Swedish Yacht Club May Challenge for Cup.

INQUIRIES ABOUT RULES

New York Club Sends Same Conditions as Lipton Got—Swedes Build Seaworthy Boats, and Not Racing Machines.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 29.—The Swedish Yacht Club has addressed an inquiry to the New York Yacht Club as to whether the latter would accept a Swedish challenge for the America's Cup.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A cablegram was received September 25 by the New York Yacht Club from the Royal Swedish Yacht Club, asking if a challenge from the Swedish Yacht Club would be accepted and what rules and conditions governed the America's cup contest. Secretary McCormick, of the New York Yacht Club, replied, enclosing a copy of the resolutions dispatched to Sir Thomas Lipton, in response to his challenge. This response will probably not reach that gentleman for a week.

NORTHWEST LEAGUE.

Seattle 6; Tacoma 10.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Tacoma had a lot of trouble in winning from Seattle today, but the locals fussed around till Tacoma was shoved within five points of the league leaders, Hugh Hellecky's two home-run drive and a double, aside from the turks the game, though it never should have been in danger. Tacoma had a 4-0 lead in the fifth, then let Seattle come in twice and even it up, Tacoma jumped right in at the start and scored twice. Coy and Allen were both used against Tacoma and each seemed equally ineffectual. Butler hit his two bad innings, Butler held the game well in hand. Score: Seattle.....0 0 0 3 0 0—6 11 4 Tacoma.....0 1 1 2 0 0 1 3—10 14 2 Batteries—Allen, Coy and Stanley; Butler and Shea. Umpire—Frery.

PLAY WITH TIED SCORE

Rossman singled and Dygert made a bad throw of Coughlin's grounder. Schmidt sacrificed O'Leary's hit to Dygert, who threw to Schreck to catch Rossman, but the big backstop dropped the ball and Rossman was safe. Dygert was then removed by Waddell, who electrified the crowd by striking out both Jones and Schaeffer.

Doubles by Seybold and Davis, a single by Murphy, and O'Leary's force gave Philadelphia two runs in the third, and two more were made in the fifth on a home run by Davis and a two-base hit by Collins and O'Leary.

Quakers Go to Pieces. The home team momentarily went to pieces in the seventh. O'Leary muffed Donovan's easy fly. Jones received the base on balls, and Nichols allowed the bases to be filled by fumbling Schaeffer's grounder. Crawford then came to time with a double into the crowd, sending Donovan and Jones across the plate. Cobb's easy out saved Schaeffer, and Crawford came home with the fourth run of the inning on Rossman's out.

In Philadelphia's half Murphy's single and Schreck's forced hit.

In the eighth Detroit added one to its count on O'Leary's two-base hit and steal of third and Jones' single.

Detroit Makes Needed Runs. The ninth opened with the Detroit two runs behind and defeat staring them in the face. Crawford opened with a single and then Cobb put the ball out of the grounds, tying the score. Plank relieved Waddell and the inning ended without further scoring.

The Philadelphians were easy outs in the ninth.

Cobb's double and Rossman's single gave Detroit its ninth and last run in the eleventh. Philadelphia tied it up in the same inning on a double by Nicholas, a wild pitch and a long fly by Davis. Score:

DID NOT THREATEN MOORE

FRANK RANDALL SAYS HE INTENDED NO HARM.

Depositor in Closed Bank Declares He Only Asked When Money Could Be Obtained.

After slaving night and day for years to accumulate a nestegg that would enable him to start in business for himself and then have the bank where he had placed his savings fail because of circumstances that led to the supposed threat on the life of President W. H. Moore, of the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank, last Saturday, Frank Randall, a thrifty German employe of the Crane Bottle Company, Fourteenth and Couch streets, is the man who demanded his money from President Moore, and whose anxiety was interpreted as a threat to kill. Randall declares he had no intention of harming anyone and regrets that a number of persons around the bank mistook his action.

Randall has $400 in the bank, which represents all he has in the world. This money is the result of his exceedingly careful economy on his part. He works early and late for the small wage of $2.25 per day.

Every cent he could spare from this sum was carefully placed in the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank. He had planned to launch some sort of project within another six months when he would be able to start in business in a small way.

Randall's plight may be appreciated the better when it is known he has been in this country but a few years, and speaks English with an accent. His evident worry when he approached President Moore and asked if he could get his money apparently caused Mr. Moore and others to think violence was intended.

Randall says he made no threats, although others maintain that he did. "When I placed my money in the bank," said Randall, "I asked Mr. Moore if the bank was safe, as I noticed it advertised to pay 4 per cent. He said it was all right and then I left my money. I have worked very hard for that $400 and of course I worried about it after the bank closed. I decided to go and see Mr. Moore when I could get my money, since he had assured me that it would be safe. I have no intention of doing anyone any harm, and did not make threats. But they called a policeman and had me searched. There is no reason why they should have done so."

LETTER TO BANK DEPOSITORS Secretary Richmond Urges Them to Buy Telephone Bonds.

In a circular letter issued yesterday by Secretary Richmond, of the Depositors' Association, to creditors of the bank, urging them to subscribe to the telephone bonds so as to help along the plan of reorganization, the following statement was made:

"I am directed by the Depositors' Association to urge you to subscribe for your pro rata of telephone bonds, as quickly as possible. To make the rehabilitation plan successful, it requires united efforts and co-operation of every depositor. All those having accounts of $100 and over are obliged to subscribe at least 70 per cent of their deposits in telephone bonds with 50 per cent stock bonus, whose wise endeavors will result in a dismal failure.

The depositors must arouse themselves to a sense of self-preservation and realize that this is their last and only chance to save their money; they must also awaken to the truth that they are actually standing in the way of their own interests, and if they entertain a hope of ever again seeing their money they have put in the bank they must come in right away and do their part. Delay is dangerous; the only speedy salvation for the depositors is a speedy consummation of the reorganization plan.

The winding up of affairs should be pushed vigorously, to cause the doors of the reorganized bank to open at the earliest possible date, when the only desirable assets (the telephone bonds, with 50 per cent stock bonus) are sold, and the proceeds distributed among the depositors, and the bank closed. It is a matter of life and death to the depositors, and the only way to save their money is to come in right away and do their part. Delay is dangerous; the only speedy salvation for the depositors is a speedy consummation of the reorganization plan.
