CORNELL CARRIED DOWN TO DEFEAT

Pennsylvania Plays Brilliant Game and Completely Surprises Visiting Team.

FORWARD PASS EFFECTIVE

Quakers Overwhelm Opponents in First Half, Although Penalized 75 Yards, but Ithacans Take Brace at the Finish.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28 .- On Frank-In field this afternoon Pennsylvania won the football game with Cornell, the score being 12 to 4. It was Pennsylvania's thirteenth victory in games played with the Ithacans, the New York State team the ithacans, the New York State team having won one contest and tied another. The game was finely played, bringing out many spectacular features which were enjoyed by the 80,000 persons present. Cornell undoubtedly expected to win. The team had a good season and it was expected that Paragularia which has been pected that Pennsylvania, which has been a little erratic this year, would not be able to withstand the aggressive work of Cornell. Confidence turned the betting in and tongs from the start and continued throughout the game. The Quakers, however, carried the ball over Cornell's goa line by hard work, only to have the touch-down disallowed because of holding. In the first half the Quakers were penal ized 75 yards and held Cornell repostedly. Pennsylvania clearly outplayed Cornell in Conditions were practically reversed in the second half. Cornell seemed to gain strength and several times endangered the Pennsylvania goal. Pennsylvania's prin-cipal play was the forward pass, which she worked almost to perfection. It was through this play that the Quakers were able to keep the ball in Cornell's territory in the first half, and after getting it close enough to the goal line the playit close enough to the goal line the play ers hammered the Cornell line for their

In the second half Cornell did most of the forward passing but the play did not bring the substantial results that it did to Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania's second touchdown was the result of one of Cor-nell's forward passes being blocked. The ball was on Pennsylvanias 50-yard line and Scarlett for Pennsylvania intercepted the throw. Draper was on the ball in a flash and with a clear field ran 65 yards Cornell's field goal came late in the sec ond half. Cornell got the ball in midfield and worked it to the 23-yard line. Un-able to make further headway, Caldwell, who had replaced Van Orman, dropped back to the 35-yard line and kicked a beautiful goal at a different angle.

There was very little roughness and few men were laid out through injuries. Van Orman was carried off the field in a semi-conscious condition, but recovered fully after reaching the dressing-room.

Details of Game Show Superiority of Pennsylvania.

FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, No. 28.—The teams came on the field at 2 o'clock. The Ithaca players were given a great welcome by possibly the greatest Cornell contingent that ever gathered on Franklin Field. Cornell won the toss and chose the west goal, giving Pennsyl-vania the kickoff. The Quakers kicked Pennsylvania kicked to Cornell's 5-yard line. The Ithacans made two yards and then kicked. Pennsylvania worked the ball back to Cornell's 30-yard line. The ball went to Cornell on an outside kick. The visitors could not advance the ball. Walder kicked to Pennsylvania's 50-yard line. A forward pass worked safely ward line. Walder kicked to Pennsylvania's 50-yard line. A forward pass worked safely and it was Pennsylvania's hall on Cor-nell's 30-yard line. Another forward pass put the ball on Cornell's 5-yard line. The Quakers then made four yards through the line and put it over for a touchdown. Folwell made the play but the ball was brought back 15 yards for Pennsylvania's holding and the touch-down was not allowed.

A 20-yard run by Draper put the ball on Cornell's 10-yard line. Hollenbeck made five yards and Green three. On the next play Folwell took the ball over for a touchdown. This time it counted, and Pennsylvania supporters cheered lustily. Scarlett kicked a goal. Pensylvania tried another forward pass but this time it failed. Scarlett fumbling the ball. Here Cornell made the initial first down, but then was pen-alized four yards for holding and was alized four yards for holding and was compelled to punt, Pennsylvania getting the hall in midfield. Keinath dropped back and made a wonderful forward pass of 45 yards, Folwell getting the ball on Cornell's 20-yard line on the next play. The Quakers fumbled, and it was Cornell's ball. The next moment Pennsylvania regained on an wn-side ktele.

Pennsylvania was set back 15 yards for uncompleted forward passes, bring-ing the ball to midfield; Hollenbeck then kicked to Cornell's three-yard line. Cornell failed to gain, and Walder punted to Penn's 42-yard line. Cornell

The only change in the teams in the second half was Caldwell for Gardner, Cornell's quarterback Cosgrove kicked off, and an exchange of punts gave Pennsylvania the ball on Cornell's 45-yard line, where Pennsylvania fumbled yard line, where Pennsylvania fumbled and it went to Cornell. The Ithacans finally made a first down, the second in the game. They then essayed a forward pass, and it was Pennsylvania's on her own 55-yard line. Ah exchange on punts gave Pennsylvania the bull on Cornell's 30-yard line. Tydemann here replaced Van Oldman, who was carried off the field injured.

was about to pass over the line to a waiting Cornell man. Scarlett plunged forward and was downed on the five-yard line. Pennsylvania then punted to midfield. Cornell tried another forward pass but it was blocked by Scarlett. Draper picked up the ball and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Scarlett kicked a goal. Cosgrove kicked off and both sides again resorted to punting, when Pennsylvania was again penalized 15 yards, but the ball was finally kicked over Pennsylvania's line for a touchdown and on the kick out it was Cornell's ball in midfield. Pennsylvania then made three changes; Macklin, for Gallagher: Miller, for Pauxtis, and Reagan, for Keinath.

SPEAKS FOR THE PEOPLE

Judge Brewer Against Control by Any Class.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. - Justice Brewer, of the Supreme Court of the United States, today spoke at Mount Pleasant Congregational Church in this city on "Our National Opportunities." While he dwelt especially upon the power of Christianity to uplift the masses of the people, and of its efficacy in bringing the immigrants who swarm to the United States into barmony with American insti-tutions, he incidentally took occasion to speak of the influences of special interests on the welfare of the people on the welfare of the people.

"High and low, rich and poor," he declared, "should be protected. We can never come to the full measure of that truth so long as we permit any group of financiers, persons and corporations to crush the individual, nor can we allow any labor organization to dictate any course we should follow."
