence in blocking runners. Cravath ran into the little fellow and nearly put him out of commission. A collision with the big Angel right-fielder is always dangerous to the other fellow, for a freight train would scarcely make an impression on Gavy.

Little Charlie Hartman certainly had hard luck yesterday. In the first place he was pitched against the best pitcher of the Angel aggregation, and that pitcher was at his best. Then, after doing much better work than the big Leo Loo, he was unfortunate enough to throw the ball away at a critical time and give the visitors the game. Hartman is really the find of the season in the pitching line, for he has pitched remarkable ball for such an aggregation of misfits as his manager has had behind him in the past. Now that the team has assumed the appearance of a baseball team, Hartman may be expected to contribute his share of victories in the future.

With the double umpire system now being tried out by the Coast League in this city, most of the disgusting exhibitions of kicking so frequent in the past no doubt will be eliminated. "Bull Perrine" appeared on the scene yesterday, and was given a joyful reception by the fans tired of Derrick. Bull alternated with the ancient one in calling balls and strikes and refereeing the base decisions. In this manner all disputes except those on called balls and strikes are overcome.

Hartman fanned Cravath, Brashear and Ellis, three of the Los Angeles heaviest batsmen, in succession in the second inning. He fanned Carlisle in the first and Ellis for the second time in the fourth. Hart also started a rapid fire double play when the bases were full in the seventh. He took Burns' grounder and threw Brashear out at the plate and Byrnes tossed to Donahue ahead of the batter. Big Bill also got his strikeout curve into action during the latter part of the game. He fanned Casey and Bagsey in the eighth and Donahue as the first man in the ninth, and wound up the game by striking out Johnson.
