Harbormaster Speier Brings Charges Against Captain of Ville de Dijon.

DUMPS REFUSE IN RIVER

Diver Employed by Port of Portland Nearly Loses Life While Making Examination of the Riverbed. News of the Waterfront.

Harbormaster Speier caused a war-

Harbormaster Speier caused a warrant to be issued yesterday for the arrest of the master of the French bark Ville de Dijon, now at anchor in the stream, on a charge of throwing or permitting to be thrown overboard from his vessel, refuse from the ship, contrary to ordinances made and provided for the safety of the harbor and the port. The warrant was given to an officer for service and the capitals will be haled into court this morning.
Several days ago a diver was employed by the Port of Portland to examine the river bed in the vicinity of the Ville de Dijon. He came near losing his life by becoming entangled in the wreckage on the bottom of the river. A watch was kept and it was noted that a quantity of hoop-iron noted that a quantity of hoop-iron and other refuse was being thrown over from the French ship. As a result the harbormaster swore out the warrant for the arrest of the captain Captain Rabecje is not only in trouble with the harbormaster, but with Balfour, Guthrie & Company and Theodore Knudson. The captain assumed com-mand of the vessel in this port and has got into more trouble than any ship-master who has visited the port this season. A quantity of cement was loaded onto a barge from the ship and was to be delivered to the Mersey dock. The tug Hazel was secured to do the towing. After the barge was made fast at the dock it turned turtle and the cement was dropped to the bottom of the river. The captain alleges that Knudson agreed to do th leges that Knudson agreed to do the delivering of the cement for $5. Knudson says that he telephoned the owner of the Hazel for a figure for the towing, which was accepted by the master of the Ville de Dijon. He did this simply as a friendly favor to the captain. Now Balfour, Guthrie & Company appear and demand of Knudson to serve the company to the company of the company from the beston. to remove the cement from the bottom of the river.

FATHER AND UNCLE FIGHT OVER NAMING THE BABY.

'Mike or John?" the Question Ove. Which Fierce Battle Is

Mike or John? Which is the better name for a beginner in the journey

John Peterson, 644 Guild avenue, father of a new son, and Mike Peterson, alian Kahala, the boy's uncle, came to blows over that question and fought a gor, battle which the police had to be called in to stop.

And now the uncle, in consequence of he trouble, has become the victim of a nother's hatred-an enmity which may cost him his life, and at least will cause his presence on the rockpile during the next @ days. For it is said he is a fugi-tive murderer from Finland, and because the mother has exposed Peterson, her brother-in-law.

The story unfolded by trial of the two men for fighting, yesterday forencon, was one of the most unusual ever heard in the Municipal Court. Insemuch as the fighting was done in Peterson's own fighting was done in Feterson's own home, no effort was made to prosecute him. Mrs. Peterson was on hand, how-ever, to prosecute her brother-in-law. Through the medium of interpreters, the story of the affair was brought out.

It appears that the baby was only a few hours old when the trouble began. rew hours old when the trouble began. Peterson and his brother had drunk several gallons of beer in honor of the occasion and gradually became more and more hilarious. Finally the question of providing a name came up, and each insisted that the name of his choice should be given the youngestor. be given the youngster.
They came to blows in the bedroom where the mother was slying, and al-though barely able to move, she found it necessary to sit up in bed and shield the tiny little parcel of humanity from the tiny little parcel of humanity from possible harm should one of the drunken fighters fall on the bed. The fight continued until a policeman was called.

It was not until the next day that Mrs. Peterson revealed the secret of her brother-in-law's flight from Finland. Sending for a policeman, she told him that the fellow murdered a man there several years ago and escaped to America. The matter was reported to the immigration authorities and is now being investigated. In event it is confirmed, Peterson, or Kahala, as he calls himself, will be deported and may have to hang for his crime when he gets back to his native land.

The Oregon hop crop of 1907 imounted to 140,000 bales. This figure was definitely arrived at for the first time yesterday, when statistics were completed showing the unsold holdings in the state. These figures, added to the railroad shipments and warehouse stocks, give the total production of last year. These statistics are as complete as they can be compiled at this time, and should any later revision be necessary, it will only add to the total, as a few small lots remaining in the state may have been overlooked.

As usual, the crop in the state was underestimated early in the season, most of the dealers' guesses ranging from 125,000 bales down to 100,000 bales, and some less. The closest ex-timate was that of Klaber, Wolf & Neter, who placed the yield at 130,000

The work of locating the unsold lots was a difficult one. The Portland and Salem trade co-operated in the matter, and when they finished their labors yesterday, found that 35,348 bales are left in growers' hands. They are distributed in the several counties as follows:

basis of the above statistics the final crop estimate is arrived at as follows

The total hop crop of the United States in 1907 amounted to about 305,one bales. Washington produced 32,000 bales. Washington produced 32,000 bales, California 30,000 bales and New York 43,000 bales. Of the yield, 83,348 bales are unconsumed, while 16,000 bales of the previous year's growth

In addition to the 99,348 bales of hops of all kind in this country that the brewers have not yet taken there is a considerable quantity held by specu-lative buyers. The purchasing move-ment on American account has practically ended for the season and the bulk of the foreign demand has also been filled, so it is evident that a considerable quantity of "olds" will be carried over into the new crop. The unhealthy statistical position of the market is apparent to all. Hops are selling now at helf what it costs to raise them, because of the over-production, and unless a remedy is applied, the story will be repeated next season. Most of the growers of Oregon understand the situation and advocate a reduction of acreage, but want their eighbors to do it.

It is a matter that will in time work out its own solution, but the experience will prove a painful one until the sup-ply is brought down to the requirments

Lawyers Argue Demurrers in Title Bank Cases.

Believing That the Charges Cannot Be Sustained.

New reasons why the informations New reasons why the informations against J. Thorburn Ross, T. T. Burkhart, John E. Altchison and George H. Hill officials of the defunct Title Trust Bank, should be declared void were argued before Presiding Judge Cleiand of the Circuit Court yesterday by the attornoys in the case. Chief among the arguery was the information was the information. noys in the case. Chief among the argument was that in Oregon it is not a crime for a private individual to misappropriate public money. It was urged that the law relating to this question re-fers only to public officials or their depu-

The demurrer to this inforthat the act took place in Multnomal County, that it does not show that the al-leged crime took place within three years before the filing of the information, that the crime charged is not distinctly and certainly set forth, and that more than one crime is charged.

Punishment Too Severe.

One point made by Wallace McCamant yesterday morning in his argument for the defendants, was that the punishment is out of all proportion to the crime charged, as the information says the alleged bank wreckers stole $337,352.10 of the state's funds, and therefore a fine of $654,704.20 must be imposed, or 450 years in

Mr. McCamant contended that section 1807, under which the indictments are brought, refers to public officials, not to private individuals, and in support of his contention cited the case against ex-Sheriff Penumbra Kelly as decided by Judge Munty. Judge Pipes, who assisted District Attorney Manning said, however, that he was present at the Irial of that case, and that the decision was based upon a different point of law. Section

Plea of the Defense.

The defendant's attorney asserted that although the law requires cases to be prosecuted within three years of the commission of the crime, the information does not say the wrongful conversion of the money was made within that time, only stating that the money was in the defendant's possession September 9, 1907, and that "theretofore" it was wrongfully onverted.

The attorney continued that the defendants are not only charged with using for their own benefit the money of the state, but with grand larceny, while the state law says only one crime may be alleged in one information.

Attorney Harrison Allen, following Mr. McCamant, said the state and defendants were related as debtor and creditor, and that the state funds were received from State Treasurer Steel and not from the A strong argument for the state was made yesterday afternoon by Judge Pipes, who said this law was made to cover just such cases as the one at bar.

At that moment, unfor tunately, the funds of the company were insufficient to continue the work and it stopped. PRAISED AT HOME.

Cascarets act as a bowel tonic, not as an irritant. They are vegetable. Their action is natural. Their effect is the same as the effect of some foods. They are gentle; no griping.

They are pleasant; no dreading.

They are convenient; no waiting.

One old way was castor oil. The effect was to grease the bowels, and for a single day. Oil never causes the bowel muscles to act. Other ways were pills, salts and cathartics. The effect was the same as pepper has in the nostrils. They flooded the bowels with fluid.

Those fluids were digestive juices. And the waste today means a lack tomorrow.

We knew that the method was wrong. That the after-effects only weakened the bowels.

But we had no gentle laxatives in the old days. So we waited as long as we could, then took a big dose of physic. The method today is to take one Cascaret at a time—just as soon as you need it. Then the bowels are always clean.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50c, 25c and
