

ADAMS TURNS MARBLE WHITE

Wife Quits Court in Tears When She Hears Letter Read to the Jury.

STATE SPRINGS SURPRISE

Prisoner Writes Damaging Statements to Relatives While Confined in Idaho Penitentiary. Darrow Begins All Over.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 21.—A special to the Spokane-Review from Rathdrum, Idaho, says: The most dramatic incident connected with the trial of Steve Adams, on trial here for the murder of Fred Tyler, was the introduction of two letters by James H. Hawley, counsel for the State, this afternoon. The defense objected to their being read to the jury, but Judge Woods declared them properly identified. During the reading of the first letter, Mrs. Adams arose from beside her husband and left the room in tears. She did not return for an hour. Adams turned marble white and motionless. His attorneys were nonplussed. The letters were not introduced in evidence at the Wallace trial from the fact that it was not known that a copy of them had been kept. Warden Whitney, of the Boise penitentiary, found them soon afterward. They were written between the time Adams confessed and signed the confessions. Clarence Darrow, Adams' counsel, when the letters appeared, set his jaw and went to the jury as if it were the first day of the trial instead of what was supposed to be the last for taking testimony.

LETTERS ADMIT HIS GUILT.

The letters were written by Adams while in the Idaho penitentiary to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, an aunt and uncle, and to his brother, W. Adams. Their general tenor is disclosed in the following extract: "I was glad to hear of your belief in my innocence. I said to God that I was, but I fell in with bad company and was led to commit a number of bad acts, breaking the law of both God and man. I turned away from my church and with the raising of my poor parents, who are, I believe, in heaven, I would be a free man today. But I allowed myself to be led into sin. I am going to try to undo what I have done, and sin no more."

ANXIOUS TO END THE TRIAL.

Judge Woods wants to finish the arguments by Saturday and will convene court at 9 o'clock tomorrow when E. E. McFarland and Henry P. Knight, for the state, have agreed to consume two hours each. McFee and Helman take the same time for the defense. Mr. Darrow said Mr. Hawley said the trial has lasted some more time than three hours apiece. But Judge Woods said he would not limit them. There will be a night session tomorrow night. The state closed its rebuttal today, but the defense may have a little sur-rebuttal in the morning. After that the arguments will take up the time.

PATERNITY OF CHILDREN

(Continued From First Page.) astonished," she said with some show of regret. In another letter written in May, 1903, Mrs. Bradley wrote: "I am wondering if you are true to me. Are you? I so want to feel your arms around me and hear your kind words. When you ask for divorce? If not, when will you begin? I am sewing every day and praying with every breath that our troubles may soon end."

HER FEELINGS WHEN FOUND OUT.

Judge Powers asked her how she felt when she became aware that her relations with Brown had got to the ears of Mrs. Brown. "I wanted to go away immediately," the witness said. "I was begging him to send me away. "Had he said anything to you on the subject of what you should do or say in the event of his wife talking with you?" "He immediately sent a messenger to me. I threatened to go, and he sent word to me instantly not to say anything and to deny everything."

A letter of 1902 written from the Idaho farm was quoted at length. Mrs. Bradley closed it by asserting that the disgrace she and Brown had brought on themselves would leave a scar on her life, and said she would give half the pleasure she expected to obtain through a proper life with Brown to efface the humiliating past. Little tokens of friendship were exchanged between her and Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Bradley said, and added with a touch of sadness: "When Arthur was a baby, Mrs. Brown gave him three little dresses. To Martha she gave two pairs of silk stockings and some ribbon and lace and other little things."

DOCTOR CORROBORATES HER.

This afternoon Mrs. Bradley's Salt Lake physician, Dr. E. W. Whitney, was introduced to corroborate Mrs. Bradley's statements concerning criminal operations performed on her and to testify about her health during her intimacy with Brown. The doctor said Mrs. Bradley first visited his office in 1902 and that Brown accompanied her. When Mr. Powers sought to bring out the conversation between himself and Senator Brown, Mr. Baker objected. The objection was sustained, and the witness was excused for the time being.

BROWN'S LOVE LETTERS.

Brown's love letters to Mrs. Bradley, made public today, show the strength of his infatuation, mingled with extravagant protestations of love and expressions of desire to make her his wife, are approaches for receiving attentions from other men, including uncles and cousins at Los Angeles and one whom he calls a "damned traveling man." He says their quarrels only make them love the more. He made a will, containing provision for her and the boys, and sent it to her to take care of. She destroyed it, and he reproached her for so doing. He expressed hope of getting a divorce and

FAVORS MORE SILVER COINS

Solomon R. Guggenheim Suggests Remedy for Stringency.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 21.—A larger use of silver coins is advocated by Solomon R. Guggenheim, chairman of the executive committee of the American Smelting & Refining Company, as a measure of financial relief. In an interview with local papers today, Mr. Guggenheim said: "Since coming West I have found a strong sentiment in favor of the Government helping out the real money stringency by the purchase of liberal quantities of the white metal and coining into dollars. It is believed that $50,000,000 worth of it might be bought and so used to the best interests of the entire country. Around present prices that would provide nearly $100,000,000 of new real money and the Government would hardly miss the amount of gold it would need to pay out for the metal."

"The population of this country has grown so fast and the requirements of trade have expanded to such a degree that more metallic money has come to be a necessity. Conditions are different today from what they were when there was so much prejudice against the white metal. When silver advocates were demanding the coining of silver with gold and on a basis of 16 to 1, silver was being produced at about the ratio of 25 ounces to one of gold. Since then the production of gold has increased at such a rate that the ratio is now only eight ounces of silver to one of gold."

ROMANCE ENDS IN JAIL

Seattle Man Accused of Stealing Wife and Money.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—A most sordid and surprising development that a few months ago astonished an exclusive Berkeley, Cal., set, culminated at the police station. Mrs. Anita Morton, wife of Dr. Harry B. Morton, a wealthy and respected dentist of Oakland, and P. F. Roller, a Seattle city sanitary inspector, are the principal actors in the case. Roller is now wanted, it is said, by the police for grand larceny committed in San Francisco. The woman's arrest resulted from a direct charge made by him. Last March the two left Oakland, where Dr. Morton had his office, after Roller is alleged to have stolen $250 from the man whose wife he induced to leave her home and friends. The family home was at Berkeley.

STREETCARS CAUSE RIOTS

Small Disturbances in Louisville Result From Strike.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 21.—Several disturbances, two of them developing into riots, broke out tonight in widely scattered quarters of Louisville as a result of the first attempt of the Louisville Railway Company to operate all its lines after nightfall. Today is the seventh day of the strike and the tension seems to increase. A number of persons, some of them passengers, were painfully injured. But no seriously. At Twenty-fifth and Portland avenues a man fired a shot into a car, slightly wounding a woman. Fifteen arrests were made.

DRYDOCKS FOR THE NAVY

Recommended in Report of Rear-Admiral Holladay.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Additional drydocks for the Navy are most urgently needed, according to the annual report of Rear-Admiral R. C. Holladay, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks of the Navy. It is again urged that steps be taken for the establishment of a first-class drydock at Pearl Harbor, Hawaiian Islands, where the necessary land has been acquired. This harbor is the nearest port to Honolulu, but is vastly superior for naval purposes. The proposed dock will cost $2,000,000. The estimates for the various yards include the following: Cavite, $3,700; Naval

RETURN TO ATTACK

Gompers Repeats Charge Against Brandenburg.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 21.—At today's session of the Federation of Labor, President Gompers, with Vice-President O'Connell in the chair, replied to the denials sent from New York last night by Broughton Brandenburg, who declared that he was the man referred to by Mr. Gompers in the latter's charges of an attempt to bribe Mr. Gompers, and denied that he had made such an attempt to bribe also that he had any connection with the National Association of Manufacturers. Mr. Gompers said: "I want to call your attention to the fact that if Brandenburg desired only to consult me about a publication, why was it necessary for him so persistently to urge me to see him in private? Why was it necessary for him to assume a false name? Why so much secrecy? Why did he, in his letter to urge that I come at once to New York, use the language he did, saying it was necessary for me to come at once 'as matters were coming to a crisis'? Why could there have been such a crisis between two men who had only a passing acquaintance, if only a publication were involved? If there was no attempt to bribe, upon what other basis did he hope that I was going to abandon my life's work?"

HAD WARRANTS READY TO PAY.

All the circumstances link by link show that it was Brandenburg who came to me as a representative of the National Manufacturers' Association, even disregarding the statement that he himself told me directly that he represented this Association, whose purpose was to attack and destroy and bribe the men of labor in order to strike at the organizations themselves. Why was it necessary for him to reassure me that he represented the Manufacturers' Association, coming to me with warrants issued by the Century Syndicate, an auxiliary of the National Manufacturers' Association, the marks of the latter appearing in no less than two instances on the warrants presented, the initials in one instance and the full name of the Manufacturers' Association spelled out in the other. These warrants were eight inches long and four or five inches wide, such as are used in ordinary business houses to safeguard money transactions.

VAN CLEAVE WAS WAITING.

Immediately after my speech yesterday I was informed by Delegate Jerome Jones that about the time I told of having received letters from Brandenburg urging that I go to Edgefield, S. C. for a conference, Delegate Jones saw Mr. Van Cleave, the president of the Manufacturers' Association, another man in close proximity to Edgefield.

Appetite—None.

The Woeful Reflections of a Withered Dyspeptic.

No substitute for good nature has yet been found. Smiles take root in the stomach. Without good digestion there never can be very much sunshine, for the very simple reason that the stomach and the brain are twins, and what affects one invariably affects the other. The adage that the best road to a person's heart is via the stomach, still holds good. Gorged grub and pappy pie always breed gloom and sleepless nights. They also breed dyspepsia—quick dyspepsia, and dyspepsia shows itself in a variety of ways—belching, burning sensation, an empty feeling in the stomach, bloating after eating, brash, aversion to food, fermentation, or downright indigestion. There are few diseases which create such misery—long drawn out misery—as dyspepsia. It pursues you before meals, after meals, and between meals; you take it to bed with you; it is with you at the theater and at your desk. What is the only way to get rid of it? You don't have to stop eating, you don't have to diet. Just take something that will do the work of the stomach and let the stomach take a rest. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the most wonderful little tablets on earth for this very thing.

IS THIS YOU?

In plain arithmetic, one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets equals one good strong stomach for one time for one good hearty meal. One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest perfectly 3600 grains of food in just the same way that a strong, robust, healthy stomach would do it. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets enrich and increase the gastric juice in your stomach, and that is mostly what you need—more and better gastric juice. And it gives the stomach a rest, a good long rest. In the meantime it cures the dyspepsia, and all other stomach troubles. Just a few of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will prove to you what these little cherubs of health and happiness can do. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale at all druggists at 50c a box. Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address: F. A.
