EAST MORRISON.-Notice Is bing given for the improvement of East Morrison street, between Union avenue aid the east line of East Seventh street with asphalt on a concrete foundation. The estimated cost is $7458. It has not yt been decided what kind of pavement will be used on East Morrison street, be-tween Union avenue and the bridge, al-trough the City Engineer has the matter under consideration. It is difficult to de-ede what is best for this street owing to the fact the embankment is not yet two years old. The plank on the roadway has just been repaired. Owing to the present heavy travel on East Morrison street it is thought that it will have to be praved with stone blocks.

Yesterday we saw people standing in front of Beef Trust market handling and feeling the meat—they then passed on, leaving the meat for somebody else to buy.

When you can get the best of Oregon meats at Smith's, so fresh, and clean, and cheap, weighed on honest scales, how can any loyal resident of Portland enter the shops of the iniquitous Chicago Beef Trust and buy inferior meats weighed upon scales that can be "fixed"?

OCTOPUS NOW REACHING OUT FOR MINES.

Secretary of American Mining Congress Points Out Danger From Great Rockefeller Corporation.

If the mineowners of the United States are to protect their interests and main-tain operations on their mines they must tain operations on their mines they must take radical action to free themselves from the domination of the American Smelting & Refining Company, according to James F. Calibreath, Jr., of Denver, secretary of the American Mining Congress, who spent yesterday in Portland. The smelting trust, said to be controlled by the Standard Oll Company, has not only completely monopolized the smelting business of the country, but is, he says, trying to get control of the gold and sli-

"The committee of the Mining Congress has considered three means of freeing ore producers from the oppression of the smelting trust." said Mr. Callbreath, "The first was to attack the American Smelting & Refining Company under the Federal anti-trust law; the second to apply to the several states for the establishment of reasonable rates, and the third to build independent smelters and take care of our own ores. The last method has been adopted.

"In following out the policy meetings have already been held at Salt Lake and Helena. In a single day after the Hel-ena session $100,000 was subscribed for an independent smelter, and the miners an independent smelter, and the miners have agreed to complete the amount of $1.500.00 by February 17, when another meeting is to be held.

"Another meeting of ore producers from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montans and Alaska is to be held at Seattle March 23 and 24. This session was originally called to discuss changes in the mining laws of Alaska. Its scope has now been broadened, however, and the smelting problem will be one of the chief subjects of discussion. There will also be consideration of the transportaalso be consideration of the transportation needs of mineowners of the states

AT SEA WITHOUT COMPASS

Thrilling Experience of Stormswept Bark Pierre Antonine.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Jan. 24. (Special.)—Seventeen days at sea on the Pacific without a compass to aid navigation, every hour of which was spent fighting gales, was one of the series of incidents that marked the voyage of the French bark Pierre Antonine, which arrived today.

In a gale encountered near 36 degrees north intitude, January 8, every compass aboard the vessel was carried away or damaged beyond usefulness. The storm carried away or destroyed every lifeboat of the ship, swept sails and iron belt stays aside like twine fastenings, twisted steel rails and other deck equipment into gnarled masses, and otherwise mauled Despite her terrible experiences, all aboard are well

RACING SOUTH WITH FISH

Steamers Bringing Alaskan Halibut for Seattle Markets.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 24 .- (Special.)-Three steamships, laden with halbut, are racing south from Southeastern Alaskan ports for Seattle. The first boat to reach this port will command the best price for the fish, and dealers are watching the contest with interest

The vessels are City of Scattle, Toledo and Bertha. Each is known to be bring-ing a good load of fresh fish for the local market. Dealers expect that the fish first to reach Seattle will command a price of 7 cents a pound, which was paid for fresh hallbut brought south on the Jefferson last week. This is a record high price for the fish.
