

DECLARES BRAIN MUST APOLOGIZE

Cameron Resents Alleged Inference That He Showed Favoritism to Fritz.

BARS CAPTAIN FROM COURT

Charges Against North End Saloon Dismissed by Committee on Promise of Proprietor to Obey Law.

Accepting a statement made by Captain Brain as an insinuation that he had shown favoritism from the bench to Fred Fritz, a saloonkeeper, Municipal Judge Cameron yesterday demanded an explanation from the Chief of Detectives. Although the Captain declared he had not meant any insinuation against Judge Cameron, the latter was not satisfied and subsequently asserted that he would not allow Captain Brain to testify in the Municipal Court until he apologized.

The clash between Judge Cameron and Captain Brain occurred before the license committee of the Council during a hearing of charges against the Fritz saloon, which is located at Second and Burnside streets. After the meeting had ended, Captain Brain declared he did not consider any apology due Judge Cameron and that he would make none.

The remark Judge Cameron so hotly resented was made in regard to a recent forfeiture of $100 out of $200 bail money, put up by Fritz "without cause" after the meeting had ended. Captain Brain declared he did not consider any apology due Judge Cameron and that he would make none.

Assistant City Attorney Grant then asked Captain Brain if he meant any insinuation against Judge Cameron, to which the officer replied that he did not mean his remarks that way. Captain Brain admitted he did not know of anything wrong about the forfeiture.

"I demand, Mr. Chairman, that you inquire upon Captain Brain's conduct, and if you find anything wrong about it, I demand that you make it known to the public," said Judge Cameron. "I want to know if he includes me in the bunch; I demand to know what he means by what he has said," occupy a judicial position, and have a way to ascertain his meaning if you cannot."

Some of the Councilmen visited the Fritz resort, as did also Assistant City Attorney Grant, and all agreed that it was not a proper place, as at present conducted.

Fallon License Transferred.

Over the vigorous protest of Councilman Vaughn, the committee voted to transfer the license of Tom Fallon, which was recently revoked, to J. A. Duffy, who has been bartender for Fallon for several months. It was said by Councilman Driscoll that Duffy had never been in trouble of any kind and that the saloon would be made clean of drugs and criminals. Captain Brain, however, said that Duffy once misrepresented to him the character of three men found in Fallon's saloon.

Councilman Vaughn declared that "birds of a feather flock together" and said he was opposed to this transfer; that the same action was taken in the case of John Albert and that it looked as though, when a license was revoked, it was easy to have it transferred to some one else.

"Mr. Vaughn, don't you think Mr. Duffy is as good a man as you are?" asked Councilman Driscoll. "I think he's fully as good as you are, but I would hate to think he is one-half as good as I am," hotly replied Mr. Vaughn.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" MAKES HIT

Great Comedy at the Baker Theater This Week.

"Greater than 'Charley's Aunt,'" declares the latter-day press agent when launching the new comedy, "Charley's Aunt," upon the public, but after a season or two the new play goes down to oblivion, while the great original is still drawing packed houses. The performance of "Charley's Aunt" is not an exception, for the crowds are larger than can well be accommodated. Howard Russell as the hero and Miss Gessman as the real aunt, William Dille and all the rest of the company are excellently cast. Matinee Saturday only.

"The Lawyer and the Lady."

The big event in local theatricals during the present week is the first production on any American stage of Franklin Elyer's new rural comedy-drama, "The Lawyer and the Lady," which according to the program will last night on the occasion of its first presentation by the Allen Stock Company at the Lyric. The features which attracted the greatest attention were the quality of the singers and the realistic, rainstorm effect. There will be a matinee today and the wise show-shoppers will be there.

DEMANDS $10,800 DAMAGES

Nettle Brown Sues Owner of Building That Lacked Fire Escape.

Because Joseph Paquet had failed to provide the Alpine House, at East Morrison and East Water streets, which was burned February 11, 1906, with fire-escapes, Nettle Brown has brought suit against him to recover $10,800 damages. The city ordinance calling for property protection against fire is cited in the complaint, filed in the Circuit Court, and the plaintiff says she was compelled to jump from the top story to the ground, dislocating her hip, and bruising her back. She says this is worth $10,000, the physical care was $200, and that the wages lost, at $15 a week, amounted to $600.

Court Notes.

John Bunn and Mary Ansel were acquitted yesterday by a jury in Judge Broth's department of the Circuit Court of a statutory charge.

Herman Enke has brought suit in the Circuit Court against Hans O. S. von Homeyer and Minnie von Homeyer to foreclose a mortgage for $1200 on lots 1 and 2, block 17, Alberta. He alleges that a note for this amount was made by the Homeyers in October last, but that only $25 was paid. He therefore sues for $1175.

Judge O'Day of the Circuit Court yesterday denied the motion for a non-suit, introduced by the attorneys for the defendant in the suit of David Wilkie against Paquet, Gleblish and Jolly to recover $800 damages. Wilkie, while former of operations on the Brooklyn sewer, was struck by dirt from the bucket-dump, and alleged he was internally injured. The case will be continued today.

TRIBUTE TO DEAD PIONEER

Friend Tells of the Many Qualities of Chauncey Dale.

Chauncey Dale, who died Saturday evening, February 8, at his late residence in the Union block, this city, was one of the oldest Oddfellows in the state. He has been a prominent member of that order for more than 40 years, as well as a prominent Knight of Pythias. Fraternity was his religion, humanity his watchword—and many a life has felt the touch of his kindly, generous hand, and many bereaved ones have been helped by his ready sympathy.

Mr. Dale was born near Rochester, N. Y., January 25, 1822, and was 85 years, 24 days old at the time of his death. He was a long, well-spent life, full of kind, noble deeds and generous, helpful acts. He was the soul of honor and integrity, big-hearted and hospitable, and those of his friends mourn the loss of a true and tried friend.

view to become the wife of Franklin Trap. The mother declares that the girl is completely under the influence of Trap, who they say is a hanger-on at cheap vaudeville theaters and whose only motive in taking the girl as his wife is to put her on the stage. Last week the mother gave her consent to the marriage, and last Saturday a marriage license was taken out, but in the meantime some one told the mother what the probable fate of her daughter would be once she became Mrs. Trap, and she went to the County Auditor's office and withdrew her consent to the wedding.

CHARGES ALL VISIONARY

Grand Jury Condemns Brosius. Crow Scandal Going to Congress.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 10.—The Federal grand jury, which has been in session here for 49 days investigating the charge of irregularities on the Crow Indian reservation, late today submitted its report to Judge W. H. Hunt, Major Recorder, agent of the reservation, was exonerated and the charges by Special Agent Brosius, of the Indian Rights Association, are characterized as visionary. Mr. Brosius' failure to appear before the grand jury to support his charge is termed "reprehensible conduct."

The jury failed to return a true bill against Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray, the magazine writer, who was accused several months ago on the charge of accepting money from the Indians of the reservation without the consent of the Secretary of the Interior. Mrs. Gray was responsible for the Indian Rights Association's sending Mr. Brosius to the reservation, and she declared tonight that she would tomorrow leave for Washington to demand a Congressional investigation of the Crow reservation.

M. K. Sniffen, secretary of the Indian Rights Association, who is here from Philadelphia, says he will co-operate with Mrs. Gray in her efforts to have a Congressional inquiry.

WHERE SAN DIEGO SCORED ASSET CURRENCY. The people of Portland, Or., are rejoicing because their city is "the first in the country to present a clean sheet following the recent financial flurry," as the Portland Telegram explains. The banks of that city issued $1,400,000 in asset currency maturing on the first of this month. The last of it was redeemed three days before that date. This is a showing of which the Portland business men have reason to be proud. It is all the better because at one time the situation in the northern city threatened to become especially acute.

WHERE SAN DIEGO SCORED ASSET CURRENCY. But if Portland has cause for pride in being the first to retire its asset currency, how much more satisfaction should there be in cities that were on so sound a basis that they could weather the storm without resort to clearing-house certificates? San Diego was by itself in that class on the Pacific Coast, no other city of like size and volume of business being able to tide-over the trouble without asset money. And the Union has reason to know that the manner in which San Diego met that financial crisis and passed it did wonders in strengthening this city in the estimation of the outside world. Even now, newcomers express surprise and admiration when they learn that San Diego issued no clearing-house certificates. One of the first questions of many visitors is as to the amount of the supposed issue, and when they are told that San Diego went through the flurry on a hard-money basis, their confidence in the city is manifestly increased. Cities that tided over the trouble with asset currency, did well; those that were able quickly to retire it, did better; those that did not have to issue it, did best of all.—Editorial, San Diego Union.

WHERE SAN DIEGO SCORED ASSET CURRENCY. That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

WHERE SAN DIEGO SCORED ASSET CURRENCY. While we admit the above is true in many respects, Portland is famous beyond this reference. There was one bank in Portland, Or., which did not take advantage of asset currency, holidays, time limits, or place any limit on amount of withdrawals, but was "open all the time" on an "all-gold" basis. That one was the German-American Bank. No other city of any importance on the entire Coast—not even our southern suburb, sunkissed sister, San Diego, can boast of this. But of course the president and some of the stockholders of the German-American Bank are from San Diego, and you fellows down there will claim this credit after all. California always would beat in the argument.—X. Y. Z. Editorial, Portland.
