

SENATORS TO GET PLUMS THIS FALL

Many Desirable Vacancies Will Exist on Senate Committees.

CHANCE FOR NEW MEMBERS

Best Places Go to Older Men—Probabilities of Pacific Northwest Members to Get Good Berths Compared and Discussed.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 10.—An unusually large number of vacancies on the more important committees of the Senate and House of Representatives will have to be filled when Congress reassembles in December, and out of this vast array the Pacific Coast, and particularly the Northwest, should receive, and probably will receive, some material benefit.

Crawfish Admirer Speaks Out.

MILTON, Or., Oct. 8.—(To the Editor.)—The undersigned is not particularly excited by the recent article in the Oregonian upon the crawfish and its diet, but he ventures a suggestion by way of a brief response.

Senator Platt Loses Chance.

If Senator Platt, of New York, were Senator in anything more than name, he would become chairman of the committee on Inter-oceanic Canals, which has jurisdiction over Panama affairs.

on committees as a usual thing. The supreme importance of the canal to the Pacific Coast is the only thing that would lead to the appointment of another Senator from a Coast state.

Too Early for Plums.

Just before the close of the last session, Senator Fulton, in addition to his other committee assignments, was named to succeed Senator Alger on the committee on Military Affairs.

There is no way of telling at this early day how many plums are to be distributed. The appointments are made by a special "Committee on Committees" that is organized every two years, and when Congress reassembles in December, and out of this vast array the Pacific Coast, and particularly the Northwest, should receive, and probably will receive, some material benefit.

MILLIONS IN LOANS

More Mysteries of Standard to Be Explained.

BORROWER DOES NOT KNOW

Monopoly's Buyer Charged With Large Sums Without His Knowledge—William Rockefeller May Have to Tell About It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Loans aggregating $20,000,000, which the books of the Southern Pipe Line Company show were made to P. S. Trainer between 1899 and 1905, became more puzzling of solution to Frank B. Kellogg, conducting the Federal suit against the Standard Oil Company, today, when Mr. Trainer, taking the witness stand in the oil suit, testified that the money had never been paid to him and that he had never heard of the account.

The Southern's books showed that assigned vouchers were received for these loans and that money was never handed back to the company. Mr. Trainer said that he was formerly crude oil purchasing agent for the Standard Oil Company and as such he purchased all the oil and sold it to the refiners. He said he acted in a similar capacity now for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

All News to Trainer.

Mr. Kellogg called Mr. Trainer's attention to the various loans, amounting to over $20,000,000, which were made by the Southern Pipe Line Company and charged to "P. S. Trainer," and asked him to tell all he knew concerning the loans.

"I do not know anything about these loans," answered Mr. Trainer. "I had no account with the Southern. I never gave them any vouchers and never heard anything about the loans."

Mr. Trainer said that he fixed the price paid for crude oil after consulting with John D. Archbold, vice-president of the Standard. These consultations were held daily. Mr. Trainer said, and after these were over he made public the market price of crude oil.

Destroys Old Reports.

H. M. Thford, treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of the Continental Oil Company, when asked to produce the reports of the Continental Company, testified that whenever a new report was received he invariably destroyed the old one. The reports of the Continental contain information regarding business done by competing oil companies.

Mr. Kellogg will have a conference with Attorney-General Bonaparte at Washington tomorrow to discuss the progress of the Government's case against the Standard Oil Company.

The resumption of the hearing found George Chesbrough, auditor of the Standard Oil Company, producing balance sheets and transcripts from records of the pipe line companies, showing gross earnings, cost of plants and other accounts.

Mr. Kellogg said that he might call William G. Rockefeller, treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New York, to give information concerning the loan of over $20,000,000 made last year and described by the company as loaned to interests other than Standard Oil.

Borrowed Millions, Not Knowing.

Mr. Trainer said he had been the crude oil purchasing agent of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey since August, 1906, and before that acted as purchasing agent of the Standard Oil Company of New York.

Mr. Kellogg showed the witness balance sheets of the Southern Pipe Line Company having items charged to him under the head of expenses from $39,000 to $100,000 varying from $2,500.00 to $4,500.00 a year. Mr. Kellogg asked what the items meant, but Mr. Trainer replied that he did not know; that he never heard that these accounts were charged to him, and that he never received a voucher for them. He said he purchased oil for the Standard and sold it to the refiners. The Southern Pipe Line Company purchased all of the Bureau Pipe Line Company in the southwestern field and pumped it to Philadelphia, selling it to the Atlantic Refining Company.

In this interchange of accounts, he said some transactions might have been charged to him, but he had never heard of them.

Fixes Price of Oil.

Mr. Trainer said that he fixed the price of crude oil in the East by notifying the Joseph Zeph agency in Oil City, Pa., what he was prepared to bid for crude oil. He said he purchased the crude oil balances of the oil producers at tanks and then sold the oil to refiners.

ELKS GIVE FIRST SMOKER

OPEN WINTER SEASON WITH A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

Lodgement, Assisted by Amateur and Professional Talent, Please 1000 Members and Guests.

The spacious lodge rooms of the local Elks' Lodge, No. 142, were crowded to overflowing for the opening smoker of the winter, held last night. One thousand or more of brothers in Elksdom assembled and were made exceedingly glad that they had come for the program of entertainment arranged by the committee, composed of Gustavus C. Moser, M. F. Donahue, Professor H. A. Webber, Julius J. Friendly and F. Gus Haines, certainly embraced a gloom-chasing list of attractions.

Not a dull moment was there from the time the Hawaiian Glee Club orchestra opened the entertainment until the close. Waldemar Lind's violin solo, Chopin's "Nocturne," the second number, brought forth hearty applause and the Elks were not satisfied until the musician had rendered two or more encores. Following this came Claire Monteith with a most acceptably rendered baritone solo. Ralph W. Hoyt acted as accompanist.

Miss Fay Bainter, one of the Baker Theater's ingenues, succeeded in pleasing heartily the throng of Elks by her dainty little song entitled, "Beesie and Her Little Brown Bear," in which she was assisted by her sister, Mrs. E. A. Burgess, who accompanied her on the piano, and "Mr. Teddy Bear." Miss Bainter responded to a hearty encore with "Thinking My Dear."

Master Alden, son of E. K. Alden, of the lodge, rendered a selection from one of the masters of the violin in a most pleasing manner. The boy was assisted by his mother, who accompanied him on the piano.

Al Watson & Company, from the Pantages Theater, made a decided hit with their sketch entitled, "The Dog Catcher," "General Hardback on Guard," by Frank D. Hennessey, who was introduced as "The old favorite of the Portland Elks," was punctuated by the liberal use of blank cartridges fired by singer, and made a decided hit. Hennessey was called upon for an encore, and responded with "Jim Up in the Air About Mary."

The Sherrocks from Pantages, in travesty and second sight, and Hayes and Apollin from the same showhouses, received unstinted applause from the audience. Professor Fred Rennie, of the Multnomah Club, who acted as referee, was on hand with Harry Nicklen and Olmar Dranga, two of his most promising pupils, who gave an interesting three-round boxing exhibition, that caused a majority of the dignified brothers to climb the chairs to "see better." Nicklen was seconded by William D. Hamel, and Dranga by Ed C. Johnson, both of the Multnomah Club.

War Chant of Detroit Fans.

A bad song seamstress has delighted the Detroit fans by composing the following lines and having them sung to the tune of "Everybody Works but Father":

"We don't give a darn for Chicago, We don't give a darn for Chicago, We've got them on the run, Comiskey can now go fishing, Up in Wisconsin, He'll have to burn the pennant pole, When we get through with him."

Arleta Mothers' Club Meets.

The Mothers' and Teachers' Club of Arleta, on the Mount Scott Railway, will hold its first fall meeting this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Arleta schoolhouse. An interesting programme has been prepared. All mothers in that portion of the district are invited to attend this meeting. Plans for the coming year will be considered.
