HIGHLAND CHURCH CALLS A PASTOR

Rev. E. S. Bollinger Accepts Invitation to Take Charge Permanently.

VOTE OF FLOCK UNANIMOUS

Satisfactory Service During Temporary Incumbency Basis of Action—"The Precious Foundation" His Morning Theme.

Rev. E. S. Bollinger was called to become permanent pastor of the Highland Congregational Church yesterday at the conclusion of the morning services. The vote on extending the call was unanimous. At the conclusion of the services Mr. Bollinger left the church for his home, whereupon the congregation convened to consider the call. On motion Mr. Bollinger was extended an invitation to take the pulpit for an indefinite time, his contract to be subject to termination by mutual agreement. Luther R. Scobee, Herbert E. DeYoung and Carlos A. Mann were appointed to wait on Mr. Bollinger at once and inform him of the action of the congregation. This was done and Mr. Bollinger accepted the call, expressing his appreciation of the support of the church during the past year, while he was acting pastor.

During the short time Mr. Bollinger has had charge of the church, the church building has been enlarged at a cost of $2500 and a parsonage, valued at $3000, purchased.

Before the call was extended Mr. Bollinger preached on "The Precious Foundation," the text being Isaiah xxviii:16, "Behold I lay in Zion for a foundation stone, a tried stone, a precious corner-stone of sure foundation." After setting forth that the corner-stone and sure foundation is the ever-present "God-with-us" in the world, he said:

This is a tried stone. Even in those far away days the trust in Jehovah's presence was such an established thought in the minds of his intimate followers that there could be no uncertainty. All the marvellous leadings, and wondrous deliverances were attributed to Jehovah. And yet we may be more certain. The ethics and the life of Jesus are not an experiment. The world acknowledges Him as the tested one. Friendly and hostile forces have combined in the test. Assault after assault has been made upon him. Scientists, historians and theologians have delved into the innermost facts of His life and have come back with the report, "He is what He claims to be." Whatever may be the shortcomings of the church, the founder of Christianity was never honored as He is today. Audiences that will hiss the church and crowds that would trail the stars and stripes in the dust applaud the name of Jesus and respect His social message.

Give Unfailing Testimony.

The weary, the heavy laden, the forlorn and the sinful still give us their unfailing testimony. Travelers in the shadows of life's evening are still walking in His light. And as we stand with tear-dimmed eyes at the rude marks in mother earth hiding the forms of those we love He makes every flower say, "They are not dead."

This is a precious stone. Things are precious when they give forth their treasures. The common stone receives, but gives nothing forth; the precious stone reflects, gives forth the beauty it receives from the light falling upon it. Let the light fall upon any precious stone and it will reflect its beauty; the emerald its green, the carnelian its deep red, and the sapphire its various shades, and the diamond, the rarest and most precious, keeps nothing, but reflects all.

Lives are precious when they give their all. Nothing is more precious than the memory of those who were the most to us. This nation celebrated the birthday of one of its precious heroes during the week. Lincoln is precious to the heart of this nation because he gave his best.

More precious than the most precious human life, or the preciousness of rarest gem or jewel is the preciousness of this stone. The purest and hardest can alone symbolize Him. He is the corner stone of diamond, binding together the whole of incarnate life and light, giving forth the very life for all the hungry, and the very light for all the wanderers in darkness. The most precious life in the universe, the life of the Son of God is the foundation of that temple in which we are permitted to grow upward and onward until we are transformed into His image.

This Foundation Sure.

This foundation is sure. Other foundations shake and crumble. He that buildeth on this foundation needs never make haste to look for something new, or flee when the storm approaches. With the clearest conception of intelligence in the clear skies of modern religious thought the greatest intellect may sing with the trusting child, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

I know the Isms of the day are popular. Many are leaving the old ways and declare that they have found something better. But mark how many have been led astray by the ignis-fatuus of the so-called new. Anything not on this foundation, from Madam Blavatsky to Dowie, becomes a foundation of sand for the builder. But you say, surely, all these have truth. They are following the light as they see it. Grant that. But you may have the jewels of the richest court in the world and hide them in bales of Oregon hops, or put a million dollars' worth of diamonds in the Clatsop sand dunes, nevertheless bales of hops and sand dunes will not make lasting foundations, however many precious jewels and diamonds you may place into them.

It is a matter of great importance that we believe right. Believe in this foundation, build upon it and you are secure. The world is changing; beliefs are changing; theologies are changing. But all these changes are the result of the enlargement of the great temple seen in the phophet's vision. Standing on this foundation you may open yourself to the light from any source, let it be called new or old, you may soar to world's unknown in thought, but never, no never, tread where you may not sing, "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me."

Rev. E. S. Bollinger, to Be Made Permanent Pastor Sunday of Highland Congregational Church.

POLITICAL GHOST DANCE

Remarks Upon It From the Region of the Upper Willamette.

Eugene Register.

Senator Bourne is out with a letter urging Oregon Republicans to support Statement No. 1. Bourne remembers by what a narrow margin he pulled through the primaries. Did you ever stop to consider that in the primary election Bourne polled but a fraction over 12,000 Republican votes, as against 29,000 for the other Republican candidates? Are you aware that if there had been but one other Republican candidate besides Bourne in the primary race, the result might have been different and Statement No. 1 Bourne might still have been a private citizen? It is immaterial to us that Bourne is fighting Fulton politically and would rather see Chamberlain Senator than for Fulton to be re-elected. For our part the choice of Republican voters for United States Senator, whether it be Cake or Fulton, will be our choice, first, last and all the time and we are opposed to the kind of a deal that is being worked by leading politicians of both parties in this state whereby Republican candidates for the Legislature are to be tied up by pledge to vote for a Democrat for United States Senator.

Is Oregon Republicanism to henceforth play the part of political cowardice? Will it frame a direct primary law and then allow a minority party aided by schemers in both parties to construe the meaning of that law in their own behalf to the undoing of the Republican party of the state?

All this hullabaloo about Statement No. 1 is the veriest rot, and the Republicans who run every time somebody yells wolf are not worthy the name of Republicans. The Republican party of Oregon enacted the primary law, and in that enactment two statements were inserted, neither of which is obligatory, leaving all parties free to do as they please. Now shrewd, scheming politicians of both parties the very kind the law seeks to eliminate, are working Statement No. 1 overtime in an effort to frighten the Republican State of Oregon into the Democratic column.

In our boyhood days we believed in ghosts, but in later years we have outgrown the fallacy. Is Oregon Republicanism to be frightened and run to cover by the Statement No. 1 ghost with politicians inside of it?

Is Oregon Republicanism no longer able to care for itself? Must it be nursed on the Statement No. 1 bottle, while Oregon politicians absorb the solid food of political preferment? That is all the Statement No. 1 howl is made for. Don't be deceived. It is the duty of every Republican in the state to support Republican candidates for the Legislature who in turn will support Republican voters' choice for United States Senator. That is the real intent of the law and all the sophistry and noise from the opposition in or out of the ranks cannot change it.

All this harangue about taking away from the people their right to name choice for United States Senator because, forsooth, legislators do not sign Statement No. 1, is only a hue and cry raised to befog the issue and help out the minority party. The chief end of the primary law, stripped of its Statement No. 1 verbiage, is for no other purpose than to permit the voters putting up to the Legislature the choice of the two parties from which to select a United States Senator. In this feature of the law the politicians try to dodge the real intent of the law which is that through the direct primary the Republican voters of the state within the party select their choice first by elimination of all but one Republican candidate at the praimaries, then voting for the remaining candidte at the June election. That remaining candidate then becomes absolutely the people's choice, the popular choice of the Republicans of the state for United States Senator. The same rule applies to the Democrats in making their party choice. The object of the law in doing this is to eliminate scheming politicians and boodlers from manipulating Senatorial contests and precipitating deadlocks. It puts each party's choice for Senator up direct from the voters themselves within their respective parties for the Legislators to vote upon and, moreover, it puts it up to every Republican Legislator to vote for the Republican voters' choice for Senator and for every Democratic Legislator to vote for the Democratic voters' choice for Senator. The intent of the law is so plain in this respect that none but those who are in the game to manipulate the direct primary law for political purposes and become greater bosses and schemers than ever existed under the old regime could be, refuse to acknowledge the fact.

Therefore let Lane County Republicans be on their guard. Look out for the would-be friends who would trail your party colors in the dust. Stand up like men for the correct interpretation of the primary law as enacted by the Republican party of Oregon.

In the last Legislature campaign a number of Republican Legislators signed Statement No. 1 under misapprehension. Many of them now see the joker that was up the sleeve of the inventor of that statement which is as foreign to the intent and purpose of the primary law as the north pole is from the south pole and refuse to be further fooled by it. They see plainly that the law means to put each party's choice for Senator up to the Legislature directly from the people in order to eliminate the political manipulatiors in each party with the expectation that the Legislators bound by their respective parties' choice will vote straight and direct for the party choice in the Legislature until such time as when the Federal constitution is changed the choice of Senator will be made the same as choice of Congressman.

St. Patrick's Ban on Roosters.

New York Press.

St. Patrick's reputation as a snake charmer is known all the world over, but what he did to the roosters is a bit of history less disseminated. There is a small district in the heart of County Sligo, it seems, which strenuously resented the intrusion of the Scotchman. Succat (St. Patrick) had become exceedingly domineering, and it was decided to put a damper on his progress. He said to his hostess, "Wake me when the cock crows." When he had gone to bed she whispered his command to the neighbors, and all the populace concealed their roosters under small creels so they could not lift their heads high enough to crow. In consequence thereof the saint overslept himself, and was furious when he discovered the trick that had been played on him. He laid his everlasting curse on the roosters of that district, and they have never crowed since.

Soldier of Heart and Inches.

Kansas City Times.

Noble Prentis was a man of small stature, and the story goes that at the beginning of the Civil War when he sought to enlist as a soldier he was found to fall several inches short of the minimum height required by the Army regulations and was ordered to step aside by the recruiting officer. Mr. Prentis did so reluctantly, muttering as he went: "I suppose I'll have to let my country go to h—l because I'm not eight feet tall."

The recruiting officer overheard the remark and called him back, saying, "Young man, you'll do," and Prentis was enlisted and mustered into the service.

Mount Tabor Church Growing.

The special evangelistic services in the Mount Tabor Methodist Church, conducted last week by Rev. J. W. McDougall, pastor, will be continued every night during the present week. Good results have been secured. At the morning services yesterday 21 went forward on invitation by the pastor. During the week ten united with the church.

PROBLEM OF CITIES

Municipal Questions Difficult to Solve.

OUTLOOK NOT PROMISING

Christ Would Weep Over Portland as He Did When He Beheld Jerusalem, Says Rev. A. J. Montgomery.

"The Complex Problem of the City" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning by Rev. Andrew J. Montgomery, at the Third Presbyterian Church, on East Pine street. His text was St. Luke, xix:41, "And when he came he beheld the city and wept over it." After giving an exposition of the text, Mr. Montgomery discussed the complex problems of cities in Europe and the United States. He drew a somewhat somber picture of the city, not from a hopeless viewpoint, but from a desire to solve the great problem that confronts this and every nation. He said:

The municipal problem is a most serious and complex one, because the city represents the corruption of the age and the tendency of men to herd together. Jesus wept over the condition of Jerusalem, but if he were here today he would weep over conditions in London, Berlin, Paris, New York, San Francisco and even Portland. As Jerusalem was destroyed because of its wickedness, so will these cities be destroyed because of their wickedness, and purer cities be established.

The first founder of a city was a murderer. Men herd together. That is their natural condition. It seems that the city contains all that is wicked and corrupt. In this country we have a complex problem. We have the problem of many nationalities who have been pouring into this country in an endless stream. In New York on Manhattan Island there are 700,000 Jews who have come mainly from Russia.

There are Italians and the innumerable other foreigners, all speaking a different tongue, 70 percent of whom can neither read nor write. In Rhode Island there is a town whose people are 80 per cent foreign born. Philadelphia, Chicago and all the great cities contain a large proportion of people who speak a foreign language, and a large percentage are illiterate and have no religion at all. The anarchist and the nihilist find a welcome in this free land of ours. The socialist comes here with his menace to our social conditions and family relations. The problem is, what are we going to do with this heterogenous mass of people who speak so many different tongues, who are ignorant and who have no religion of any sort?

We see corruption in our cities. Tenement houses owned by the rich, some members of churches, are crowded with suffering families. Inspectors of these places are successfully bribed by their owners to report favorably on their condition. We see children in New York, 5 and 6 years of age, forced to toil in the factories. How can you expect boys of such tender ages to become fathers; or girls of such ages to become mothers? This is one of the crimes and curses of the city childlabor, and Portland is not altogether free from it.

We are going to have a beautiful Rose Festival this year, and yet do we know all the environments of the young in this and in other cities? New York was turned over to Tammany, and San Francisco has been in the clutches of a most corrupt ring. Then there is the problem of the sweatshop, which organized labor has not been able to destroy. So you see we have a most complex problem. I do not mention these conditions because I consider them hopeless, but we must look for the remedy. How can we solve the problem and save our cities, with their teeming population made up from every country and clime on the earth? It is a problem only solved through the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Godly men must lead these people to the feet of the Christ.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY SERVICE

Work of Freedmen's Aid Department Exploited by Methodists.

A "Lincoln's Birthday Service" was conducted yesterday morning at the Trinity Methodist church, East Tenth and Grant Streets, Rev. L. F. Smith, the pastor, making an appropriate address. The object of the service was to set forth the work of the Freedmen's Aid department. Mr. Smith told of the work that had been done and is being done for the negroes of the country through this department, which is under the charge of the Board of Education of the Methodist church. The pastor said:

"Today there are 46 institutions with lands and buildings valued at $1,991,569, with 648 teachers and 12,200 students. There have been nearly 300,000 pupils in these institutions and over 12,000 negro teachers and 3000 ministers have been prepared for Christian work among their own people. In most part schools for the whites are in East Tennessee, Western North Carolina, Northern Geoergia and Alabama, and 2300 teachers and ministers have been prepared for work among the mountaineers.

Professor Clarke Delayed.

As Professor W. J. Clarke, who is lecturing on the Pacific Coast, was delayed so he could not reach Portland in time to address the men's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon on the question, "Is Religion a Delusion?" General Secretary Stone spoke for 30 minutes on the lesson to be drawn from the chapter of Genesis that tells of Terah's decision to leave Ur of the Chaldees with his family for Canaan. Mr. Stone said that Terah was an idol-maker, according to tradition, and that his resolve to get into a more honorable business was a good one, but that he did not keep it. Mr. Stone said that what the world needs today is "men who get there."

Henry Watson Cornell, son of the founder of Cornell University, is to lecture at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium tonight.

COFFEE DRINKING

A Doctor Says It Weakens the Heart.

"In my opinion," says a well-known German physician, "no one can truthfully say that coffee agrees with him, as it has long since been proven that caffeine, contained in coffee, is an injurious, poisonous substance which weakens and degenerates the heart muscles.

"For this reason the regular use of coffee, soon or late, causes a condition of undernourishment, which leads to various kinds of organic disease.

"Convinced of this fact, I have often sought for some healthful beverage to use instead of coffee. At last I found the thing desired in Postum. Having had occasion to forbid people using coffee, whose hearts were affected, I have recommended Postum as a beverage, since it is free from all injurious or exciting substances. I know this from results in my own family, and among patients.

"Hundreds of persons who now use Postum in place of coffee, are greatly benefited thereby." "There's a Reason."

Eugene Germans Organize.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 16.—(Special.)—Two important local societies have just been organized here. One, the Eugene German Aid Society, is composed entirely of Germans, who band themselves together to help each other, and to aid German homeseekers from the outside by furnishing reliable information and other assistance. The officers of the German society are: President, Emil Koppe; Vice-President, M. Schneider; secretary, J. A. Scherzinger; treasurer, F. G. G. Schmidt.

The other society is the College Hill Improvement Club, consisting of citizens who live on College Hill. The purpose is to pull together with the city authorities in making College Hill a desirable place for homebuilders. Its officers are: President, G. F. Hurd; Vice-President, H. B. Davidson; secretary-treasurer, F. K. Foster.

The life of the mercury arc lamp in some cases amounts to 3000 hours and more. The conducting material of the anode is either mercury alone, graphite and iron, or nickel.
