Shippers Do Not Back Up Complaints to Commission.

IS DISCOURAGED BOARD

Dates for Hearings Set, but Only Presented Comes Railroads-Will Try Once More, October 23.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 17 .- (Special.)-Freight shippers are free in making complaints when their individual interests are af-fected by the car shortage, but they fail to appear with a presentation of facts when the Railroad Commission holds a when the Railroad Commission holds a formal hearing with a view to relieve the troubles. This attitude of the shippers was disclosed when the Commission held its first hearing in Portland, October 10. shipper appeared at that time to as-his grievance.

This apparent indifference on the part of shippers is believed to be due to the general disposition expressed in the old saying that what is everybody's business is nobody's business. Each shipper leaves to the others the task of presenting grievances shared by all. Each is busy with his own private affairs and roes not take time to attend the hearings held by the Commission. Unless this attitude shall be radically changed, the Commission will abandon the effort to investigate the car shortage. A member of the Railroau Commission said today:

The Railroad Commission has been invest gating the car shortage question. The first hearing was held at Portland, October 10, and the next hearing will be held on October Shippers in this vicinity who have suffered from car shortage will then have an opportu-nity to be heard. Other hearings will be held in the Southern part of the state and in Pastern Oregon.

Portland shippers, through the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce complained of the car shortage and the first hearing was held in Portland for the convenience of Portland shippers. Although the matter was duly advertised none of the ship pers appeared at the hearing and the Commitwas obliged to adjourn the without getting any information from the ship mission can accomplish but little as it will have to rely solely upon the railroads for its information. If more interest is not shown by the shippers in future hearings it is likely they will be discontinued.

Fulton Says His Proposed Amendment Will Overcome Difficulties.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 17 .- (Special.)-Ser ator Fulton firmly believes that his proposed amendment to the Federal Con-stitution will, when adopted, provide ar effective means of overcoming difficulties such as the Interstate Commerce Comsion is now encountering in the proppresecution of the Southern Pacific is road Company for granting rebates. In discussing it and the statement of Commissioner Lane this evening, the Sen-

I read the statement of Commissioner Lane of the Interstate Commerce Commission, published in The Oregonian teday. He says they have discovered that the Southern Facilio has been granting rebates on state shipments, but he doubts the power of the Commission to sustain a prosecution therefor as the acts of Congress apply and can apply only to interstate commerce. Of course, the commission can do nothing, for the power of Congress to regulate commerce is confined by the Constitution to interstate ship-ments. This eltuntion, however, emphasizes the importance of the amendment I propose to the Constitution. Laws pro-hibiting rebates and preferential rates should apply to all shipments, state and interstate. It is not my purpose to de prive the states of the power to regulate their domestic commerce in cases where Congress shall take no action. My position is that Congress should have the power so that it may exercise it in prope cases to make its laws uniform and ger eral in application, as well to state as to interstate commerce. There will doubt-less always be many matters left to the states to regulate, such, for instance, as the construction of depots, fencing tracks, etc., but all laws of Congress designed prevent trusts, monopolies, rebates preferential rates and the like, should apply to state as well as interstate com-

The amendment I propose to offer will a substantially as follows: Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several states for an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the said Constitution.

Article XVI.-Section 1. The power of Congress to regulate commerce, in addi-tion to the power it may now exercise in that behalf, shall extend to and include the omestic commerce of the several states, reserving, however, to each state the power to enact such laws in regulation of its do-mestic commerce as shall not conflict with any act or a provision of any act of Con-

LABOR TROUBLE IN ALASKA

RUMOR THAT VALDEZ IS IN THE HANDS OF A MOB.

Alaska Home Railrord Affairs in Serious Condition-Laborers Out of Work to Sail on Saratoga.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 17 .- Wild rumors reached here yesterday that Valdes. Alaska was in the hands of an infuriated mob of 1000 excited laborers on the Alaska Home Raliway. The rumors are partly discounted by Alaskans and Alaska corporations having headquarters

The Northwestern Steamship Company's steamer Saratoga was to have sailed to-day from Valdez with as many of the unemployed laborers as she could carry. J. D. Trenholme, secretary for the steam-ship company, said today that he had received no cablegram from the master of the Saratoga but expected one hourly. In the meantime the greatest uneasiness exists among Alaskans here.

and girls were in the group of spectators that pushed and struggled in an effort to hear the evidence introduced by the state. District Atterney Hedges and Deputy District Attorney Eby appeared for the prosecution and Attorney George C. Brownell represented all of the defendants.

Defense Has No Evidence.

The evidence in every case was clear, and no attempt was made by the defense to introduce testimony. In the Bermosher case, Fred Hampton was called by Mr. Brownell, but his evidence remained unshaken under a severe cross-examination. the witnesses were ques-tioned by the attorney for the defence, but the examination was cursory.

Ralph Cox, aged 17 years, testified that on October 4 he went into Bermosher's place and purchased three glasses of beer for himself, Frank Patch and Charles Huiras, aged 18 years. The testimony of Cox was corroborated by Huiras and Patch.

Fred Hamming who found in his fact.

Fred Hampton, who found in his father's barn the lifeless body of 15-year-old Charles Kinzel, last Sunday morning. said that August 30 last he had paid 25 cents for one glass of beer and two glasses of wine in Bermosher's saloon, and that the stuff had been sold him by Bermosher himself, who drank with the boy. Hampton was accompanied at that time by a man named Caivin, who confirmed the evidence of the boy.

Wilmer Sandsness, aged 19 years, swore that October 12 Jesse sold him two glasses of beer for 10 cents. With Sands-ness was Sam Erickson, 'o is 22 years of age, and who drank with the lad.

Boy's Father Is Blamed.

The evidence of Charles Huiras was of particular interest, as this boy spent $2 for two quarts of whisky at Tackelson's for two quarts of whisky at Tackelson's resort last Saturday night. The other boys in the party made up the purse and gave the money to Huiras, and some of the liquor was given to unfortunate Charley Kinzel, who died from the effects. Huiras is 18 years of age and he said that on October 11, in company with George Scheer, he played pool in Tackelson's, and having lost the game he paid Tackelson 10 cents for two glasses of Tackelson 10 cents for two glasses of beer. His evidence was corroborated by Scheer. It is freely stated that the father of Hulras has been responsible for his son's delinquency, and the report is current that the elder Hulras frequently took his boy into saloons and went so far as to tell Tackelson to give his son li-quor whenever he asked for it. This story may come out at the trial of the case, as an attempt to mitigate the of-

Sunday Laws Must Be Respected ROSEBURG, Or., Oct. 17.-The school fund of Douglas County was today increased in the sum of $750 by fines im posed on saloonkeepers of the county who allowed slot machines to be operated in their places of business.

The grand jury now in session is probling this matter and every one who has permitted a slot machine or other implement to be used as an inducement to games of chance has been or will be indicted. The court so far has imposed a fine of $50 in each case. It is also reported that the jury is probing the matter of open doors for business on Sunday of saloons and other resorts.

There has been a general waking up among lawbreakers, and a marked deter-mination on the part of the public to put a stop to the indiscriminate violations of law that have heretofore existed. It is believed the jury is now seeking a means to bring before the court for its action municipal and county officers who have falled to do their duty in the prevention

BAPTISTS LEARN OF WORK DONE IN THE FAR EAST.

More Hindus Have Wept for Their Sins Since Last October Than for Lack of Bread

SALEM, Or., Oct. 17.—(Special.)— One of the most honored ministers in the state had charge of the devotional meeting this morning, Rev. W. P. El-more. The Sunday school hour was con-ducted by James Edmunds, who gave an informal address on the equipment of the teacher and the school. There are, he said, 1.25,600 Sunday school teachers in the country and over 50,000 additional officers, making a vast army of unpaid Christian workers. Mr. Edmunds is swinging a successful campaign for new swinging a successful campaign for new members in the West.

Mrs. L. G. Baldwin, of Portland, representing the Travelers' Aid, occupied 10 minutes in telling a wonderful story il-lustrating the value of work for the protection of girls coming to a large city Rev. Arthur Rider, of the Baptist Mis-sionary Union, gave a fine address on fereign missions. Some significant movements in the Christian world were treated. As the result of the revival in Wales 5000 were converted in Assam. A larger number of people in India bave wept for their sins since last October than have wept for lack of bread. The marks of conversion have been genuine. In many cities of China not one man in 10 now goes to the temples for worship. The power of idolatry is largely broken in that land. A leading editor among the Chinese in San Francisco said re-cently: There will not be a single joss in San Francisco in the new Chinatown. This editor also expressed joy over a message he had just read stating tha the empress dowager had promulgate a constitutional form of government for China. The Missionary Union has lately sent a brilliant college man, active in Y. W. C. A. work in Johns Hopkins University, to Toklo, Japan, to work with the 80,000 young men of the Imperial University Rider urged attention to the mission study class movement. The contrioutlons to the society last year were Dr. J. W. Brougher preached a powerful missionary sermon, laying special stress on pastoral responsibility, in the evangelization of the world. This is the chief mission of the Baptist denomina-tion. More emphasis should be laid on the command "Go" than on the other, "Baptize." "I would rather be a Methodist or Presbyterian," he said, "and be obedient to that command than to be a Baptist and be disobedient to it." We crated to the service. We have money enough also if we would use it. "If my church slone—the live members—would give 5 cents a day to missions, that would mean over $18,600," he added. He suggested that it would be well to secure a double bank and drop into it 5 cents a day for missions and the same amount for local church work, asking wealthy members to do more.

A greatly enjoyed devotional service was led by Rev. S. C. Lapham at 1:30.

"Sowing Beside All Waters" was the theme treated by Rev. J. L. Whirry, who has had much successful experience in personal work. Next on the pro-gramme appears "By-Products of Home Mission Work," but as Dr. Wooddy had Bright Skies and Record-Breaking Crowd-Portland Party Today.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Oct. 17. (Special.)-With weather that couldn't have been better had it been especially ordered, with all exhibits in place and a record-breaking initial-day crowd, the Klamath County Fair opened this morning. For this, President Bishop and Judge Baldwin, director of the exhibits, are much elated. Exhibits in every department far ex-ceed those of any previous fair. Many of the exhibits won high favor and prizes at the National Irrigation Congress, recently held in Sacramento, but have the additional merit of demon-strating on the ground the wonderful possibilities of the region which produced them. Saturday, the last day of the fair, will be Portland day. The large excursion from the Oregon metropolis is scheduled to arrive here at 5 o'clock tomorrow night. The visitors will be entertained with short tours of inspection through the huge irrigation projects now under construction by the Government, which aims to reclaim 200,000 acres of land possessing almost mitiess wealth.

Instead of the old time-worn pro-

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Her advice is free and always helpful.
