

JUST BECAUSE HE NEEDS THE MONEY

Man Who Slanders Washington's Reputation Gives Explanation.

DELUGED WITH LETTERS

Messages Pour in on Captain Donahue, Who Digs Up Record of Washington's Troubles With Grand Jury for Tax-Dodging.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Captain S. R. Donahue, of Fairfax, Va., who disclosed from musty volumes the record of George Washington's presentation for tax-dodging, has no peace since the exposure was printed.

"The naked truth seems to have offended the patriots who love upon the father of his country as molded from finer clay than his fellow mortals," said Captain Donahue. "They all seem to take my discovery as a personal offense instead of a new fact of history. It's mighty discouraging to a man who makes an excursion into the realm of historical research for the benefit of posterity to get forty odd bumps a day from his own generation. I'm going to quit the history business after this."

"How could you do it?" One letter was a mournful reproach in a feminine hand that suggested cats and tea, and hailed from Massachusetts. "How could you do it?" she wailed. "You lower the moral tone of the youth of our country when you shake their faith in the great Washington."

"I replied that I did it for two reasons, one because it was true and the other because I needed the money. It is strange that all the protests have come from the North. George seems to be more adored way up North than right around here. It may calm the perturbed spirits of some of these outraged patriots to know that on the desk of Mr. Richardson, the County Clerk of Fairfax, is lying a hatchet, aged and rusty, to which is attached a paper bearing this legend: 'The original hatchet used by George Washington.'"

Will Tell No More Discoveries. "This ought to offset the tax-dodging unless the fact that the implement bears the trade mark of a hardware firm in Bridgeport, Conn., may make some difference."

Richardson says he got tired telling the visitors why he did not have the hatchet, so he looked up one in the woodshed, and labeled it as above for the delectation of tourists and he finds it does just as well as the original. After this present discouraging experience he is going to keep any further discoveries locked in his bosom.

Noncupative Will Affirmed.

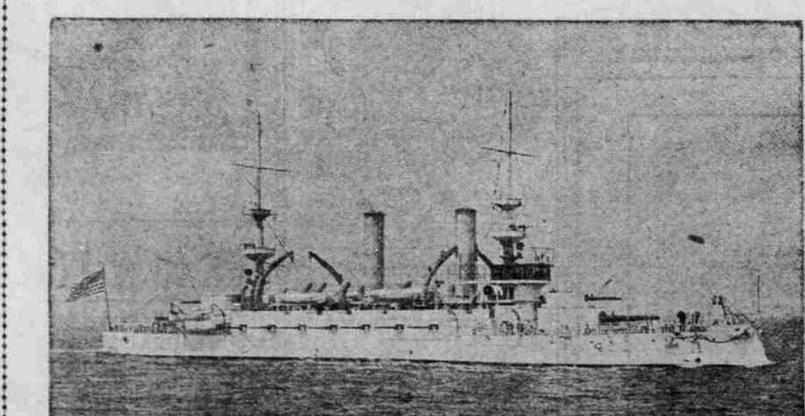

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court today affirmed the decision of the Columbia County Superior Court in the matter of the non cupative will of the late William A. Miller. The lower court found the memoranda based on this verbal testament and offered for probate were incomplete and ordered the memoranda extended. The appeal was taken chiefly that there was no jurisdiction to correct or amend them and that the will could not be admitted because it was not executed during the last fatal illness of testator. The Supreme Court held against both these contentions.

OWNED IN ENGLAND London Syndicate Controls Manhattan Oil Company.

RELATIONS TO STANDARD F. T. Cuthbert, the President, on Witness Stand Gives Testimony Regarding Connection Between Octopus and Ohio Company.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Information that may aid the investigation in Ohio of the relations of the Manhattan Oil Company of Ohio and the Standard Oil Company was brought out in the hearing of the Federal suit against the oil combine today, when F. T. Cuthbert, president of the Manhattan Company, was called as a witness. Mr. Cuthbert is the son of the late John Cuthbert, who was associated with the Standard, and who, it has been testified, had much to do with the making of the contract whereby the Chicago & Indianapolis Gas Company, controlled by E. C. Benedict and Anthony N. Brady, obtained a constant oil supply from the Standard as a part consideration of the sale of the Manhattan Company. Mr. Cuthbert said his father, previously to his connection with the Manhattan, was a director of the Tidewater Pipe Line Company. The witness said he became president of the Manhattan in 1902. Previous to that he was an auditor of the company. Mr. Cuthbert described at length the physical aspects of the Manhattan. He said the Manhattan Company was doing only a pipe-line business at present. In 1901 it sold its refinery to the Solar Refining Company, its oil production to the Ohio Oil Company and the tank cars to the Union Tank Line. All three companies, the witness said, he understood were controlled by the Standard. The pipe system of the Manhattan Company was connected with the pipe lines of the Brooklyn Pipe Line Company in Ohio and with the Indiana Pipe Company in Indiana. Mr. Cuthbert testified that the capital stock of the Manhattan after its purchase was gradually reduced from $2,000,000 to $150,000. "Who owns the Manhattan Company?" "The General Industrial Development Syndicate, of London, owns 146 shares and the qualifying directors own the other five shares," replied Mr. Cuthbert. "Is that an English company?" "Yes, the managing director is Herbert W. Johnson, of London, and J. W. R. Francis, of London, is secretary," said Mr. Cuthbert, who added that he voted all the stock of the Manhattan Company by power of attorney. Mr. Cuthbert said the books of the Manhattan were kept in Lima, Ohio. The London company owned the Indiana Pipe Line & Refining Company, of Indiana, he said.

STRIPS IN COURT Man Charged With Murder Ex-hibited in Nude to Jury.

DEFENSE SPRINGS SENSATION IN SAWYER TRIAL AT PENDLETON—EFFORT MADE TO SHOW IRRESPONSIBILITY FOR THE SHOOTING.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Novel, indeed, were the methods adopted by the defense in the case of James Sawyer, charged with the murder of Jack Monee at Juniper to impress the jury today with the idea that the defendant was not mentally responsible when he fired the fatal shot.

Then counsel had Sawyer stripped before the jury and placed his body in evidence as an exhibit. Sawyer had been badly beaten four times on the day of the murder and scars were there to show it. A doctor who had attended him was used to point out the marks and make the explanations. The exhibit proved of freakish interest.

Sawyer was shown to have the second rib, directly over his heart, broken and the broken end could be plainly seen protruding. The right side of his breast was badly contused and he could hardly breathe. Two severe wounds were shown on the head as well as two smaller ones. The head and face were badly bruised.

One of the biggest tricks turned by the defense came after the exhibit. The attorneys for Sawyer had attempted to introduce testimony to show the bad temper and bad character of Monee, the dead man, and to prove that he was quarrelsome and not a fair fighter, but would sneak up behind a man and overcome him. The prosecution objected strenuously to this and the court sustained the objection, but the defense continued to call some six or eight witnesses who were ruled off the stand one after the other. But much to the surprise of everybody, Judge Bean, after the defendant had been exhibited in the nude as evidence, ruled that the evidence might now be submitted. Enough was then showed in to blacken the character of a Salvation Army captain as a fighter. The evidence of the defense was all in by 4:30 o'clock, and a recess was then taken until morning when the arguments will be made and the jury charged.

One point brought out by the defense today in the testimony of Dr. Griewold, which has been kept a close secret was that Sawyer himself was shot. In the exhibit it was shown that the bullet went through one finger and cut off the end of the other. It was shown that this happened in the scuffle with Monee which the defense advanced as an argument against the theory that Sawyer shot Monee while advancing upon him. The concluding testimony for the prosecution brought out little that was new. Most of the witnesses said that Sawyer fired a shot in the air while going through the gate and yelled like an Indian indicating that he was out of his head.

SHOOTS HIMSELF AT DESK Max Ettlinger, Despondent at Losses in Stock Deals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Max Ettlinger, a stockbroker with offices at 235 Bush street in this city, committed suicide early this afternoon by shooting himself with a revolver.

The last person known to have seen Ettlinger alive was W. C. Ralston, United States Sub-Treasurer, who called at his office this morning. The body was found by Mrs. Ettlinger shortly before 1 o'clock, seated before a desk, on which was a statement of the morning's sales. A bullet hole in the skull and a pistol nearby told the story.

The dead broker, who was well known on the street, had been a heavy dealer lately, and is believed to have been despondent over losses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The United States gunboat Yorktown, which was dispatched six months ago to Central American waters, arrived here today. She brought no news of trouble between the republics. The officers and men on the vessel were well treated at the ports visited, and at Amalfi they were guests of honor at a bull fight. The sport was tame, and one of the sailors finally rushed into the ring and killed the bull with his knife.
