

OFFICER RAIDS MILWAUKIE CLUB

Deputy Sheriff Baker Interrupts Game Poker When He Displays Star.

"IKE" GRATTON LEADS HIM

Manager Innocently Offers to Show Sleuth About Premises—Mayor of Milwaukie Is Found Lounging in the Quiet Clubrooms.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)

The strong arm of the law in the person of Robert W. Baker, chief deputy sheriff of Clackamas county, descended upon the Milwaukie Country Club tonight and broke up a game of draw poker that was in progress in a room on the upper floor of the resort. No arrests were made, but Isaac Gratton, manager of the place, was warned that another violation of the state law and the edict of District Attorney Hedges would probably go hard with the offenders.

Reports have been current for several weeks that open gambling had been renewed at the Milwaukie resort. Gratton had been circulating intimations that the Clackamas county officials were winking at the violation. Twice within the last three weeks has Sheriff Beattie visited the club, with no reward, and on Tuesday night of this week Deputy Sheriff Baker went down from Oregon City and effected an entrance without difficulty, but did not go upstairs, as he was informed that "there was nothing doing" and the quietness that prevailed gave color to the assertion.

Officers Invited In.

Riding his time, Mr. Baker resolved to wait a day or two, and make another try and at 9 o'clock tonight walked into the clubhouse. The lookout at the door made no attempt to resist his entrance, and Baker walked into the barroom and engaged Gratton in conversation. The gambler had no idea that his visitor was an officer and talked freely, finally asking Baker if he wanted to go upstairs. The deputy sheriff said that he would and as the barkeeper and waiter came to the door of the stairway leading to the upper floor, Gratton produced one and showed Baker the way.

No tables, for layout of crap games or games of any nature met Baker's eye, save a pleasant little game of draw, in which four men were engaged. Chips were piled high on the table in front of them, and after watching the quart for a few minutes, Baker stepped up, and said:

"You'll have to stop this."

The players looked up at Baker questioningly, and the deputy threw back his coat and exhibited his star.

Pleads to Finish the Hand.

"Just let us finish this hand," was the plea of one of the men, but Baker was obdurate and declined to allow the game to proceed, and the four got up from the table, showing the chips to the center and accompanied the officer down stairs, where Baker was surprised to find William Schindler, mayor of Milwaukie, lounging about. The mayor seemed to be quite at home in the famous den that has been a source of considerable revenue to the town ever since it was opened. The gamblers took the intrusion of the deputy sheriff philosophically, making no attempt to question his orders. The Clackamas county officers believe that the managers of the club have some hope of eventually being permitted to resume the games and pool-selling and have been trying to enter a writ under the lid as the first step in accomplishing the purpose desired.

NORTHERN EXPRESS REPORTS

Earnings and Expenses of Common Carrier in Oregon.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The Northern Express Company filed its annual report in the office of the Railroad Commission today, showing a capital stock of $5,000,000, upon which a 3 per cent dividend, or $400,000 was paid last year.

The earnings and expenses for Oregon are not kept separate from the general accounts, so the report does not show the business transacted in this state. The gross earnings of all lines amounted to $1,038,314.92, and the operating expenses were $1,296,243.41, leaving a net income from operation of $242,071.51. Miscellaneous receipts brought this up to $250,259.93. Taxes were paid to the amount of $20,029.34 on all lines, and a dividend of $400,000, leaving a surplus of $111,230.55, or enough for another 4 per cent dividend. The company owns property in Oregon valued at $726,227.

The Pacific Express Company also filed its annual report today, showing a capital stock of $5,000,000, upon which a 4 per cent dividend, aggregating $400,000, was paid last year. The company's freight business in Oregon brought in receipts to the amount of $106,222.24. The total for the entire line was $7,275,562. The total expenditures in Oregon were $2,119,661. It should be noted that the receipts for Oregon are upon business originating and ending in Oregon, while the expenses in Oregon cover, in part, business originating or ending in other states. The total expenditures for the entire line were $6,993,342.28.

The net income was $713,255.00, from which a dividend of $360,000 was paid, leaving a surplus of $353,255.00 for the year and an accumulated surplus of $1,629,579.55 to June 30, 1907.

RAPS BROTHERS ON BENCH

Judge Rudkin Vigorously Dissents From Supreme Court Decision.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Judge Frank H. Rudkin of the state supreme court rapped the other members of the bench hard in his dissent from the majority opinion of the court in the damage case of Lee H. Robinson against the Spokane Traction company today.

Robinson was a passenger in a street car that was wrecked and was thrown violently from his seat against the seal in front. Testimony at the trial showed that an examination made immediately after the accident disclosed no external bruises or injuries. The traction company admitted negligence in the accident. Mr. Robinson and his two physicians contended that his nervous system had been wrecked. Six physicians for the company testified that the man was not seriously hurt. The Spokane court ruled out testimony designed to show that the man's nervous condition during the trial was due solely to worry over the litigation.

The majority decision of the supreme court that the $5,000 judgment rendered should be cut down to $5,000.

Justice Rudkin vehemently objected. He says in part: "If competent material testimony was excluded, how the majority of this court can say what the judgment should be, passes all understanding. In effect, the majority said to the appellant: 'You were denied a fair trial in the court below, but you must nevertheless submit to the payment of the largest judgment that any reasonable view of the incomplete record will warrant.' From such anomaly I dissent."

SPEND $100,000 ON COAL MINE

Const Range Company to Do Development Work at Chehalis.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The Coast Range Coal Company, which recently bought the Crescent Coal holdings near Little, four miles west of Chehalis, expects to spend $100,000 on development work, and to be shipping coal regularly by January 1. Twelve men are working in three shifts, sinking a new shaft that will be from 800 to 900 feet deeper than the old one. It is hoped to strike a much better quality of coal. About a dozen carpenters are now at work and more are being added on both the carpenter and mining work at the mines. New bunkers will be erected, more cabins for the employes, an electric light and telephone system installed, and all arrangements made to mine coal on a very extensive scale. Day and night work is now being done on the shaft. F. E. Spencer, manager, of Seattle, is in charge of the work.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

MONTESANO, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Elijah L. Wade, of this city, celebrated their golden wedding Tuesday, October 8. Elijah L. Wade and Miss Martha Thomas were married at Donleystown, Penn., October 8, 1857. Eight children were born to them, six of whom are residents of Chehalis county, Mrs. Zora Byles, A. F. Wade, W. F. Wade, Mrs. Minnie Olson, A. M. Wade and C. C. Wade, all of whom were present at the anniversary except one. Mr. Wade is a pioneer of Chehalis county, coming here in 1838. He was born in Indiana in 1838, and served throughout the Civil War as a Lieutenant in Company A, Fourth West Virginia Infantry. During his residence in Chehalis county he has served as Deputy and County Surveyor, and was for four years United States Deputy Surveyor at present United States Land Commissioner for this district.

VELGUTH OUT ON PAROLE

FORMER GAS COMPANY EMPLOYEE GIVEN LIBERTY.

Has Served Minimum Term of Indeterminate Sentence—Was Model Prisoner in the State Prison.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Bernard O. Velguth, who was sentenced one year ago to serve an indeterminate sentence in the penitentiary for embezzling funds of the Portland Gas Company, was released today on parole, he having served the minimum term provided by the statutes.

The issuance of the parole was not a special executive act, but was granted in pursuance of a general rule adopted by the Governor under which every prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is released on parole at the expiration of the minimum term, provided his conduct in the penitentiary has been above criticism. The term of sentence for embezzlement is from one to ten years. Velguth may be brought to the penitentiary on an order from the Governor at any time that he may violate any law of the State of Oregon. Velguth went to Portland today.

Bernard O. Velguth reached Portland last night on the 11:20 Southern Pacific train from Salem. He went at once to the home of his mother on the East Side, where he was warmly welcomed by her and by his wife, who has been living quietly with her husband's mother since his incarceration in the state prison.

UNRULY TONGUE BETRAYS HIM

Pretended Deaf Mute Arrested When He Talks Plainly.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—A stranger giving the name L. S. Hale has been imposing upon the charitable-hearted residents of Salem for several days by pretending to be deaf and dumb and soliciting aid because of these infirmities. In begging he told his story by writing on a tablet. Today, in unguarded moment, he spoke in good, clear English in asking for a chew of tobacco.

He was immediately arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and the tablets will furnish the principal evidence against him. It is understood that he successfully worked several towns in Oregon.

CUPID WINS OVER THE LORD

Woman Abandons Salvation Army to Marry Man of Her Choice.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Captain Elizabeth Harrison, of the Salvation Army, has wrestled for months with a desire to get her heart and has decided to abandon the army and marry outside. She will become the bride of Herbert W. Ziebarth on October 19. According to the rules of the army no one is permitted to marry outside that order and the action of the woman captain in choosing a husband outside is declared by Adjutant A. Ziebarth as a slight between cupid and the Lord's work in which the former won.

More Time for Irrigation Work.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU—Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—An extension of 30 days has been granted to Conway & White, of Star, Idaho, for the completion of their contract to construct a portion of the main canal of the Payette-Boise irrigation project. Work was delayed by an unexpected amount of rock encountered in the deep cut portions of the canal and by an injunction issued from the district court of Canyon county, Idaho, preventing the contractors from proceeding with their work.

Tax Levy in Lewis County.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The Lewis County Commissioners have made the following levy for taxes: Current expense 6.80 mills, general fund 2 mills, road and bridge 2.19 mills, soldiers and sailors .02 mills, road district levy 10 mills for each district, total 22 mills. To this should be added the 3 mills state levy. The levy for county purposes, excluding the road district levies is 1.90 mills lower than last year. The assessed valuation as equalized by the state board is $10,789,573, an increase of almost an even million dollars over the valuation as equalized by the county board.

Shipping Freight on North Bank.

YANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The first carload of freight shipped over the North Bank road went from Ellsworth to Vancouver today, when the E. L. French Packing Company, a pruned packing establishment, shipped a carload of prunes. The road is not receiving all freight offered, nor is it in a position to do a general freight business, but stands ready to haul down a carload whenever it is ready.

George A. Manning, Pioneer.

GERVAIS, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—George A. Manning, a pioneer aged 82 years, died at his home near St. Louis, Wednesday, after a long illness from dropsy. Mr. Manning came to Oregon in 1850. He was born in Perry county, Mississippi. He settled near St. Louis at his late home upon his arrival in this country and has resided there ever since. The children are as follows: Mrs. C. E. Gleason, Portland; Henry D. Manning, Gervais; Vincent A. Manning, Portland; Mrs. F. K. Moisan, Brookings; J. M. Manning, Portland; J. K. Manning, Portland; Mrs. Mary O'Brien, Salem, and Mrs. Harry Kenny, Portland.

J. M. McCall.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 10.—Councilman J. M. McCall died last night, aged 70, the result of a sudden attack of heart failure.

Make It a National Bank.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The bank of P. M. Scroggin & Company, at Lebanon, which is that town's only banking institution, is being formed into a National bank. A corporation is being organized and a charter will be requested. The stockholders in the new institution have not been made public, but they will include P. M. Scroggin, chief owner in the present bank; Seymour Washburn, present cashier, and Samuel M. Garland, a Lebanon attorney. It is also supposed the Lebanon Paper Company, owners of the big paper mills at Lebanon, is interested in the bank, because of the presence of Franklin T. Griffith, of Oregon City, in the corporation. Mr. Griffith is secretary of the Lebanon Paper Company.

Class Officers at University.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Class officers have been elected as follows: Freshmen—"Chuck" Sweek, president; Cornelia Pinkham, of Portland, vice-president; Mary Dehler, of Eugene, secretary; Owen Breeding, of Portland, treasurer; John Dunton, of Linnton, sergeant-at-arms. Sophomores—William Cate, president; Rachael O. Vail, of Astoria, vice-president; Ethel Sharp, of Portland, secretary; Richard S. Baker City, president; Nieta Harding, of Oregon City, vice-president; Adele Goff, of Hood River, secretary; Don Lewis, of Portland, treasurer; Arthur Eaton, of Eugene, sergeant-at-arms.

Christian Associations Active.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations of the University are getting ready to start their regular work. These associations have always done much good for the students and have brought an influence to bear on them which would have been felt in no other way. Both associations have large memberships, and are adding new names daily. The Young Men's Christian Association shows the largest number of active members, but this is due simply to the fact that the proportion of men in college is larger than that of women. Last year there were 100 active members in the Y. M. C. A. and nearly 60 enrolled in the Y. W. C. A.

Hold Property in Escrow.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—As a result of the conference held here yesterday afternoon between the members of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce and William Reid, of the Portland, Oregon Seaside and Railway Company, an agreement was reached whereby the deeds for right-of-way for the company's proposed railway to the Nehalem Valley are to remain in the hands of the committee until the road is completed. The company is also to deposit the money for the lands in the hands of the committee to be held until the deeds are finally transferred. Mr. Reid is to return on Friday to deposit the money for the property desired.

Want an Advertising Manager.

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The board of governors to handle the publicity fund of $12,000, which is almost raised, have been selected as follows: D. B. Eakin, G. W. Griffin, Dr. Paine, A. C. Dixon, P. L. Campbell, S. H. Friendly, L. L. Whitson and W. M. Green. This committee will secure an advertising manager for the city within a short time.

ELUDES THE GUARD

Barracks Prisoner Makes a Desperate Dash for Liberty.

DODGES HAIL OF BULLETS

Private Bottoroff Fells Guard Pense With Coal-Scuttle, Then Breaks for the Open Air—The Firing Arouses Vancouver.

YANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Private Bottoroff, confined in the guardhouse at the barracks on a charge of desertion, made a desperate escape tonight from Guard Harry Pense. Several shots were fired during the melee, and an excited crowd of people was brought from their homes.

Bottoroff was employed carrying ashes from the basement of the guardhouse. When Guard Pense had his back turned, the prisoner struck him a blow over the head with a coal scuttle, and made a dash for the stairway. Pense recovered and started in pursuit, but another blow from the scuttle felled him.

Bottoroff was outside of the building by this time and making for an exit from the grounds. Pense recovered sufficiently to follow in a few seconds and opened fire on the fugitive. Bottoroff fell to the ground, thinking he had wounded the prisoner, Pense went for aid, but before either of the troops reached the scene, Bottoroff had gone.

Search of the premises was made, but the prisoner had fled. Bottoroff was arrested at Oregon City a few weeks ago, where he was found living with a woman of the underworld. He was a member of the "Fourteen" gang.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The steamer Norwood arrived today from San Francisco with a large cargo of freight for local merchants and a number of passengers. The usual quarantine work was performed by Dr. Frary.

It Looked Good.

"At a tea," said a Washington woman, "the late Julia Magruder told us a story about a little girl whom she once took out to luncheon."

"At the luncheon's end Miss Magruder handed her waiter a $20 bill and the man brought back on a plate a great mound of greenbacks and silver."

"The little girl looked at the huge mound of change longingly."

"If you please, Miss Magruder," she said, "I'll have a plate of that, too."

FOUR HORSES BURN IN BARN

Fire, Supposedly Incendiary, Destroys Property Near Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—In a disastrous fire that consumed a large stock barn belonging to William Stanfield, living five miles northeast of this city, four valuable horses were burned to death and a large amount of hay and grain destroyed. The fire, which is supposed to be due to incendiary, was discovered about 3 A. M. by one of the men sleeping in the barn, who was almost sufficed by the strong stench from the burning tar.

The fire quickly spread to the hay loft, containing about 35 tons of hay, and within fifteen minutes of the time of discovery, the large, substantial structure collapsed. The loss involved by the fire will amount in all to about $2,500.

Entertain Swiss Singer.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Arnold Von Der Aue, Swiss singer and yodler, arrived in this city today for a week's recreation prior to his appearance in a musical concert at the fair grounds next week. He has many warm friends in the city, and is being here last Spring to train the Maennerchor, a local music club, for its appearance at the Saengerfest held in Spokane. A large number of musical and social events are being planned for his benefit.

Shingle Mills Will Close.

YANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 10.—At a meeting of the shingle section of the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers, Limited, held yesterday afternoon, it was unanimously decided that all Coast mills should shut down on November 1 and remain closed till January 1. There is little demand for shingles in Northwestern Canada and in the Eastern states.

COSTLY BLAZE IN TACOMA

TWO INDUSTRIES SWEEP AWAY BY FIRE.

North Shore Sawmill and Lindstrom-Berg Cabinet Works Are Destroyed.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 10.—Two large industries of Tacoma were swept away by fire tonight, entailing a property loss of about $125,000. They were the mill and plant of the North Shore Lumber Company and the Lindstrom-Berg cabinet works, incorporated.

The fire which destroyed the North Shore mill was one of the most spectacular in Tacoma and was witnessed by fully 50,000 persons. The mill is a total loss, and a large amount of lumber was also destroyed. The mill was valued at $80,000, the lumber and shingles burned at $30,000 and the total insurance is about $90,000.

Stein-Bloch Clothes and a Diplomat

YOU must remember that the average clothing salesman is the greatest of diplomats. You may ask for Stein-Bloch clothes—our advertising may get you to do that. The leading clothier usually has them. But if that particular store hasn't our clothes the clothing salesman will attempt by flattery and the subtlest of means—perfectly fair to himself—to get you to purchase something else. And he usually succeeds.

No matter how shrewd you are, you are as much subject to this kind of flattery and finesse as anyone else. You are apt to lose your judgment when you go to buy clothes—only to recover it when it is too late.

You would not listen to that sort of thing about your brand of cigars or favorite golf ball. Get the mark of Stein-Bloch clothes—the label—so fixed in your mind that you will look for it and not be satisfied with anything else. From that day on you will be satisfied with your clothes.
