Other Rules Making for a Higher Athletic Standard.

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—College athletes of the Northwest may not in the future take part in more than four years of intercollegiate sport nor can they go from one school to another and play in the new school the first year after changing.

These rules were passed today by the Northwest Intercollegiate Athletic Conference of the universities of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, Washington State College, Oregon Agricultural College and Whitman College.

Today's sessions were taken up with the discussion of residence and eligibility rules. The question of amateurism was deferred till tomorrow, as some trouble over the matter of Summer baseball is expected.

Four Rules Passed.

The rules passed today are as follows: No student shall play more than four years of intercollegiate athletics in the Northwest, irrespective of whether he is a college or preparatory student at the time of playing.

A student coming to a school from another institution of college grade shall not take part in intercollegiate athletics until he shall have been in residence a year.

No preparatory student, whether he comes from another school or not, shall play until he has been in residence a year.

No student shall be eligible who shall not have passed in three-fourths of a year's work; no one shall play who shall be delinquent in more than half a year's work. Students employed by the college may play if they are not receiving more than $20 a semester for their services and fulfill all other requirements.

DAILY AGAIN DEFEATS CLINE

Several canoe enthusiasts met last week and decided to call a meeting to which all interested in canoeing or aquatic sports are invited. The meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at the Oregon Yacht Club. It is proposed, in the event an organization is perfected, to affiliate with the Pacific Canoe Association. The purpose of the proposed organization is to promote, foster, and control canoe and canoe races on the waters of the Willamette and Columbia rivers and tributary streams. It is also hoped to have a representative league of canoeists go to several British Columbia cities during the coming summer.

Great Finish in Six-Day Race.

The six-day roller skating contest at the Oaks last night was again marked by a great finish. Carl, the man who has consistently maintained the lead during the five days the tourney has lasted, again demonstrated his ability by keeping ahead of the other skaters until the spurts of the leaders offset any advantage they may have gained. Tonight will mark the finish of the six-day event, while tomorrow an exhibition five-mile contest will be held at the rink.

Bowler to Defend Title.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 7.—Joe F. Morris, champion bowler of the West, left for Cincinnati this morning, where he will compete in the match for the championship of the world, Morris won the championship of the Western Bowling Congress at Denver last year with a score of 678 for three games. BASKETBALL ON SKATES

Hill Military Academy vs. High School at Expo Rink Tonight.

Tonight the second game of the series of basketball on skates between H. M. A. and P. H. S. will take place at the Expo rink at 8 o'clock. The Hill boys won the first game and the high school boys have had their dander up ever since, and by hard and constant practice have overcome their former weakness. The game promises much excitement and a big crowd of rooters. There will be skating before the game and until 11 p. m. after the game and all are invited to inspect skaters and it is impossible to imagine how fast and skillfully they fairly fly over the floor. The game is played on skates the same as on foot. The line-up is as follows:

P. H. S. Position. H. M. A. Position. P. H. S. Position. H. M. A. Position. P. H. S. Position. H. M. A. Position. P. H. S. Position. H. M. A. Position. P. H. S. Position. H. M. A. Position.

The Columbia lads started off like a whirlwind and seemed determined to maintain their lead in the basketball league race. They played so fast and so strong that they literally swept the Academy boys off their feet and piled up score after score, which practically set-

STORY OF ASSASSIN

Manuel Buissa Vicious Both as Boy and Man.

WAS EXPELLED FROM ARMY

Father Made Him Soldier to Stop Career of Dissipation—Became a Teacher and Violent Republican Agitator in Lisbon.

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 7.—The life story of Manuel Buissa, leader of the band that assassinated King Carlos and Crown Prince Luis, at Lisbon, last Saturday, has been obtained in this city from a servant in the Vinhaes district, Province of Braganza, near Oporto, Portugal. He was a son of the Abbe of Vinhaes, and as a boy went to the lyceum at Braganza. He had nine brothers and sisters, and one of his sisters named Belmira lived until a short time ago in this city.

Manuel was not the first criminal in the family. One of his aunts killed a man in his employ, when she found that her husband was making love to the woman. She was arrested and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment in Africa.

Victims as Boy and Soldier.

As a boy, Manuel Buissa was quarrelsome and audacious, but cowardly. He was sent to the lyceum at Braganza, but he was expelled for the murder of a bad student and as having a vicious character. The life he led in Braganza made it necessary for his father to put him into the army and he was consequently enrolled in the Seventh Cavalry Regiment of Braganza.

Even in the Army he was a hard youth to control, but in spite of off-accepted punishments, he managed to gain the grade of sergeant. He continued a dissipated mode of life and was transferred from Braganza to a regiment on duty at Alvas, on the frontier. He had a serious brawl with six soldiers. For this offense he was court-martialed and condemned to serve a term in prison, after which he was expelled from the army.

Teacher and Republican.

Buissa then returned to his native village of Vinhaes. Thanks to the influence of his father, he was given an opportunity to become a school teacher, and it then seemed to him that he was going to reform and settle down. He studied hard and after a year went to Braganza, where he graduated from the district schools. Buissa was intelligent, and, as he devoted himself to his studies, he was soon given a minor professorship and obtained his diploma. After this he was sent to the National college at Lisbon as a professor, a post which he filled up to the time of his death.

During the last few years Buissa was a Republican in politics and he had friendly relations with the Socialist party. He became a free-thinker and it was his custom to defend his political ideas in open discussion in the streets and in the cafes of Lisbon.

Buissa's friend, who supplied the foregoing information, does not think he accepted money for the commission of the crime. Manuel Buissa was vicious and wicked in many ways, but he was above taking money for murder. Buissa's family is well off, not to say wealthy, and still lives at Vinhaes.
