

FROHMAN JEWELRY STOCK PLOUNDERED

Burglaries of Recent Weeks Capped by $2000 Haul at Hotel Portland.

NOCLEW; POLICE HELPLESS

Robbers Pry Off Iron Grating at Yamhill-Street Side and Then Confine Operations to Oriental Jeweled Curios.

Burglars looted the rooms of the Frohman Trading Company, in the Hotel Portland, of $2000 worth of Oriental jewelry early Thursday morning. The crime was the most startle of a long list of daring burglaries in Portland of late and news of it was immediately ordered suppressed by Chief Grimshaw. The utter inability of the police to find the perpetrators being assigned as the cause. No arrests have been made in any of the long list of hold-ups, robberies and larceny cases, in this, as in the others, the detectives have made no headway.

The boldness and daring of the burglars, believed to have been two in number, can be readily seen when it is known that they calmly chiseled off the bolts that held an iron grating in place in front of the window by the Yamhill-street side of the Frohman establishment, after which they removed the obstruction. They then used a "limmy" to pry open the window itself and entered the store-room.

Once inside, the burglars helped themselves to all the valuable articles they wished and made their escape without leaving any clue whatever. Acting Detectives Price and Hays, who were on duty on the case Thursday forenoon, but nothing has been accomplished yet.

After Oriental Jewelry Alone.

The Frohman establishment is on the ground floor of the Portland, in the room at the northeast corner of Seventh and Yamhill streets. The stock is very valuable. All kinds of beautiful Oriental jewelry are handled by the company and it was to this line of goods that the thieves turned their exclusive attention. The thieves overlooked much loot they could have had for the taking, such as silk kimonos and that line of fancy goods. What they carried off, however, was much easier to make away with, as it could have been carried in a small receptacle.

In the plunder that was carried away were numbers of umbrellas, handbags, cigarette cases, cigar cases, card cases, a gold bracelet, a gold band with jade, a plain gold band, a heavy carved bronze, plain jade rings, long bar jade rings, plain heavy pair of cufflinks, jade beads, watch fobs, stickpins, necklaces and similar articles.

The Frohman company carried insurance covering a part of the loss in the National Surety Company, of New York, of which James McI. Wood is general agent in Portland.

Chief of Police Grimshaw, when asked regarding the robbery, said that from what he had been able to learn of it the crime was committed by professional burglars. He said that no definite information had been secured as to who did the work.

Burglaries Almost Every Night.

The criminal element has been unusually active in this city recently, and hardly a night passes but one or more burglaries are reported. One downtown jewelry store was robbed of hundreds of dollars' worth of goods and later an unsuccessful attempt was made to break into another establishment on the same street. An unknown man struck the heavy plate-glass window pane with a sharp instrument, but failed to make a hole large enough through which to run his hand. The police believe it was the man's intention to reach in and steal a tray of diamond earrings on display.

There has been an average of one hold-up and robbery a night for several weeks.

IT IS STILL BULL RUN

No Quorum of Initiative One Hundred at Meeting to Change Name.

For the present the earth, sun, moon and stars are to continue to be known by their original names. These heavenly bodies will still occupy their accustomed places in space. Bull Run Creek, by geographical arrangement, will continue to have its source from the Mount Hood watershed, and the people of this city will be required blushing to allude to their water supply as a sharp instrument.

The proposed merger of the City of Portland and the County of Multnomah must also necessarily be postponed and the municipality and the county will follow the even tenor of their way with separate forms of government in the administration of their affairs.

All this is because the Initiative One Hundred failed to hold a meeting last night. Through a misinterpretation of the notices that had been sent out calling for the meeting, a misunderstanding arose among the members as to the date of the important session and a quorum failed to respond. Therefore it became necessary to adjourn, subject to the call of the president, Francis I. McKenna. This means a respite of at least one week, perhaps a fortnight, for the different planets, mountain stream, Pacific Coast, metropolitan and Multnomah County with whose rechristening and reorganization the Initiative One Hundred has charged itself.

BOYLE ON WAY TO MANILA

Arrest of Alleged Embezzler Expected When Ship Lands.

The Portland police have received information that J. S. Boyle, formerly agent for the United Oil Company, now wanted for embezzlement, is on his way to Manila. P. L. Captain of Detectives Bruin has taken steps to have him apprehended if he lands in Manila.

Boyle was agent here for the United Oil Company, a concern with large tanks at Linnton. His books were expected about two months ago and were found to reveal an alleged shortage of approximately $4000. At that time he fled, and his employers caused a warrant to be issued. He left his wife penniless.

GOOD THING IN PORTLAND MARKET

BY LILIAN TINGLE.

THE yellow Japanese or Chinese persimmons, now to be had at 40 and 50 cents a dozen, make exceedingly pretty cups for the fruit cocktails of a yellow and russet Autumn luncheon. Combined with bits of orange and seeded white grapes, they also make a pleasing sweet salad, with either a syrup or egg-and-gelatin dressing. The seedless Chinese persimmon is perhaps the best, for its flavor is particularly delicate, though decidedly "different," and it has no inconvenient seeds concealed in its orange-colored pulp.

Prickly pears are in the market at 5 cents each, side by side with peaches at 40 cents a dozen, fine Hood River strawberries at 35 cents a box, and some unnamed strawberries at 25 cents. There was a large display of fine Concord grapes at 20 and 25 cents a box; other grapes ranging from 30 to 60 cents. Pineapples cost 65 cents, but looked good and fresh. There were some melons of different kinds still left, but they looked as if they knew themselves no longer truly popular. I saw more nice pears than I did last week, and some really splendid apples.

A few housekeepers have complained of the difficulty in getting their favorite limes here in Portland; but I saw some pretty good ones yesterday at 15 cents a dozen.

Many of the tomatoes at this time are inclined to be somewhat hard, flavorless and uninteresting; and the sliced tomatoes on lettuce that were so attractive earlier in the summer are beginning to pall for many people. If such be your case, try tomato fritters, made like apple fritters, with a seasoning of chives or onion juice, chopped parsley, and lemon juice or vinegar. Instead of sugar and spice. Pepper and salt, too, of course. These are good, served with cutlets.

PETITION TO SOUSA

Bandmaster May Make Rose Festival Famous.

IF HE PLAYS ROSE MARCH

Arrangements for a conference between the officials of the Portland Rose Festival Association and John Philip Sousa, the renowned band director, now filling a short engagement in the city, have been made with a view of having the famous impresario put the "Rose Festival" march, composed by Signor A. DeCaprio, on his regular programme during his present tour. The meeting will take place at the Hotel Portland this forenoon. De Caprio has arranged the instrumentation for all the 99 parts included in the Sousa band.

The Rose Society, having accepted the offer of the Oriental building for its exhibit and the Oregon building for its receptions and meetings during Festival week, is directing the city so that the committees appointed by President McFarland will be able to round up all the residents who have rose gardens when the time comes for the big hustle for flowers for exhibition and decorative purposes.

If the achievements of last June's Rose Show be accepted as a criterion for next year's display, fully 1,000,000 Caroline Testouts and other popular roses will find place in the exposition of next year. Preparation is given to get ready for the show of 1908, while but four weeks separate the big show and the arrangement allotted to collect and arrange the exhibits of this year's show.

By dividing the city into small districts, the Rose Society expects to gather up every bloom possible for the big show, and the society will have more than 100 members of its organization in the field rustling for displays several weeks before the exposition begins.

As for the festival plans, reorganized soliciting committees were sent out to drafted into service and sent out to gather in funds from business districts and resident portions of the city that have not been covered.

Big Givers to Yet Respond. Returns from the canvassers who went out under the general call show that more than 50 per cent of them worked diligently in the districts allotted to them and their reports, while incomplete, indicate that the great mass of people gave liberally. The banks, hotels, restaurants, lumber-manufacturing establishments and other important business and industrial institutions, will probably be heard from today or Monday, in response to the general appeal issued from headquarters two days ago. All funds collected by that time will be acknowledged through the newspapers, providing the committees follow instructions and report to the ways and means committee, which is endeavoring to devise some new plans for arousing more widespread interest and enthusiasm than has been manifested so far.

It has been decided that no attempts shall be made to carry out the elaborate week's programme or to work on any of the details until it is settled just how much civic pride Portland has in the undertaking. If the total $100,000 is secured, one set of plans will be carried out; but if the citizens do not display enough interest in the mammoth scheme to advertise the city to give that amount, a general policy of retrenchment in expenses will be adopted forthwith. This is one of the questions which will be considered at the meeting Monday night.

Columbia County's Timber Cruise. ST. HELENS, Or., Oct. 17.—(To the Editor.)—Since The Oregonian has published a communication from its correspondent at St. Helena, about Columbia County's cruise, we desire to state that the County Court has just paid out $17,000, and further that the County Court of Columbia County has generally got value received, and this cruise will be no exception to the rule.
