FOUR BLACKHANDS HANG

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 3.—Four Italians, Antonio Deloso, Steven Carull, Silvio Rodell and Joseph Celone, were hanged here today for the murder of Plato Albamaze on the night of August 30, 1906. Albamaze was killed because he would not give up his money to the others. He was stabbed more than 20 times. The men were hanged at one time in the yard of the county jail here. The four were marched to the scaffold in a body, each supported by a priest. They presented a firm front, except Carull, who wavered several times, but braced up on the scaffold. All died from strangulation. On the scaffold, Deloso, whose right name is De Lorenzo, made a statement, in which the other three joined. He denied that they went into the shack to commit robbery, and said Albamaze attacked him with a razor and that in self-defense he shot his assailant; that he called for assistance and that Celone responded, and also in self-defense stabbed Albamaze a number of times.
