BUSIEST DAY IN THE HISTORY OF COURT

Four State Circuit Judges for Multnomah Have All They Can Attend To.

TERM OPENS WITH RUSH

Mill Decisions Rendered, Two Sentences Passed, Three Jury Trials 35 Arraignments Heard, 175 Orders Cleared.

With 175 orders disposed of, three decisions rendered. 35 arraignments heard, wo sentences passed, three jury trials rotten under way and 25 new cases set or hearing, the State Circuit Court for Mulinomah County completed the busiest day of its existence yesterday.

Four judges had all they could attend to, for after the enforced inaction of over two months, there were many matters putring immediate action. While three requiring immediate action. While three small jury trials were all that appeared on the calendar for the opening day, this made up a minute part of the day's work. With the opening of court yesterday morning the upper floor of the courthouse presented a busy scene. Scores of veniremen were at hand, summoned for jury service. Busy lawyers flustered here and there, happy once more in the unrestrained business of earning a livelihood. Litigants and court leungers filled in the mass of humanity. In the corridors before the courts took up their sessions, here was little room to move about.

Presiding Judge Cleland was the storm center all day. The lion's share of the work fell to him. He issued every one work fell to him. He issued every one of the 175 orders pertaining to all manner of litigation. When he was through with that, and incidentally having assigned the three jury trials to Judges Gantenbein, O'Day and Bronough, the Presiding Judge got to work placing new trials on the March calendar. After a breathing spell at the noon hour, he took up the arraignment of criminals, and those charged with criminal offenses. The first of these to he disposed of was that first of these to be disposed of was that first of these to be disposed of was that of the Title Guarantee & Trust aggrega-tion, and this occupied something over a half-hour, counting in the qualifying of bondsmen. After that, the other ar-raignments were heard and sentences re passed in two cases.

Since the middle of the Summer, when the young husband committed his strange crime and fied to San Francisco, Mrs. Gold-man has stood by him and done every-thing possible to get him out of trouble. Her departure from the court-house after she had heard the court's verdict was a touching spectacic. Gold-man pleaded guilty to the charge just before the heliday period and has been awaiting sentence since November.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS FILED

Husband Accuses Wife of Infidelity and a Wife Alleges Desertion.

Two divorce complaints were filed in the State Circuit Court yesterday. R. B. Jenry, after living with his wife, Sylvia J. Henry, for ten years, which he declares was filled with much blies and bappiness for other men than himself, brought sult yesterday. He says they were married November 15, 187, but that during the past Summer and Fall she has permitted men callers to remain at the house until unseemly hours. As Henry is a traveling man and compelled to be much away from home, he asserts that his wife's conduct caused much scandalous talk in the neighborhood, and

CHARGES AGAINST HITCHINGS

Shepherd Seeks in Complaint to Disbar Portland Attorney.

Charges against Attorney J. H. Hitch ings which may lead to disbarment pro ings which may lead to disbarment pro-ceedings have been made to the griev-ance committee of the State Bar As-sociation by George S. Shepherd, who accuses Hitchings of having made a proposition to Captain Bruin which the Bar Association cannot tolerate. Shepherd says Hitchings represented to Bruin that he was the attention for Shepherd says Hitchings represented to Bruin that he was the attorney for the owner of a Park-street apartmenthouse, and that the landilord wished to oust the tenant, but unless it should be charged with being a disreputable place, this sould not be done. Hitchings, it is said, then went on to tell Captain Bruin of an arrangement he had made with a disorderly woman to be in the building on a certain night, at which time Bruin was asked to make a raid.

a raid.
Shepherd says Hitchings informed Bruin that a fine present would await him at the station the next day if the raid was effected. The incident was told to Mr. Shepherd by Captain Bruin.

COURT WITHOUT JURISDICTION

Federal Judge May Only Adjust Damages on Water.

Admiralty suits can only be maintained in the Federal Court when the damages sought to be recovered are sustained in the water, according to a point raised in the Pederal Court yesterday by Attorney George S. Shepherd. Mrs. Mary Phelps Montgomery, executrix, had libeled the British ship Miltenburn for a claim of $75 or damages to the Montgomery dock, in this city. Attorney Shepherd demurred to the complaint, alleging that the injury had been done to property connecting with the land, and for that reason the pourt was without jurisdiction to try the ase, which properly belonged in a civil uit in the State Circuit Courts.

Recognizing the merit of the question of jurisdiction, Attorney Boothe, for the li-beilant, moved the dismissal of the suit. This is believed to be the first time the point has been raised in the Federal Court here.

Suit Over Rooming-House Furniture In Judge O'Day's department Sarah J.
B. Swank is suing C. P. Elwert, C. M. Elwert and A. Shubeck to recover $1500 damages because it is alleged the defendants entered her rooming-house at 385 Yamhill street and confiscated the furniture. The house was rented by Sarah Swank from Mrs. Elwert, and the former, it is asserted, was $30 behind with the rent. But very little of the testimony was taken yesterday, nearly the entire time being consumed in obtaining the The first man to receive sentence was M. F. Goldman, the young man who embezzled $224.78 from Sig Sichel & Company, while employed as a clerk at the firm's cigar store. Goldman was sentenced to 15 months in the penitentiary. It was a sharp blow to him that he did not get paroled, for he had rather been expecting some such leniency. But Judge Cleland said nothing about a parole and Goldman will turn his energies to the sock and stove-making profession.

Goldman took the sentence stolidly, but his young wife was nearly frantic.

Suit Against Street Railway.

been appointed guardian, Edwin Taft, 6 years old, is suing the Portland Railway Company in Judge Gantenbein's department of the Circuit Court to recover $10,000 for injuries sustained when he was run down by a car at East Morrison and Sixth streets on the night of September 29, 1906. The boy was crossing the track with his sister, when a west-bound car struck him, and, it is alleged, fractured his skull at the base, and cut and bruised his leg.

the suit brought against it by E. C. Ship-ley to recover damages because he was ejected from a Morrison-street car. The answer alleges that Shipley boarded a car going west, on June 25, last, having se-cured a transfer from a Mississippi-ave-nue car. As the transfer is alleged to have been an hour old the conductor refused it, whereupon Shipley is said to have become abusive, and to have used such profane language that the conductor endeavored to put him off. As Shipley resisted the motorman's efforts, help was called for. The company asks that the suit be dismissed.

Seeks to Clear Title.

Karl Fritsche, of Dresden, Germany, has filled a friendly suit in the Circuit Court against Bertha, Emilie, Karl and Anton Fritsche, in which he asks that the court construe the will of his father, Josef Fritsche, who died at Dresden, March 18, 1907. The property, consisting of four lots in Caruthers Addition, was left to the plaintiff and defendants in the suit. The plaintiff says that the last clause in the will provides that Karl Fritsche shall leave his share of half in the estate to his children. This clause, he asserts, casts a cloud over his prop-erty, and he asks the court to construe the will and clear the title.

Answer in Hop Suit.

In his answer to the suit brought against him by the Krebs Hop Company, E. J. Smith, of New York, admits that he was under a contract with the Krebs Company to purchase a given quantity of hops each season, the hops to be grown upon the Krebs Company's 400-acre yard. Smith alleges that the company offered him hops of an inferior grade and which were not grown upon the 400-acre place, and that he refused them. He says that in 1305, 1306 and 1307 the Krebs Company

William Reid, who recently purchased the ownership of the Columbia Timber Company and of the Goble, Nehalem & Pacific Railway Company from F. S. Stanley, L. C. Stanley, W. S. Dwinell and R. Smith, has brought suit against them schardalous tark in the neighborhood, and that he remonstrated with her and told her to mend her ways. He says the only property involved is two lots in Williamette Addition worth $450, and asks that his wife be adjudged to have no interest his wife be adjudged to have no interest.

their answer to the suit brought against them by F. E. Starbuck and J. W. Phenicle, demand judgment in the sum of $21 because it is alleged that the plaintiffs, who were under contract to construct a two-story flat for Mrs. Raims failed to do the work as well as the specifications called for

LICENSES FOR BREWERIES

All Breweries Will Be Exempt Fron State Law Prohibiting Liquor Dispensaries Near Schools.

The Weinhard Brewery was the chief subject of discussion at the regular meeting of the Council liquor license committee, held yesterday afternoon. After two hours' discussion, it w cided to fix a license of $400 a year for breweries as manufactories, thus exempting them from the law against liquo stores within 400 feet of a school building.

The application of C. F. Landerholm, for a transfer of a saloon license from South Portland to Twenty-first and Sher lock streets was denied. Mr. Vaughn was the only member voting for the

When the Weinhard Brewery matter came up, Mr. Vaughn moved to amend the proposed wholesale liquor dealers' li-cense so as to include all breweries, but this met with unanimous objection from the other members. Mr. Driscoll moved to make a separate ordinance for brew-eries, classifying them as manufacturers, and fixing their license at $400 a year. This carried, and the City Attorney will draft the measure, which will be recom-

During the discussion as to the proper classification for the Weinhard Brewery, Mr. Vaughn demanded to know of Mr. Bennett which the latter favored first in this matter—the Weinhard Brewery or the Atkinson School. Mr. Bennett said he held the school interests above those of the brewery, but that the brewery, being a big enterprise, and having been established in years efore the school, was despited to the school of convictors of convictors the school. serving of consideration. He declared himself unfavorable to the saloon busi-ness, as a whole, but said all business concerns must have fair treatment.

Councilman Wills spoke in favor of giv-ing the brewery a chance. Three school directors, if they should choose, he said, could put a $10,000,000 brewery out of busi-ness by using the state law which prohibits such institutions near public schools.

This he secured during the noon hour, with George Sorenson and J. J. Cusack as sureties.
