URGENT ALL TO HELP BANK

REORGANIZATION PLAN WILL FAIL OTHERWISE.

Japanese Depositors Show Willingness to Take Telephone Bonds for Their Deposits.

Although a total of $37,500 in telephone bonds has been subscribed by depositors in the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank, those who are directing the reorganization emphasize the fact that all the effort put forth so far to help the creditors get their money will fall unless all help, President Day and Secretary Richmond earnestly urge all depositors to adopt the only apparent means of getting the value of their deposits.

Twenty Japanese who have deposits in the bank aggregating $10,000, sent a delegate to President Day Saturday to inquire into the value of the telephone bonds they are asked to subscribe for. After the matter was explained, the delegate said his countrymen will undoubtedly sign up for every dollar they have in the bank. A number of Chinese depositors also have taken telephone bonds.

Reports on the standing of these securities continue to be most encouraging. A list of cities, stretching across the country from New York to Tacoma, where Home Telephone systems have been installed, have been heard from on the value of the bonds and telephone stock and the average quotations are very high.

President Day of the Depositors' Association says it is imperative that all depositors help in the work of the reorganization of the closed bank. He said last night:

"The falling off in Saturday's subscriptions for bonds surprised me greatly and leads me to believe that among the depositors we have a great many moral cowards, the kind who stand back after being shown a way to protect their own interests and endeavor to let their fellow depositors carry their load."

"It may as well be known first as last that our plan cannot succeed if we do not have the undivided support of all of the depositors who have more than $100.

Congratulations Pour In On Reynolds

Letter Writers Warmly Approve Jury Verdict Upholding Unwritten Law.

C. H. REYNOLDS, who was recently acquitted of the charge of murdering his wife's paramour, Gorge Herbert Hibbins, has received letters from nearly every state in the Union congratulating him on the outcome of his trial.

"Incredible though it may seem, Mr. Reynolds has received nearly 400 of these letters," said C. J. Schnabel, who with John F. Logan, defended Reynolds. "Many of these letters were addressed to Mr. Reynolds personally while others came to us as his lawyers. Among these ourselves was one from a resident of the State of Georgia. The writer wrote to congratulate both Mr. Reynolds and the jury, and expressed the hope that the people of the state over the result of the trial. He expressed pleasure in the fact that an Oregon jury should render the verdict that was returned, feeling that Northerners are coming to recognize the need for preserving the sanctity of the home."

ANOTHER CLEW IS FOUND

Brother of Charles Burlison Leaves Home in Vancouver, B. C.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Wappenstein today received word from Vancouver, B. C., which adds another feature to the Covington trunk murder case.

The message, which is from the chief of police of the city across the line, states that Burt Burlison, a brother of Charles Burlison, who with Frank Covington, is charged with the murder of the latter's wife, suddenly left Vancouver September 24. This was before the murder had been discovered. Burt Burlison sold his furniture and other household effects and without explanation left Vancouver. His wife's parents can offer no explanation. No word has been received from Katalia as yet and the local police are still confident that the Katalia theory as to the whereabouts of the men is the correct one.

CHANGE FROM "BULL RUN"

Two Diverse Views Are Presented on the Subject.

PORTLAND, Sept. 28.—(To the Editor.)—I have been reading with considerable interest the correspondence and the editorial comments relating to the proposed change of the name of Bull Run.

There is, or perhaps I should say, there was once, in the County of Multnomah a creek known as Bully Creek, having been so named by the cowboys who once inhabited that region. But when the country became settled, some people of finer sensibilities concluded that it was not a proper name for a nice little stream, and in 1891 a member of the Legislature from that County introduced a bill changing the name from Bully Creek to Alder Creek.

The bill was formally and solemnly passed by both Houses of the Legislature and received the Executive approval and is now one of the special laws of the State of Oregon. But the creek was Bully Creek and still is Bully Creek, and probably will remain Bully Creek notwithstanding this Legislative enactment.

HIS EARNINGS VANISH.

Workman Complains Against Employment Agents' Exactions.

PORTLAND, Sept. 28.—(To the Editor.)—Just a word of warning as to the ways of certain "sharp" called employment agents.

I was employed by one of these agents, and I found that many employment agents are genuine bleeders, but I am forced to continue to take chances with them, though I make changes. Before coming to Portland I worked out of Spokane and although I did not find it by any means an open field, I was forced to continue to take chances with them. I send a business statement of profits and losses and can assure you that I am worth a better salary than my earnings indicate. Take three routes for employment: Cape Horn, Drain and Pendleton. Employment agency fees are $15, railroad fares $12, and

TROUBLE WITH A THEATER

S. Morton Cohn in Dispute With Lessor of Tacoma Theater.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Anton Bugge, of Bellingham, lessee of the Savoy Theater, in Tacoma, was arrested last week a few hours before the time set for his wedding. Bugge's arrest arose out of the Savoy Theater deal. He leased the property here from T. O. Abbott and then sublet it to S. Morton Cohn, of Portland. Some difficulty occurring between Abbott and Bugge over the lease, and Cohn now says the money he paid Bugge for rent was obtained by Bugge under misrepresentation.

The amount involved is $16,500. Cohn swore out a warrant for Bugge's arrest more than a week ago, but it was not served until the day set for the wedding. This was done, Bugge says, to humiliate him, as Cohn knew of the approaching marriage. Bugge declares that Cohn knew all the details of the transaction with Abbott, and that misrepresentation was impossible. Bugge's attorneys say that Cohn has no case, that the charge is malicious, and that Bugge will sue Cohn for false arrest.
