

HINTS OF PEACE 'TWIXT FACTIONS

Illinois Central May Get Together and Settle Quarrel.

GRIEF OF AGED DIRECTOR

Beach's Bemoaning Division Draws Suggestion From Harriman Supporter—Fish Puts Astor and Vanderbilt to Confusion.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—(Special)—Some events in the stationing of the meeting today of the warring factions in Illinois Central Railway affairs led to hints that before the battle is taken up by the courts there may be a settlement.

Charles M. Beach, 80 years of age, who carries a proxy for 12,000 Connecticut-held shares of the road, which he will vote for Mr. Fish, is sorely distressed over the row. His faith in Illinois Central has been one of the most sacred things in his life.

May Be Able to Fix It Up.

"You are right, Mr. Beach. It is too bad. Maybe we will be able to fix it up and again have a reunited family." Several unusual scenes marked the close of the meeting.

Fish's Unsuspected Strength.

"Don't see you as much as I used to," said Mr. Fish. Mr. Astor blushed violently, but said nothing. Then Mr. Fish extended his hand, saying: "Howdy, Cornelius!"

It is now certain that the Harriman plan will be put into effect. The directors and seek to dissolve the Fish injunction. Meanwhile the proxies in dispute are locked in a safety-deposit box.

RUSH CLOSURE BIG BANK

bank. When the meeting of the directors of the Knickerbocker broke up Joseph S. Auerbach, a director and counsel for the company, gave out the following statement:

"Everything possible had been done by the officers and directors to meet the extraordinary demands on the resources of this company, but it can be well understood that no trust company has sufficient liquid assets at all times to meet demands of a greater part of its depositors."

Asked what he thought the prospects were of the bank's opening tomorrow, Mr. Auerbach said: "It would be impossible to do it unless we receive sufficient resources, and I do not think that these will be on hand by morning."

Big Failure on Exchange.

The liabilities of Mayor & Co., whose failure was announced in the stock exchange this afternoon, are about $3,000,000. This is much larger than had been expected, as it was thought the firm was doing a small business.
