KILLED IN CABIN

Japanese and His Wife Found Murdered at Stella, Wash.

MOTIVE THOUGHT REVENGE

Passerby Finds Body of Man Outside and Wife Just Inside Door. Different-Sized Guns for Each. Coroner's Jury Reports.

STELLA, Wash., Feb. 2.—(Special.)—Maka Yasui, a Japanese, and his wife, both employed at the Bunker Hill quarry, a half mile west of here, were found dead at their cabin in the quarry late Saturday afternoon. Both had been murdered and the deed had evidently been committed 24 hours or more before the bodies were discovered. The woman had been shot twice with a .38-caliber revolver and the man had four bullet holes in him inflicted by a .45-caliber gun. The matter was immediately reported to the Coroner of Cowlitz County. An inquest was held late Saturday night and a verdict of death at the "hands of persons or person unknown" was returned by the jury, which sat on the remains. The Sheriff is working on the case.

COMMISSION CAN REDUCE RATE

No Need for Popular Action—Whitcombe Defends Appropriation.

ALBANY, Or., Feb. 2.—(Special.)—That the Oregon Railroad Commission can reduce the railroad passenger rate in Oregon to a cent a mile if it so desires was the opinion expressed by State Railroad Commissioner Oswald West in an address before the Linn County Council, Patrons of Husbandry, in this city yesterday afternoon. The Linn County Council has been forming plans to secure the 2-cent rate by the enactment of a law by initiative, but Mr. West told them that such an act was not necessary and that the power to establish such a rate rests absolutely with the Railroad Commission.

BEGINS QUIET LIFE

Thaw Enters on the Simple Asylum Round.

MATTEWAN, N. Y., Feb. 2.—Harry K. Thaw began today the routine of a simple life which the authorities at the state hospital for the criminal insane say will make his long stay in the Tombs Prison in New York City seem like the height of gaudy in comparison. The new patient in the observation ward slept soundly last night, the presence of 50 other men in the dormitory not giving him the slightest concern. He arose this morning at 6 o'clock and ate a hearty breakfast at the "knife and fork table." Only 54 men out of the more than 700 in the institution are allowed this privilege, the others being restricted to spoons.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Governor Charles E. Hughes made a trenchant plea for abolition of race-track gambling in a speech delivered today at a mass meeting of the Citizens' Anti-Race-Gambling Campaign, in the Majestic Theater, Brooklyn. He said that much had been heard about improving the breed of horses, which he was in favor of, but that he was also in favor of having the breed of men improved. Joseph H. Choate presided over the meeting, which was largely attended by representative citizens. A resolution strongly supporting Governor Hughes' position and requesting legislative committees to report out three bills already drawn to prevent race-track gambling was passed.

DELAYED IN COURT

Government Suit Against the Standard Oil Still Pending.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 2.—The American tomorrow will publish an interview with United States Attorney-General Charles J. Bonaparte, in the course of which he said: "The suit against the Union Pacific Railroad is now in the District Court of Utah. It will most probably reach the United States Supreme Court. I am doing all in my power to expedite the case. These courts move slowly. The delay in the Standard Oil case has arisen through no fault of the Government. Counsel for the Standard Oil Company asked the Court of Appeals to certify to certain questions to be carried by the Supreme Court. The appeal will yet be heard by the appellate court."

Attorney-General Tells Hearst's America He Is Doing All Possible to Expedite Case Against Union Pacific Railroad.

CRITICISES HUGHES' VIEWS

Bonaparte Tells What He Knows About Fighting Corporations.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 2.—After having declined to express his views on the recent message sent to Congress by President Roosevelt and also on the speech delivered by Governor Hughes of New York, United States Attorney-General Charles J. Bonaparte today dictated the following to the Sun: "There is one matter, however, about which I can speak with knowledge. If great clusters of corporations, such as the Standard Oil Company, the Tobacco Trust, the Powder Trust and the well known railroad systems are not to be punished by fines imposed on convicted corporations, this means that in 99 cases out of 100 they will not be punished at all. It is often possible to obtain legal proof on which to convict the corporation when it will be altogether impossible to obtain evidence to satisfy a jury against any one of its superior officers. This statement may seem a little strange to persons inexperienced in criminal law, but a lawyer who has to enforce such statutes as the anti-trust laws will soon learn its truth."

WOOD CHIEF MATERIAL

Small Percentage of Building Erected of Cement or Brick.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In a report today regarding building operations and the timber supply the Geological Survey says that the increasing price of lumber and a rapidly increasing use of perfected fire proof systems of construction should do much in holding down the amount which forests are called upon to yield each year. The report says that the use of cement and other fire proof materials, the use of reinforced concrete, the use of steel in the building of cities of the United States for the year collected by the Geological Survey, show that 20 per cent. of cities wood is usually the predominant building material and it is safe to say that if the statistics had included figures for all places of whatever size, the percentage of wooden construction would have been much greater. These figures, as a rule, are for the corporate limits only.

SHIPWRECK IS THRILLING

CREW JIAS ADVENTURE WITH PIRATICAL NEGROES.

HAMBURG, Feb. 2.—A thrilling account of the shipwreck of the Woermann liner Ascan Woermann, which recently went on the rocks off Grand Bassa, Liberia, and became a total wreck, is related by the sailors of the steamer who have arrived here. The night the steamer struck was a dark one, and she seemed to be going to pieces rapidly. The crew took to the boats and immediately thousands of piratical negroes in canoes surrounded the steamer, swarmed aboard and plundered her. The seamen feared to land on the hostile coast in the darkness and were compelled to stay in the small boats throughout the night. When morning came the crew lauded and camped in the brush for several days, always fearful of an attack.

Soda's Scientific March Up

YOUTH'S COMPANION. Professor W. A. Noyes of the University of Illinois, remarks that we consider that practically all the soda used to make soap is now manufactured from salt. It is hard to believe that 100 years ago it was almost exclusively from the potash of wood ashes, or from natural soda, the supply of which was very limited. Soda from salt was first made in France in 1791 by Le Blanc, but not until 1823, in England, was the industry successfully established. Then the Le Blanc process held undisputed sway for 50 years. But the chemists attacked the problem again, and the production of soda from ammonia began to displace the older process, in which sulphuric acid was used. Still the chemists went ahead, and now electricity has been called into play, and the ammonia soda, in turn, is giving place to electrolytic soda.
