He said he considers the collection of this endowment fund a work of great import-ance. The interest on the fund will be used for the support of worn-out and aged ministers, as preachers rarely ever aged ministers, as preachers rarely ever save anything out of their meager salaries. Dr. Waters has been in the ministery continuously for 33 years. For six years he was presiding elder for the Salem district. He will be succeeded as pastor of the University Park Church by Dr. Jeffries, of South Dakota, who is expected to arrive in Portland next week.

PENINSULA PUSH CLUB ORGANIZED .- A oush club was organized at Peninsular station, on the St. John car line, Tuesday alght, called the Peninsula Improvement Association. The meeting was well at-tended. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and E. H. Weber was elected adopted and E. H. Weber was elected president and Arthur Purdy secretary. Meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. One of the objects of this association is to aid in securing a new schoolhouse in this part of the district. It is believed that there are more children of the school age in the neighborhood than the City Super-Intendent gives credit for, and that there are more than 50 children attending outside the neighborhood instead of 28 as reported by the Superintendent. In addi-tion it is said that there is a considerable number of children not attending any school. OREGON WOOD FOR LEAD PENCILS .- O. F. Chichester, manager of a lumber company at Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday called at the Chamber of Commerce to make inquiries regarding the availability of Oregon lumber for use in the manufacture of lead pencils. The supply of this wood is rapidly being exhausted in the South and manufacturers are obliged to seek new sources for their needs. Mr. Chichester learned that there is a large amount of juniper in Eastern Oregon which is an excellent pencil wood, but is practically inaccessible. Port Orford cedar has also been found to be suitable for pencils, Mr. Chichester expects to visit that section before returning to his home. The display of native woods in the rooms of the Chamber was of much assistance to him in his investigations.

LANDLADY CAUSES ARREST .- If you are a mere lodger at your home, beware of imbibling too freely of the cup that cheers, for you may be arrested at the instance of your landlady. That is just what happened to J. Emmons last night. He was rooming at the home of Mrs. H. J. Naylor, 210 East Seventh street, and for the past few nights is said to have wandered home badly overcome. He is alleged to have been found on more than one occasion sitting on the front steps in a deep stupor, much to the disgust of the landlady, who tired of the thing and caused his arrest. Appearing before Clerk Hennessy, of the Municipal Court, yester-day, Mrs. Naylor swore to a complaint, charging drunkenness against Emmons. Last night a policeman went to the house and took Emmons into custody.

A NOTHER new Chicago production in the musical comedy line was exhibited in Portland last night for the first "The Time, the Place and the Girl" has been wafted westward through the medium of graphophone records and "try-these-over-on-your-plano" music sheets. The public has in this way become tolerably familiar with the fact that "Uncle John" is not in the habit of wearing a collar, that Thursday is the edian's Jonah day and that it's tolerably lonesome most nights.

It is probable that no one ever suffered a mental breakdown while trying to follow the intricacles of the plot of a Chi-cago musical comedy and any ticket-holder who went crasy from too much thought at "The Time, the Place and the Girl," at the Heilig last night will be presented with a life-size portrait of Georgie Cohan at this office today.

Speaking of the latter smart young mar reminds me that a gentleman who keeps pretty close to things theatrical last night described this show as being "Cohanesque." In so saying he stumbled upon a truth. "The Time, the Place and the Girl" is Cohanesque with a difference.

Some of the lines are funny, some of the situations clever and many of the songs tuneful. In fact a lot of the airs will be generally whistled by the boys in the street for a few days and that is your will be generally whistied by the boys in the street for a few days and that is sup-posed to be the highest test of success. The company interpreting the piece here is a large one, quite up to the require-ments. The comedian who is especially featured is John E. Young, who has been here many times and off. As Johnsy been here many times and oft. As Johnny Hicks, the gambler, he says, and sings and dances—many reasons why he should have his name displayed prominently at the head of the cast. He has a funny way with him and the audience which packed every available inch of the Heilig last night enjoyed his efforts to the ut-

The dancing of Eulalie Jensen was quite delightful in so far as she had an opportunity to display her steps. She played a more or less fascinating widow, singing well enough when she was asked to do so well and, as has been intimated, dancing with grace and abandon.

The part of Molly Kelly, the trained nurse, which part was created by Lucia Moore, by the way, was intrusted to Elizabeth Goodall. She is a good-looking young woman with considerable personality and some ability as an actress.

The chorus sings remarkably well and is entitled to the palm for good looks, although just why a number of the girls should appear in pink tights at a Virginia watering place is not made clear. The costumes are very pretty and the scenery all that could be desired. "The Time, the Place and the Girl" will continue at the Heilig until after Saturday night, with a Saturday matinee.

Dr. Pohl declares that the ordinance governing houses under quarantine is being flagrantly violated, scarcely any attention being paid to the rules, and she was the continue of the con is determined that this shall not continue be so. It is said that at no time have the quarantine rules and regulations of the city been strictly enforced, and that as a result there has been serious spread of contagion at various times. This is said to have been especially true of diphtheria, which raged in Sunnyside last Fall and more or less throughout the Winter.
