LORD EXPLAINS SEATTLE AFFAIR

Portland Lawyer Says He Was Made a Victim of Misplaced Confidence.

COMEDY ELEMENT IN CASE

Attorney Goes to Rescue Chinese Slave Maiden and Catches an Aged Tartar—Will Sue the Chief of Police.

Charles F. Lord, the Portland lawyer, whose efforts to obtain custody of a Chinese woman in Seattle on behalf of a Chinese client in this city, caused his detention in the Seattle city jail for an hour Wednesday, returned to Portland last night and gave his version of the incident.

The first point that Mr. Lord emphasized was that he was not attempting to steal the Chinese woman, as told in dispatches at the time of his arrest. He was trying to take her away from an irresponsible husband to bring her to an uncle in Portland, he says. The woman started away with him of her own free will, but presently changed her mind about leaving the Puget Sound metropolis. Then the lawyer's troubles began and kept up right merrily thereafter. The tale is far more comical than tragic.

The facts of the case as presented last night by Mr. Lord are: Some days ago a Portland Chinaman by the name of Ah Gum, or something of the sort, laid before Mr. Lord a weird story of a beautiful Chinese woman in vile bondage. The heathen said he was the girl's uncle or cousin and that he wished to rescue her from her Seattle master. As the attorney had other business on the Sound, he took the job of rescuing the fair slave. The mission appealed vastly to his sense of romance and gallantry.

Armed with a long and undecipherable letter from the Portland relative to the Seattle maid, Mr. Lord set out on his errand. The address where the woman was in bondage was presented to him and on calling there he found it was a Christian mission instead of a dive. He presented his credentials to the patroness, explained the nature of his errand and was introduced to the fair maiden. Only, instead of a fair maiden as previously described, he found it difficult to distinguish her from one of the heroines of Kipling's Jungle book.

Woman Gives Consent.

However, her personal appearance had nothing to do with his mission. He handed her the letter from her Portland relative, and after perusing it she consented to come to Portland. She admitter her husband had not been kind to her. In fact, that was why she had gone to the mission.

Delighted with easy success in his venture Mr. Lord went in search of a carriage. When he returned with one the Oriental maid refused to ride in the thing, but after much persuasion he got her aboard a streetcar. He carried her effects, done up in a big silk cloth, and sat opposite her. It was just an hour until traintime.

Mr. Lord has a faint suspicion now that the woman's easy acquiescence in leaving the mission was superinduced by a desire to get back to her olden haunts. Leastwise it would appear that way for the car had traveled more than half way across the first Seattle mountain before the dame said she was tired of riding. She insisted on getting off the car. Since he could not detain her by force the hapless attorney got off with her and they started off afoot for the depot.

Though the woman's feet were undersized and she stumbled along at a gait of less than two miles an hour, there was time to have made the train had she not discovered a new obstacle. She said she feared to go direct to the depot as the course would take them past a Chinese section where her life would not be safe. Then began a long detour, the attorney struggling along under the weight of the bundle of Oriental apparel, brazen images and the like.

Makes a Fatal Move.

They missed the train by more than half an hour and the Chinese woman then said it would be a good idea to go to the police station and wait there for the train that would leave in another three and a half hours. They went to the station.

Having discovered the woman's absence from the mission, her husband, or alleged husband, as Mr. Lord describes the fellow, was engaged in a frantic effort to find the missing woman. By that peculiar influence which rich Chinamen sometimes have with police in other cities than Seattle, the Oriental had the police aroused and the Portland lawyer and his charge were intercepted, even before they reached the station. The woman was allowed to go with her so-called husband. Mr. Lord then experienced tlfe really sad part of the adventure.

For when he set about explaining the affair the police did not listen. They haled him to the station, searched his pockets, took away a Chinese marriage license and other papers connected with the case and locked him in a dingy and dirty cell.

"I saw my first real bug in that cell," Mr. Lord said last night. "It came out on the wall of the cell and was followed at once by a procession of fellow bugs. I had to stand in the middle of the cell for fear of an invasion from this hostile force."

Still Retain Papers.

Eventually the affair became adjusted and Mr. Lord was released. But his papers, part of them at least, were retained on the claim that they belonged to the Chinese woman.

The Chinese woman did not return to the mission. Mr. Lord remained in town long enough to learn that she had been secreted and then returned to Portland.

Mr. Lord will be very busy during the next few days drafting a damage suit against Chief Wappenstein, of the Seattle Police Department. He says he intends to fight the case to a finish, as he was arrested and thrown into jail without warrant or charge being presented. He also charges the Seattle department with assisting the Chinese who represented himself as the woman's husband, to get her back into possession, regardless of the fact that there was evidence to show she was nothing more than the fellow's slave, kept subject to lease.

LAST BATTLE WITH FIRE

Brave Old Kruger Dies, Leading His Men, as Usual.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Deputy Chief Charles W. Kruger, known for many years as "the grand old man" of the fire department, lost his life today while leading his men in a desperate fight against flames in Canal street. While working his way cautiously through a cellar filled with smoke and gases, Kruger plunged through a trap door into a sub-basement filled with water. He was dead when taken out, but in the few minutes that elapsed between the time he fell and his body was drawn out more than a score of men had risked their own lives in an effort to save that of their leader.

Kruger was 57 years old, and had been a member of the department for 36 years. Several years ago Kruger was Acting Chief while Chief Croker was under suspension.

The fire in which the Deputy Chief lost his life started at 217 Canal street, and before it could be subdued it swept that building from basement to roof, spread to two buildings adjoining, routed the tenants from several tenement-houses in Baxter street and threatened the Church of the Most Precious Blood. It was after the flames in the upper part of the building had been got under control that Kruger had taken his men to the basement to cut a hole in the wall to 217, where the fire was thickest. Croker consented, and a moment later, with a dozen men, behind him, Kruger plunged into the cellar. The place was filled with smoke and the deadly fumes of illuminating gas, which flowed from broken or melted pipes, but the men pressed cautiously forward in the darkness. Just in the middle of the cellar Kruger stepped on a trap and plunged into six feet of water in the sub-basement. Then began a desperate fight in the gas-filled cellar to save the Chief. He could do little to help himself, however, and when Battalion Chief Galvin plunged into the dark hole and raised Kruger's body above the surface he was unconscious.

It required the combined efforts of 20 firemen, weakened as they were by breathing smoke and gas, to draw Galvin, who still clung to Kruger's body, from the pit.

The property loss as a result of the fire is placed at $50,000.

Big Lithographing Plant Burns.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Fire today destroyed the building and plant of the Courier Lithographing Company on Main street, and spreading to Washington street, damaged the press department of the Evening Times to the amount of $30,000. The Evening News lent the Times its presses. The Courier lost the plates for a $180,000 contract for circus posters. The total loss is $250,000.

Fire Hits Heath & Milligan.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Fire last night did $20,000 damage to the retail store and office building of Heath & Milligan, paint manufacturers, on Randolph street. This firm last Saturday went into a receiver's hands, a fire which did $800,000 damage a year ago to its factory having started its troubles.

FEEDERS FOR PORTLAND

SWIFT PARTY LOOKING OVER INLAND EMPIRE.

Reported They Are Seeking Raw Material for Packing Plant to Be Established at Portland.

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—Louis F. Swift, president of the Swift & Co. packing firm, a resident of Chicago, and J. Donovan, manager of the big St. Paul yards, were in the city today visiting the local branch of Swift & Co. In company with M. L. Root, the local manager, the visitors drove around the city.

It is reported that Mr. Swift, the head of one of the greatest packing companies in the world, has a deal on foot in Spokane, following out his idea of enlarging and manufacturing in the West, and that he is looking over the ground here for raw material for the enormous packing plant to be established in Portland.

The head of the giant meat interests stated that he was greatly pleased with Spokane, and he is reported to have expressed himself as firm in the conviction that the Inland Empire possessed great advantages as an inland shipping point. Neither Mr. Swift nor the local manager gave out any statement as to the plans or intentions for local improvements in Spokane.

SEATTLE TO PUT IN A BID

Attempt to Be Made to Get Packing Plant From Portland.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—Portland may have to organize for a fight if she wishes to become the location of the big packing plant to be established in the Northwest for the purpose of taking care of the Coast, Alaska and island business. Aroused to activity by the presence in the city of L. F. Swift, N. B. Higbee and John Donovan, the business men and the commercial bodies of Seattle are organizing to make a potent bid for the plant.

It is pointed out that the Portland location is not decided upon, and that the land owned by the Swifts in that locality has not been purchased recently, but was bought, some time ago, with a view to possible future needs. The Swift party is at present at Bellingham and other Sound locations, but it has inspected several locations near Seattle, and it is the belief that if the right concessions are made Seattle stands a chance of winning from Portland.

The Swift party is expected back here within a few days, en route to Chicago, and Seattle's advantages will be advanced at that time. It is known that the decision with regard to the location of the proposed plant will not be made until after the party reaches Chicago, and the Seattle men feel that a good deal can be accomplished by concerted action that will greatly fortify Seattle's endeavors.

TROOPS NEEDED IN NORTH

Their Presence in Fairbanks Will Tend to Quell Disorders.

SEATTLE, Feb. 14.—J. Falcon Joslyn, president of the Tanama Railway, gave out a statement tonight to the effect that the order directing troops to Fairbanks would be a powerful factor in restoring confidence in that section and that it would put an end to the high-handed lawlessness practiced in deporting white men from that section and thus hampering mine operations, and the presence of the troops will quell active agitators, restore peace and ensure uninterrupted development of the mines of that section.

David Humphrey Released.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—David Humphrey, who voluntarily surrendered himself to the Vancouver police several days ago, claiming he was a fugutive from justice and was wanted by the authorities at Kansas City, was turned loose today, the Chief of Police of Kansas City telegraphing that he was out on bond, and would not come to get him.

SPOKANE IS WINNER

Rushton Knocked Out by Three Hard Blows.

MULTNOMAH NOT IN FORM

Ott Loses to Adams—West Defeated by Johnstone — Portland's Only Winner Is Ed Johnson, Who Gets Decision Over Tilley.

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—If the world's record for the quickest knockout ever scored in a boxing contest cannot be claimed by Louis Orsie, of the Spokane Athletic Club, it is simply because Timer Jack Foster used an ordinary watch instead of a split second stop watch, which would have recorded it exactly.

It took the crack Spokane boxer three triphammer swings to drop his opponent, Ed Rushton, of the Multnomah Club of Portland, to the floor like a log, completely out. The previous record for the quickest knockout was four seconds, held by Del Hawkins against Martin Flaherty, at Carson City, Nev. Rushton had expected to shake hands, but Orsie omitted this formality and tore in.

Spokane Gets Three Out of Four.

Spokane athletes captured three out of the four interclub contests from the Multnomah Club of Portland before the biggest house that ever packed the S. A. A. C. arena. John Adams won over Otto Ott, of Multnomah, one decision on aggressiveness and one clean fall in two bouts in the 135-pound wrestling class. Eddie Johnstone, of the S. A. A. C., was given the decision over Jean West, of Multnomah, at the end of three rounds' boxing in the 135-pound class. Louis Orsie won with a knockout in the first round over Ed Rushton, of Multnomah. Ed Johnson, Multnomah's winner, was 21 pounds heavier than Homer Tilley, the only man at the S. A. A. C. able to make anything like 175 pounds, the weight named by Multnomah. He was given two decisions over Tilley on aggressiveness, but failed to throw the Spokane wrestler.

West Gets Trophy by Forfeit.

Failure of Eddie Johnstone, of Spokane, to make the required weight and the forfeiture of the trophy in this class to Jean West, of Multnomah, marred the performance. Johnstone was six pounds overweight in his fighting togs, about four pounds stripped when weighed just prior to entering the ring. West consented to appear against Johnstone so as not to disappoint the Spokane patrons, but takes home the trophy, a gold watch. The bout was the best of the evening. Johnstone got the decision.

PORTLAND ACADEMY WINNER

Defeats Hill Military in Lively Game of Basketball.

By the decisive score of 43 to 15, the Portland Academy basketball team defeated the five representing the Hill Military Academy in the interscholastic basketball series yesterday afternoon. The game was played on the floor of the gymnasium of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, and in spite of the wide margin in favor of the victors was a splendidly played and hard-fought contest. Cobb and Williams were the stars for the Portland Academy five, the former having tossed 13 baskets. Hill for the cadets tossed four and otherwise distinguished himself.

The Columbia University five still leads the league, but several others are pressing it hard for the honors.

The line-up in yesterday's contest was as follows:

FIGHT IS IN VAIN

Bourne Leads Forlorn Hope for Statement No. 1.

OPPOSED BY HIS PARTY

Rank and File of Oregon Republicans Appear Hostile to Principle Advocated in His Recent Circular Letter.

Senator Bourne's circular letter to voters and candidates for office in Oregon, urging them to stand by Statement No. 1, will not carry much weight if the predictions of some of the wise politicians are to be fulfilled. They argue that the Senator has been away from the state so long that he is not in touch with the real situation, and for this reason his letter will, in a measure, be ignored by the rank and file of the party, and also by the party leaders. In Multnomah County not half a dozen of the avowed candidates for the Senate and House will pledge themselves in favor of Statement No. 1.

In the anti-statement movement, Multnomah County has taken the lead. Marion County was next in line and according to reports from various parts of the state, opposition to the statement is general. Bourne's letter may result in keeping some of his staunch followers in line, but the general impression is that it will have little effect.

In Multnomah County about 11 candidates are mentioned for seats in the Senate and 15 for the House. Those whose names have been mentioned for the Senate are: C. W. Hodson, John B. Coffey, Sig Sichel, J. C. Bayer, C. W. Nottingham, F. E. Black, John Driscoll, Elmer Colwell, John Gill, J. E. Magers, M. J. McMahon and Dr. Emmet Drake. Of this list, perhaps not more than three are in favor of subscribing to Statement No. 1.

Dr. Drake has not made up his mind. If he finds that to be an anti-Statement No. 1 man is the thing, he will fall in line. Mr. Gill is also "up in the air," so to speak. The majority of the candidates mentioned have openly declared their opposition to U'Ren's pet measure.

So far as is known not more than two of the talked-of candidates for the House favor the statement. The candidates talked of are: Frank Richardson, Frank A. Ballin, C. N. McArthur, D. B. Mackie, J. W. Beveridge, M. D. Beutgen, L. E. Crouch, F. Harlow, of Troutdale; C. B. Merrick, R. A. Apperson, Dr. George Ainslie, George Howell, George W. McMillan and A. M. Orton.

Of the candidates mentioned, only one, A. M. Orton, has declared himself in favor of Statement No. 1.

Outside of the county, W. K. Newell, of Dilley, has renounced the statement, and Frank Davey, ex-Speaker, who is now at Burns, is also opposed to it.

UNIQUE DIVORCE RECORD

Tacoma Woman Released From Two Husbands at Same Time.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—Mrs. Julia N. Seymour-Bemer has the distinction of being probably the first woman in the history of this country to have been divorced from two men in the same courtroom and at the same time. Both decrees were granted by Judge Reed today. The first freed her from Alfred H. Seymour and the other dissolved the ties with Benjamin F. Bemer.

Eight years ago Mrs. Seymour married Alfred H. Seymour. Less than a year afterward Seymour deserted her and inquiry proved that he was a bigamist.

Two years later she met Benjamin F. Bemer, and believing her first marriage was void she married him. A few months ago she learned that her second marriage was illegal and then she sued to have both marriages annulled.

EARLING MEETS ELLIOTT

Conference of Railroad Presidents Held in Spokane.

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—A. J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, were in conference here today on the railway situation in Washington, but both declined to make public what phases of the situation were discussed. Mr. Earling spent part of the day viewing Spokane and the surrounding country, while Mr. Elliott was closeted with engineers regarding the grade separation problem in Spokane, upon which improvement the Northern Pacific and Spokane, Portland and Seattle expect to spend $3,000,000, the work to commence as soon as the franchise is granted. Mr. Earling left for the East tonight and Mr. Elliott will be here several days.

Exonerated by Jury.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—J. M. Rising, of Puyallup, a prominent merchant, who has been under arrest since July 21 of last year charged with criminally assaulting Hilda Scilley, a 17-year-old girl, was exonerated by a jury today after an hour's deliberation. It is understood the jury reached the agreement of acquittal on the third ballot and that the great majority of jurymen favored a verdict of not guilty on the first vote.

WHEN I TELL
Our New Patients

We extract teeth without the least pain, I mean exactly what I say. When I tell you we fill teeth and apply gold Crowns and Bridge Work without the least pain, I mean that also. All I ask is an opportunity to extract or fill one tooth for you, and I positively will convince you that we have been doing exactly that for the past ten years, as thousands are willing to testify.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT MONEY

Arrangements can be made whereby you can pay for your work just as you have it done, as much or as little as you like.

Don't be misled. Come to the old established place. Our responsibility and reputation for honest treatment of our patients has been proven many times by our large and increasing patronage and ten years of continual success. Why take chances elsewhere when you know your work here will be of the best and prices the lowest.

If you have any trouble with your plate, or if you can't eat with them, let us make you one of our corrugated suction plates, guaranteed positively to fit any mouth.
