BATTLE WITH HUNGARIANS

Gary Police Kill Two and Capture 20 Who Mobbed Negro.

Several workmen were injured in a pitched battle last night between three policemen and 20 Hungarian laborers at Gary, Ind. Guns and revolvers were fired and knives thrown, but, though they were outnumbered ten to one, the policemen made seven arrests and stood their ground until reinforcements arrived, when 13 more men were captured. Several escaped through the sand dunes. The fight occurred at the camp of the Hungarians, one mile west of Gary, and the battle was of several hours' duration. The Hungarians had been working on the tracks of the South Bend Railroad. Several of their number destroyed the tent of a negro laborer, and when the negro sought redress at the camp, he was fired upon. A railroad watchman, who sought to aid the negro, also was compelled to flee for his life. Warrants then were sworn out and the policemen went to the scene. A shot answered his demand for surrender, and the battle followed.
