GEORGE L. BAKER RETURNS

HOME AFTER TRIP TO DENVER AND CALIFORNIA. Announces Restoration of Salaries of Baker Players—Stock Managers Organize.

George L. Baker is back in town and the weather forecaster predicts fair weather for tomorrow. A good thing George came back, for things always live up when the big theatrical magnate and proper model of theatrical magnates, returns from his wanderings.

The principal item of news that he has to give out on his return home is that the Baker Theater Company will be restored to full salaries at the beginning of the engagement of Isetta Jewell as leading woman, week after next. When the financial stringency struck town Mr. Baker cut the salaries of his players 15 per cent, which reduction was accepted with good grace by all members of the organization, excepting the late leading man and woman.

Now the loyal members of the company are to receive their full salaries on and after the opening performance of "In the Bishop's Carriage." Mr. Baker announces that the Denver company is making splendid progress and that Walter Reed, who is the local manager, has established a fine record in the Colorado metropolis.

During his absence from Portland Mr. Baker assisted in an organization of the stock managers of the Pacific slope, which organization includes the managers of the stock theaters at Portland and Denver, both Baker enterprises; the Belasco and Alcazar at Los Angeles and San Francisco, the Morosco and the Garrick at San Diego. The intention is to institute a "wheel," by which leading people will alternate in turn to house to the other, thus permitting the public to see the best stock actors and actresses in America during a single season.

The new arrangement will affect Portland with the coming of Isetta Jewell week after next, she to be followed in two weeks by the new leading woman to be succeeded by Blanche Stoddard, who will be followed by Adele Black. Mr. Baker, who is one of the most useful members of the City Council, gathered considerable information concerning methods of municipal government in the cities he visited, some of which he will attempt to apply to the local city government.

SIX-DAY RACE HALF OVER

Third Night Develops Wildly Exciting Finish at Oaks Rink.

The third night of the six days' race at the Oaks rink proved to be the most exciting yet, and the large crowd entered thoroughly into the enthusiasm of the race. The feature was the wildly exciting finish between Card and Kruse, who were in a neck-and-neck race, the latter being second and third respectively. Holt made the same distance, 99 laps, or 11 miles, but owing to a foul with Kruse, was fined a lap. Rose Copeland had a nasty fall and lost one lap. Brown of Tacoma skated 92 1/2 laps. Harrison of Seattle skated 7 1/2 laps. All of the participants skated in first-class form and the race was in earnest from the crack of the starter's pistol. Card's skating excited general admiration.
