Women Make PinMoney Easily

There are thousands of women in Portland who make their pin money by reading the classified advertising pages of THE OREGONIAN eyery day.

Instead of throwing away their soiled dresses and the old clothes and old shoes of their husband and children, they place a small For Sale advertise ment-costing a few cents-in the classified columns of THE OREGONIAN.

The following morning one of the old-clothes men who watch THE OREGONIAN every day for the names of people who want to sell their old elothing comes to their house, gives them good price and takes the clothes away. He sells them to poor people, who are not particular about styles.

Many women take their old furniture-no matter how dilapidated-no matter how much out of style-from the garret or the cellar, place a small advertisement in THE OREGONIAN, Daily or Sunday, under the proper classification, and the following morning one of the many dealers who read THE OREGONIAN for information of this kind ealls with his wagon, gives the woman a good price for the furniture, takes the furniture away, fixes it up and sells it to somebody else.

You have no idea how many women make their pin money in this way, and how easy it is when you know that THE ORE-GONIAN is THE paper in Portland for these advertisements.

THE OREGONIAN is the newspaper which publishes the "Want Advertisements."
