CONSUL BURRELL'S REPORT

Raw Skins Sent to Germany to Receive the Expert Finishing Processes-Where the Annual Sales Are Held.

In view of the frequent questions asked as to the fur trade in general, and par-ticularly as to the reason for Germany's importance therein, the following facts repared by Vice-Consul J. L. A. Burrell, of agdeburg, will be of interest:

prepared by Vice-Consul J. L. A. Butrell, of Magdeburg, will be of interest:

Occasionally one hears the fear expressed that the fur-bearing animals are becoming extinct. The fur trade of America is larger today than ever before. It is true that the buffalo no longer comes into consideration as a fur-bearing animal, and the beaver is also nearly extinct in most countries. The sea etter, which formerly rurnished 100,000 furs annually, yields not 400 at the highest, and the seal also seems to be rarer, as the number of scalakins has decreased from 100,000 to 10,000 yearly, but other fur-bearing animals have taken the place of these, and the dimensions of the American furtrade are at present greater than they have ever been. More money is now earned on skunk, muskrat and fex furs than ever before on beavers, sea otters, seals and other rare furs. The depots in the United States and Canada soad the largest part of the furs they receive to the three famous fur markets of the world—London, Leipzig and Nijni-Novgorod. The buying itself is done by expert fur brokers.

In London the furs are sold—by auction and an average of $5.000,000 worth of raw furs are disposed of there annually. The principal sale in Nijni-Novgorod, Russia, takes place in August. There all the Asistic fure, such as Persian lumbs and Astra-khans. Mongolian goatsking and Siberian sables, ermine, rare squirred furz, and, alsables, ermine, rare squirrel fure, and, although in very small quantities, otters and seals are sold.

The Leipzig market is held at the great fur "Messe" at Easter time. To it come buyers and sellers from North and South America. Persia, China, Siberia, Japan, Tibet and England. The "Messe" lasts two weeks and is an interesting relic of mediaeval times, which still retains its importance. Why is it that Germany, which furnishes no fur-bearing animals plays so important a part in the fur trade? This is due to the coloring and dressing of the furs. Whole towns and cities are engaged in the preparation of the raw skins. Austria and Russia produce the best squirrel skins for lining, but they must all be sent to Germany to be dressed. The secret of this dressing lies partially in drawing the fat out of the skins without soiling the fur, which is of great importance in the case of ermine, white fox, and polar bears. Many dressers finish the furs with poor fat instead of butter, or do not properly remove the unpleasant odor, as they do not treat the skins with mahogany shavings. Germany takes the foremost place in the coloring of all sheepskins, which is attributed to the composition of the German river water and to the properties of the German clay. There are eent annually to the sales at Leipzig and Nijni-Novgorod 200.000 English fox skins, 500.000 German fox skins and over 50.000 Alaskan fox skins of all secure.

Wheat Is Unchanged.
The Portland Flouring Mills announces an advance, effective this morning, of 15 cents on all local grades of flour. This applies to both old and new-crop flour. A similar advance was made recently by some of the state mills and a quantity of new four, of outside brands, is now on the market. Millfeed, of every description, is strong at the Eastern wheat markets, wheat prices were not changed locally. Barley was firm and higher. The oats market ruled steady and unchanged. No great quantity of oats is going East, so far as can be learned.

BREAK IN STOCKS

New York Market Gets a Severe Shaking Up.

MANY RUMORS OF TROUBLE

Curb Operators Involved and the Effect Is Felt on the Floor of the Exchange-Rally at the Close.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—There were a number of quick transformations in the stock market today which proved exceedingly unsettling to sentiment. The squall which struck the market about 2 o'clock represented. a complete reversal of the form of the first hour, when there was a general feeling of relief and growing confidence that the mar-ket had righted itself and placed most of its troubles behind it.

When prices of some of the leading stocks began to break a point at a time about 2 o'clock, the most serious apprehensions were feit. The letting go of stocks on such terms pressged no good to the market and fears that have been current for several days that some trouble was overhanging were revived in full force. The rumors regarding the trouble became more specific and more centered today. They were given direction by the events of the last few days in the curb market and the extraordinary performances there with United Copper stock. That stock dropped back to 15 today, after having been gropped dack to it boday, after naving seen running up and down the scale to us high as 60 for two days. The existence of a market pool in the stock and published warnings against the transfer of some specified holdings opened the way to the deduction of internal disagreement in the conduct of the pool. Beyond these facts, information was vague, but enough was discerned to locate the source of the pressure on the market with some degree of accuracy. The subject lost some of its terrors with the more definite outline, but the contingencies suggested were sufficiently grave to submerge the cheerfulness which had been rising early in the day.

Call money was firmer in tone and lent at 1 per cent, partly in connection with the flurry in the stock market. The transfer of $500,000 to San Francisco through the sub-Treasury opened a fresh demand on bank reserves and served as an offect to the week's contributions to the banks on sub-Treasury operations, which have run to upwards of $2,000,000, but as the proceeds have been cut on loans meantime, the operation is expected to necessitate a chifting of loans.

Southern Pacific was among the first stocks to break away from the early upward tendency and the reiteration of reports that proof of rebating had been obtained against the company accounted for its weakness. The weakness of the copper stocks was aggravated by the assurance felt that the dividend on Amalgamated Copper would be cut at the meeting tomorrow, and expectation over the extent of the cut became more despondent with the downward course of the stock.

The late rally in the market was accompanied by reports that arrangements had been made to tide over the troubles of the group of capitalists whose affairs had become involved and whose contentions are believed to be largely responsible for the recent operations in the curb market.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $2,008,000. United States 2s and the 4s, registered, declined 14 per cent on call.

Wheat Loses a Cent From High Price at Chicago.

WEAK NEARLY ALL DAY

Declines in the European Grain Centers and in the Northwestern Markets-Fair Weather Is Depressing Influence.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.-The wheat market opened weak because of declines at nearly all the European centers. Fair weather in the Northwest also exerted a depressing influence. During the early part of the day, the market was very nervous, owing to the anxiety of chorts, but in the last half of the session, the tone became decidedly weak. Declines at all of the Northwestern markets due. all of the Northwestern markets, due to the favorable weather conditions for Spring wheat threshing and for the movement of the new crop, tended to weaken the local market later in the day. The market closed weak. December opened %c to %c lower at $1.05\%, to $1.05\%, sold up to $1.05\% and then declined to $1.04\%. The close was off to at $1.04\%.

The corn market was firm early in the day, but weakened in sympathy with the break in wheat. Small local receipts and higher prices at Liverpool were the chief builten factors. The market closed weak with prices almost the lowest point of the day. December opened unchanged to be higher at 63150 to 6350, ndvanced to 6350 and then declined to 6250. The close was at 62150, down it.

Trade in cats was quiet and the market was weak almost all day. The heaviness of whest was the main factor. December opened
