RULE THE WIRELESS

Roosevelt Asks Congress for Legislation.

STOP ALL INTERFERENCE

President Would Give Government Precedence and Punish Interference With Official Messages by Private Wireless Stations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The President today transmitted to the Senate with his approval a recommendation by the Secretary of the Navy for legislation to allow the Government to control wireless telegraphy in order to insure non-interference with official messages. The following recommendations are made:

Making punishable the transmission of a false message purporting to be official, breaking in or interfering with wireless stations while they are transmitting an official message, and refusing to cease sending a public wireless message when called upon to do so by an operator having an official message to be sent.

The purpose of asking Government control of wireless telegraphy to the extent outlined is shown further by one paragraph of a letter written by Secretady Metcalf, as follows:

Frequent occasions have arisen to illustrate the possible consequence of wireless interference. On one occasion an important message to the President of the United States while embarked on a naval vessel, was interfered with and held up for a considerable time by the workings of a commercial station; instances have occurred wherein the naval stations at Newport, Washington and San Francisco have at different times been interfered with by persons operating with no serious object.

BLAMES BOTH FOR PANIC

Black Puts Roosevelt and Bryan in Same Category.

BOSTON, Feb. 13.—Ex-Governor Frank S. Black, of New York, and Congressman Henry T. Bannon, of Portsmouth, O., were the principal speakers at the annual dinner of the Home Market Club, a leading high tariff Republican organization, held at the Hotel Somerset tonight. Mr. Black reviewed the business situation of the country and, although he did not mention President Roosevelt by name much, his address was a criticism of the Administration which Mr. Black said was partially responsible for the depression.

The ex-Governor, referring to W. J. Bryan indirectly, thought he and the President were engaged in "rivalry to see who can say the most and worst." The speaker said that "the two great political parties, once so proud and militant, are playthings in the hands of two men whom the intelligence of the country rejects."

Congressman Bannon discussed the tariff at length and advocated a continuance of the present policy of protection for American industries.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 13.—On representations made by George A. Fernald & Co., a banking firm of Boston, the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville Railroad Company was placed in the hands of a receiver in the United States Circuit Court today. James Goodrich was appointed receiver, and after filing a bond of $60,000 left tonight for Cincinnati to take charge of the property.

The Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville Railroad is known as the "Short Line" between Chicago and Cincinnati, its line between those cities being 286 miles in length. It was built about seven years ago and maintains good train service.

U. OF O. AGAINST MULTNOMAH

Basketball Game at M. A. A. C. Gymnasium Tomorrow Night.

The crack basketball team of the University of Oregon will arrive in Portland tomorrow morning after a ten days' trip through Idaho and Washington to play the Multonomah team at night. This promises to be one of the best games of the season as the teams are very evenly matched. Oregon comes here with a great record, having just defeated the University of Idaho in a close and exciting game by the score of 15 to 13. Multnomah has the best team in its history and with careful coaching and hard practicing will be able to hold its own with any team. The team has made some slight changes in its line-up having switched Captiain Bellinger from center to forward where he is playing a beautiful game. Morris, a newly developed player, has been placed in center and is proving a fine man for the place. The rest of the team is practically the same. The line-up tomorrow night will be:

Multnomah.	Position.	Oregon.
Bellinger	Forward	Moore
Dent	Forward	Van Scoy
Morris	Center	Loosley
Barton	Guard	Strong
Allen	Guard	Farrington

WHITMAN DEFEATS OREGON

Varsity Basketball Team Vanquished by the Missionaries.

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Whitman's basketball team tonight took a game from the representatives of the University of Oregon, the score being 33 to 21. In general team work the home team was superior, but while it kept possession of the ball much of the time, it missed many chances at goals. Oregon started out in the lead, but the score was tied, 8 to 8, at the end of the first half.

The teams were: Oregon—Stevens and Loosly, centers; Van Scoy, Moore and Watson, forwards; Charman and Ferrington, guards. Whitman—Rigsby, center; Belt and Barnes, forwards; Butcher and Felthouse, guards.

Referee, Murphy, Oregon. Umpire, Mitchell, Whitman.

Theaters Close Sunday.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 13.—A special to the Independent, from Great Falls, says:

County Attorney J. W. Speer today notified managers of theaters that Sunday closing of playhouses will be enforced after March 1. The action is the result of the campaign waged by local ministers, and the theatrical managers intimate that they will fight the order.

ANDERSON IS OWNER

Raincoat Plays Prominent Part in Murder Trial.

FOUND AFTER TRAGEDY

State's Witnesses Identify Garment as Property of Alleged Slayer of Harry Logan—Revolver and Belt Also Before Jury.

To the black mackintosh said to have been worn by Joe Anderson on the night of October 24, when Harry M. Logan was killed, and later found under the South Fourth-street trestle, and to the revolver with the number erased and the belt of cartridges found in the slough near Andersons' room at 482 East Washington street, all links in the chain of evidence connecting Anderson with the murder of Logan, October 24, the attention of the jury was called in the trial of the murder case yesterday afternoon in Judge Bronough's department of the Circuit Court.

The testimony adduced by the state yesterday was to the effect that Anderson bought the raincoat at the Salvation Army store on the East Side, that on the night of the murder he was seen with it over his arm in a saloon at 649 First street; that it was found at 8:10 o'clock the next morning by a newspaper reporter, under the bridge where it had apparently been hastily thrown. Thomas J. Maher said that on the night after he had seen Anderson with the coat, while he was sitting in the same saloon, warming himself, Anderson rushed in, apparently very nervous, and entered a back room, motioning as he passed for Maher to follow him. Maher said he went into the back room, where Anderson asked him whether any one had questioned him concerning seeing the black coat the night before. Anderson warned witness to deny having seen Anderson with the coat on the night of the killing. If any one should ask concerning the matter, Maher said he had known Anderson for 14 years.

Identified by Woman.

C. H. Tichenor, a city detective, said that when the coat was found he went with Police Sergeant Jones to the Salvation Army store and found that the coat had been sold to Anderson. He said the defendant was afterward positively identified at the City Jail by Mrs. F. H. Bennett as the man who bought the coat.

"The Salvation Army people told me some of the peculiarities of the defendant," said Tichenor, "and remarked that he talked as though he had his mouth full of hot mush. Anderson was smooth-shaven at the time he bought the coat.

"When Mr. Jones and I went to arrest Anderson we located him at 482 East Washington street. As I went in, Jones following, Anderson saw me at the same moment I saw him, and darted down cellar and clambered out the window. It was very dark in the cellar, so I had to feel my way. When I got down I saw Anderson had gone out the window. Jones and I ran back upstairs and out of doors. There I found Anderson going hand over hand along a scantling which spanned the gulch. It was a sheer drop of 30 feet from the window to the water, but about six feet to the ground at the other end. I took Anderson into custody."

"Haven't you been to see the defendant in jail many times trying to get him to make admissions which would implicate him in this murder?" asked Attorney Jeffrey for the defense.

"I never tried to get him to make any admissions to be used for the prosecution of this case. I always told him to keep his own counsel," was the reply.

Anderson Loses Temper.

At this Anderson, who had been following the testimony closely, could contain himself no longer, and jumping to his feet he shouted, "He was down there eight times to see me." "That will do," called Judge Bronaugh, as Deputy Sheriff Beatty seized the prisoner. "Don't you remember telling Mr. Hall that you had to furnish a victim for this crime, and that Anderson would make a good one, and didn't you speak of Anderson as crazy?" Attorney Jeffrey continued.

"I never said anything of the kind. I don't know Mr. Hall very well, and I am sure I never said the man was crazy, for I do not think he is. I visited him both at the City and County Jails, as I do all men accused of serious crimes, but he wouldn't talk to me."

"So you went to see Anderson out of a spirit of philanthropy?"

"No, I didn't. I never came up especially to see him, but when in the jail on other matters would drop around to see him."

Detective Tichenor also told of being informed that Anderson's revolver would be found in the slough on the East Side, together with his belt and some cartridges, where they had been hidden. Tichenor said he and Sergeant Jones secured rakes, and fished up the gun in the holster. He said it was loaded when found.

S. W. Bailey, who runs the Odd Job Shop, at 387 East Washington street, said that a man came to him last March, and wanted the factory numbers ground off of a revolver. Bailey said he had never done such a job before, but did not notice the man. He could not say whether the revolver in evidence was the one upon which he performed the work, but said it looked like the one; it was of the same caliber.

Testimony Ruled Out.

The numbers are ground off of Anderson's revolver, but as the District Attorney failed to connect Anderson with the work performed on the gun, the motion of Attorney Jeffrey to strike out Bailey's testimony was sustained.

Mrs. Christina Roberts testified at the morning session yesterday that Anderson rented a room of her at the Bay City Hotel from October 6 to October 8, and again from October 11 to October 14, ten days before the shooting. She said that on the latter date he brought the mackintosh, revolver and belt and asked to put them in her linen closet, down stairs, where he wished to leave them for a time. She said the belt resembled the one in evidence, but the latter appeared somewhat darker, possibly on account of the mud and water of the slough.

Mrs. F. H. Bennett, who sold the raincoat to Anderson for 50 cents, positively identified him as the man, and said the coat was the same one she had sold. She distinctly remembered the incident, she said, because her little girl laughed when Anderson tried the coat on, and it was found to be much too long.

Mrs. F. M. Winans, who lives in a cottage near the bridge, said her child was ill on the night of the murder, and that she was awake when the shots were fired. She looked out of the window and saw a man running under the bridge. He wore a long coat. She also said she heard footsteps on the bridge, presumably those of Logan as he staggered to the saloon, weak from loss of blood.

Patrolman P. C. Anderson, who was on duty near the bridge on the night of the murder, told of running in the direction of the two shots and of calling to Logan, when he saw him staggering toward the saloon. He said he asked what was the matter when he came closer and that Logan said, "I am shot," and when asked where the shooting occurred, replied, "On the bridge." The patrolman then telephoned for the patrol wagon, and searched under the bridge with a lantern, but found nothing.

Deputy Coroner Arthur Finley told of receiving the body of Logan from the hospital.

Dr. L. G. Ross, house doctor at the Good Samaritan Hospital, who attended the wounded man, said one bullet entered the left lung and came out on the right side of his back. The other bullet penetrated his arm and indicated that Logan had his arm raised in self defense when shot.

Police Sergeant Jones was called to corroborate the testimony of Detective Tichenor.

During the afternoon Detective Tichenor was discovered in the room listening to the testimony of Jones, and objection was made to it by Attorney Jeffrey. District Attorney Adams then explained that he had forgotten that he wished to bring Tichenor in again as a witness, and told him he might come in. Judge Bronough then excluded Tichenor from the room in accordance with his previous order excluding all witnesses.

It is expected that witnesses will be placed on the stand this morning to testify as to Anderson's alleged confession. The state will probably rest today. It is probable that the case will not go to the jury before Saturday night.

MACLEAY LOSES ROUND

Oregon Golfer Beaten by Pennsylvanian in Tournament.

PINEHURST, N. C., Feb. 13.—Keen play ruled throughout all the divisions of the fourth annual St. Valentine's golf tournament play today. Among the surprises of the day was the defeat of R. L. Macleay, of the Waverly Club, Portland, Or, yesterday's qualification gold medal winner, by J. E. Porter, of the Allegheny Country Club, 2 up and 1 to play.

Longboat Wins Ten-Mile Run.

BOSTON, Feb. 13.—Tom Longboat, the Indian long-distance runner who is to represent Canada at the Olympic games in London next Summer, won the ten-mile relay race at the Park Square Coliseum tonight, defeating three men. His time was 50 minutes 52 3-5 seconds.

The three men who ran against the Indian were Percy Sellf, holder of the Canadian five-mile record; Claude E. Pierce, also of Canada, and Bill Cummings, of Scotland. At the finish Longboat was two feet ahead of Peirce.

Longboat is now under suspension by the Amateur Athletic Union and, under usual conditions, would not be allowed to compete in the United States, but this difficulty was overcome by racing against Canadians.

Heart Troubles

The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. It often happens that a person is born with a weak heart. Then again disease, fevers, over-exertion, anxiety, nervousness, rheumatism, etc. weaken the heart. The result is shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in the heart, or in some of the nerves of the chest or abdomen. The heart should be strengthened with a tonic, and for this nothing equals Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I had LaGrippe last fall as I thought in a mild form. I was weak, tired feeling, and short of breath; could hardly go about, and a good deal of the time sort of an asthmatic breathing and extremely nervous. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine and now I feel so much better in every way. I am so thankful that I began taking this medicine, and shall not hesitate to tell others how much good it has done me."

Are You a Lard Eater?

Half the time when a person feels blue and out of sorts you may take it for granted that he is a victim of the "lard habit." Lard-cooked food and good stomachs are never friends for long. Lard food is not healthful food and no ordinary stomach can thoroughly digest it.

Lard comes from the pig-sty; Cottolene from the cotton fields of The Sunny South. Lard is greasy, indigestible, and sometimes absolutely harmful; Cottolene makes food digestible, nutritious, delicious. Cottolene is the perfect shortening and frying medium. It is pure and healthful. It contains not an ounce of hog-fat.

Cottolene is today in use by thousands of housewives who would no more think of going back to lard than they would of reverting to tallow dips for lighting their homes.

Cottolene is one of the products which pure food advocates always endorse.

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South
