PETTIBONE CASE DRAGS

· Many Talesmen Desire to Serve or dury and Attorneys Exercise Great Care in Questioning-To Begin Evidence Monday.

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 4.-Before adjourning the trial of George A. Pettibone this afternoon Judge Wood informed counsel for the state that they should be ready to proceed with the evicence not later than next Monday. Both the state and defense have exhausted half of the 10 peremptory challenges allowed them by law. the morning session today very little progress was made, but this afternoon and evening most of the talesmen examined qualified. An apparent desire of many of the talesmen to serve of the jury was manifested today, and it required skill on the part of the attor-neys to disqualify a number who were not considered desirable.

The Morning Session.

When the trial was resumed this morning the state exercised its second persuptory challenge, excusing Wil-lian Howell. A G Miller a union barber, and H W. Miller, a union teamster, failed to qualify, each having formed a fixed opinion as to the guilt or innocence of James Lusk, of Boise, a hardware merchant, was accepted by the state. Luck said he could give the defendant a fair trial, but candidly admitted he would have to hear evidence before he could change his opinion, and was excused by Judge Wood.

Peter Eskalson, a rancher, was passed by the prosecution, but was challenged by Clarence Darrow and ex-George Maxfield, a carpenter, residing in Boise, was accepted by the prosecution and examined by the defense, finally being accepted.

The state excused A. H. Gibberd, and

J. A. Sican was called just before ad-journment for the noon recess, Progress in the Afternoon.

The examination of J. A. Sloan was taken up at the afternoon session and he was accepted by the state, but was challenged by the defense and excused. He had been summoned as a juror in the Haywood case but was excused.

T. C. Rawlins, a farmer, formerly a cigar-maker and member of the union, was passed for cause by the prosecution. His father was a coal miner. Clarence Darrow examined him at length in regard to his attitude towards union labor and his opinion as to the result of the Haywood trial. Rawlins was accepted by Mr. Darrow and the defense excused Oric Cole on its third peremptory. Seaton Gilbert, clerk in a Boise mercantile house, was called and answered all questions to the satisfaction of the prosecution. The defense was forced to accept him, al-though it was apparent that Mr. Darrow desired to disqualify him.

The state used its fourth peremptory challenge on T. A. Brown and Arthur Eastes was called to fill the vacancy. Eastes said he had never expressed ar opinion as to the guilt or innocence of Pétilbone. He is 29 years old and was formerly a farmer, but has retired and is living in Boise. He was accepted by called on the defense to exercise its fourth peremptory.

Section Gibert was excused and Samuel Davis called. He admitted having a strong prejudice against the Western Federation of Miners, and thought he could not act as a juror impartially. He was excused and Clem Doollitle was called. Court then adjourned until 7 o clock this evening.

At the evening session after Clem Doo-little had been excused, Benjamin E. Stabl, an old prospector who has been mining the West for the past 40 years, was passed for cause by both sides. He is 62 years old and a veteran of the Civil War. He testified that he was in Montana during the Haywood trial and when asked if he discussed the case while there he said that he only told the miners Haywood would get a fair

I'il in Idaho.

In using its fifth peremptory the state excused T. C. Rawlins, who passed for cause this afternoon. The defense offered no objection to the state's challenge of John I. Shields, a laborer, who said that he never read the newspapers.

The next talesman called was J. H. Fraker, a graduate last Speins, of the past Speins of the state of the The next thleaman called was J. H. Fraker, a graduate last Spring of the University of idaho, and a law student residing at Meriden. Frazer, in answer to questions by Hawley, said that he read very little about the Federation cases, as he had been very busy with his school work since the Stemman and the standard of the strended. enberg murder. He said he attended the Haywood trial only once, and then only to see the attorneys.

"You saw my learned friend Mr. Dar-raw?" asked Mr. Hawley. The prospecjuror answered in the affirmative And you did not come back," added lawley, causing an outburst of laugher. After he had been accepted by the state Darrow questioned Frazer at length, and finally accepted him. Darrow asked the talezman if he had heard it charged that the Western Federation of Miners was responsible for the burning of the administration building at the university, but Frazer said he had never heard such a report

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 4 .-Special,)-Peter F. Roller, former private detective in San Francisco later an employe of the city of Seattle as sanitary inspector and now prisoner at the Oakland City Jall on a charge of having stolen $200 from D J. Morton in Berkeley, has told the police a story of a train robbery confession on the part of John Worthing-ton, in the Portigial jall, which has created some interest in police circles. They have taken sufficient stock in Roller's statement to write to the head of the Police Department at Portland concerning the alleged confession of Worthington

Detective Richard McSorley, who was in charge of Roller, stopped over at Portland with his prisoner, it was there that Roller was placed in a cell with Worthington. This prisoner told Roller, he says, that he was the ringleader of three men who held up and robbed the Great Northern Rallway in Montana, and that they secured $15,000, after dynamiting the strongbox.

Worthington went into details while of Worthington went into details while on his way to this city and related to De-tective McSorley what had been told him. AT HEILIG THEATER Tonight, December 5, 1907

Dramatic prima donnas may come and go, and rise and fall in the estimation of the public, but to a large number of opera-goers and music-lovers there is but one emotional soprano-but one exponent of such roles as Carmen and Santuzzo. Calve's Carmen, especially, is almost universally accepted as the greatest of all impersonations of the role.

Although her stay in America was very brief, comprising only the few weeks of her Manhattan engagement, Mmc. Calve found time to give to the Victor public four of her most famous numbers, including the favorite "Habanera," the intensely dramatic aria from Cavalleria, the beautiful song of Leila from Pearl of Brazil, and a surprise in the shape of a most touching rendition of the immertal "Swanee River," sung in English. Mme. Calve's exquisitely trained voice, always remarkable for its beautiful timbre and emotional quality, is now at its best, and never has she sung with such delightful finish and purity of tone.
