WANTED HERE FOR BIGAMY Seattle Police Authorities Asked to Arrest Arthur Norris.

At the request of Miss Hattle Benjamin. who resides with her mother at 27 Moore street, in Arleta, on the Mount Scott street railway line, a warrant was issued yesterday morning for the arrest of Ar-thur Norris, atlas Arthur Earlrich, for-merly of Portland, but now residing in Seattle, charging him with bigamy, and the police of the Sound city have been asked by telegraph to effect Norris' ar-rest. In the meantime arrangements are being perfected for the issuance of requi-sition papers to secure Norris' return to this city, so that he may he brought to trial for the charge made against him by Miss Benjamin. Miss Benjamin, who signed her com-plaint as Mrs. Hattle Benjamin Norris, asserts that she was married to Norris in Vancouver, Wash., hast October, and that after living with her for one month, he descreted her. street rallway line, a warrant was issued

She further assorts that after her desertion she was visited by Mrs. Belle Earlrich, who resides at Si Seventh street, in this city, and who made known the fact that Norris had married her two years before, in this city, under the name of Earlrich, and had descried her in about the same manner as he had Miss Benjamin; that there had never been a Benjamin; that there had never been a divorce annulling her mariage to Nor-ris, and that she desired to see Miss Ben-jamin relieved from her false position and the man brought to justice for his crime. Mrs. Earlrich told that she had crime. Ars. Earnen toid that see had seen Norris and Miss Benjamin together on the street one day and had hunted for weeks to find out who she was. This was not discovered until after Norris had left the city. Later, ascertaining Miss Benjamin's identity, she sought her out

Recently Norris wrote a letter Scattle to Miss Benjamin and told her to address him at that city care of the gen-eral delivery, and it is believed that the police will attempt to secure his arrest by means of a decoy letter.

A new policy, adopted by City Treasurer Werlein and announced by him for the first time yesterday afternoon, will prolong the life of Portland improvement bonds and increase their value. Instead of retiring bonds, as provided he may do of retiring bonds, as provided he may do by law, he will henceforth use the money paid by property-owners for assessments and will put it into bonds for the muni-cipality. In this manner, the bonds pay-ing 6 per cent interest will run for longer periods and command higher premiums. Treasurer Werlein availed himself of the opportunity for the first time yester-day in purchasing for the city $20,600 worth of the issue of improvement bonds offered for sale by the ways and means committee, which met in special session to dispose of them. He bought these at face value, a thing no other bidder could do, as they are worth more, and the committee almost inviriably secures a good premium. However, some were sold 226-228 Alder Street, Between First and Second Streets.

committee almost inversion secures a good premium. However, some were sold yesterday at par, as the issue was small, and there being another set of $300,000 worth coming on for disposal in the near future, it was desired to sell the entire lot, regardless of the fact that some went for less than any of recent date. A bid for $25,000 worth of the bonds by the United States National Bank, of Portiand, greatly encouraged the mem-bers of the ways and means committee, as for some time no bids have been re-ceived from any of the banks. In this case, accrued interest and 1 1-10 per cent was offered, evidence of the fact that the bonds are guite valuable paper and well worth the purchase price.
