Executive Committee Frames Circu lar Letter Setting Forth Plans and Calling for Subscriptions. Tells Success of Past Work.

Publicity work by the Portland Commercial Club during the past year in adcriising the State of Oregon and the City of Portland was so systematically and intelligently done that the executive mittee, at its meeting held yesterday fternoon, decided not only to continu he plans now in operation, but greatly o enlarge the scope of the work. In order to provide the necessary funds o carry out the elaborate scheme of pro-notion outlined by Manager Richardson, the committee authorized the issuance of a circular letter to be addressed to the financial, manufacturing, mercantile and shipping interests of the city, in which the purposes of the plan should be given. summary of the work already done and request made for additional financial aupport.

The members of the committee, who are among the leading business men of the Coast, expressed entire satisfaction with the manner in which the work had been carried on, and are heartily in favor of increasing the amount raised last year for publicity and colonization efforts. Mr. Richardson said last night that all the husiness men talked to on the subject willingly agreed to stay on the list of monthly subscribers and that a large number either doubled or materially increased the amount of their subscriptions. At the meeting of the committee, held at the offices of Theodore B. Wilcox, all the members were present with the ex-

It may be worthy of note at this time to state that no expenditures have been made except for actual promotion work, and that no salaries or expenses have been paid to any member of the committee with the exception of the manager. All bills for distursements are approved by the chairman before being paid.

Mr. Wilcox reported that he had advised Governor Chamberlain that the $5000 prize contest of the club had terminated on December 31, 1907, and requested the Governor to name the three judges to determine the awarding of the $0 prizes, those appointments to be made absolute.

It is not known exactly how many articles have been filed in this contest, for the reason that during the past month the submitted articles have been deposited each week in a safety deposit vault without keeping a record of the number. It was also decided that the committee would submit no publications containing would submit no publications containing articles that carried a date later than December 31, although several are now at the Commercial Club, printed in newspapers issued since the first of the year. The club has arranged a contract with Mrs. Frances K. Headles, in charge of the Information Bureau of the North Pacific, at Los Angeles, to represent this state. The contract calls for the display and distribution of lit-erature regarding Oregon in railroad and steamship lines, offices and other public places, and for a daily illustrat-ed lecture in the Chamber of Commerce where the audiences are largely busi-ness men and tourists from the East

About four months ago the executive committee voted an increase of salary to Tom Richardson, manager, from $6000 to $7500 a year to go into effect January I of this year. Visitors Always Increasing. For several months past the hotels have For several months past the notes have been crowded. The number of people visit-ing the Pacific Northwest is constantly upon the increase. Portland is each year adding many thousands to her population, and Ore-gon is rapidly becoming known as having the best Summer climate in the United States. The railroads reported 27.215 people arriv-ing in March and April, September and Oc-tober, 1907, or 227 people a day for this period of four months, as a result of the colonist rates, and by reading the daily papers we are familiar with this remark-able one-way travel, a great majority of it remaining as permanent residents. This travel will begin again March 1 of this

The committee desires to asknowledge the obligation due the newspapers of Portland and Oregon for helping along this work, for without such hearty co-operation as we have received on every hand, little good would have resulted. We send all the papers of Washington and Oregon a weekly letter, and the clionings that we the clippings that we have received from this source during the last year fill more than a thousand pages loxis inches, and as a matter of fact, do not get one-half of the matter that is printed.

The business men and people of Port-land circulated 750,000 leadets in their corland circulated 750,000 leaflets in their cor-respondence last year to every portion of the United States, as well as other coun-tries. Every one carried special emphasis on the colonist rate, and the half million that will be used in the Spring campaign of the present year are now being prepared and will soon be calling attention to the low rates prevailing between March 1 and April 20.

Carry on Work on Larger Scale.

The great activity of the past year in real estate, the unprecedented amount of new building in every city and town, the metropolitan crowds of people on the streets of Portland, the scarcity of houses not withtisanding the great number built last year, the better sidewalks and streets, and the general prosperity of the Northwest, have all been contributed to largely by the work of the Commercial Club and Oregon Development League, and we want to keep all of this work going, and to carry it on on a much larger scale than formerly. We have arranged to retain our present manager. Tom Richardson, for the year 1908, with W. L. Crissey as assistant.

The committee's fund was supported for the first year by 30 subscribers; the next year a few more came in; now there are 116 names on the subscription list, which is a very small portion of our community directly be ratical by the committee's work.

116 names on the subscription list, which is a very small portion of our community directly benefited by the committee's work. After going over the work thoroughly in all its details, the members of the committee are unanimously of the opinion that Portland, Or. and the Pacific Northwest have received far greater benefit than many times the expenditure, and we should have not less than 500 subscribers in order to provide funds for contemplated increase in work

The committee asks the co-operation of the financial, commercial, industrial, and property-owning interests of the city. We want to severise springly than beretofore, and we want to keep up the good work in the development of Oregon and the Pacific Northwest.

TROUBLE FOR GAS OCTOPUS

St. John Lighting Company Asks for Portland Franchise.

Application for a franchise to operate in Portland was made at yesterday's session of the City Council by the St. John Gas Light & Heating Company. The application was referred to the streets committee. It will be considered there in the usual routine, and the committee will then report to the Council.

The company sets forth in its petition that it will have a plant sufficient to give good service to a large district, and that it will increase its output and fur-nish gas to both St. John and Portland, if the franchise is granted. It offers to put up a good bond to secure the city and to complete $300,000 worth of work within the corporate limits within six months after the franchise becomes ef-fective. It is proposed to furnish firstinuting gas at 90 cents per 1000 cubic feet.

Arthur Swanson Accused of Trying to Board Car. But Protests His Innocence.

Arthur Swanson, 24 years old, was ar-rested this morning after 1 o'clock for what is believed by Fred Loy, night foreman of the car house of the Portland Rallway Company, to have been an at-tempt to hold up a streetcar at inhon avenue and Going street. Loy was in charge of the last car on the Alberta line, the crew having gone home, and alone he was running it into the barn for the night

At Going street Loy asserts that Swan on ran out from the sidewalk and with a black mask covering his face attempted to board the car. Loy ran the car at full speed and the man was struck and knocked down. Two blocks further down Union avenue Loy reported the facts to Policeman E. Adams, who returned with him in the car to where the man lay. Loy was positive that Swanson had worn a mask and believed that his effort to get on the car was nothing more nor less than an attempt to hold

Swanson, however, when examined, had no weapon, and no mask about his low rates prevailing between March 1 and April 30.

The press bureau work of the club is already quite extensive, as articles are being supplied to numerous publications, while stories of news value, giving facts of importance, have been published in hundreds of papers, and this has been particularly true of the country papers in the older states. Our advertising in agricultural papers and the weekly editions of the large city papers has met with remarkable success, and 17,000 inquiries coming through this source have been supplied to all the 77 organisations now composing the Oregon Development League, When one understands that more than one-half of these commercial bodies are replying to these inquiries, it shows an extraordinary circulation of Oregon Regene.

As a direct result of the work of the Gregon Development League, over $100,000 has been raised by commercial bodies throughout the State ta be expended in advertising, and some of the communities are spending a very much larger sum proportionately than is Portland. Astoria is carrying on an especially active campaign, and Coos Bay and its active towns are doing their part. The same is true with Ashiand, Medford and Grants Pass in Southern Oregon. Eugene, Salem. Hood River. Corvalls, Baker City, The Dalles and many of the smaller slaces.
