A large number of girls enjoyed an un-usually good programme at the Y. W. C. A. yesterday afternoon. Those who took part were Miss Sabine Dent, Miss Hazel Babbidge, Miss Wilberta Babbidge and Mrs. S. N. Stoner, An interesting and inspiring talk was given by E. S. J. McAllier. These catherines are held Washington and Lincoln Themes at United Brethren Church.

Washington and Lincoln anniversaries were observed restarday morning and evening at the First United Brethren Church, East Fifteenth and Morrison streets, Rev. H. C. Shaffer, the pastor, spoke on "True Patriotism," and the En-deavor Society randered an appropriate programme. Mr. Shaffer said in part:

programme. Mr. Shaffer said in part: We shall ever cheffsh as a sacred legacy is memory of "The Father of His Country" and "Honest Abe." Washington was a great man as a mili-fary strategiet, and as such he has by some historians been given 'h higher place than is accorded Namoleon. But if as a com-mander of armies he was great, how shall we measure him as a statesman? For while Napoleon was a master in war, he ingno-miniously failed to place France upon a per-manet basis as a master in war. He ingno-miniously failed to place France upon a per-manent basis as a master in war. He ingno-miniously failed to place france upon a per-manent basis as a master in war. He ingno-minion basis as an and assumed the futtles of the chief leader of the new-born Nation, with that case and power which always graced him. He was under God, the restraining, inspir-siways graced him. He was under God, the restraining, inspir-ing, guiding spirit that formulated and handed down to the states the Constitution of the United States, and secured its adop-tion. No other man of his time could have drawn the peoples of the new country to-sether. for they were scattered, distracted, and sometimes belligerent. That he was a born leader seems true, and it is no less true that his pointaking nerseverance, bis near leader section the and it is no less financies, all combined for first perseverance, his fidelity to his past in hand, his mobility of instructer, all combined for further make him an ideal leader of the people. And when we remember that he was the divinely chosen instrument to be the father of his country we have the triple secret of his mighty influence.

At the evening service Mrs. George Betts gave an interesting sketch of Lin-coln's life, Miss Zella Zeigler spoke of "Lincoln's Kindness," Mr. Betts spoke of "Lincoln's Patriotism," Rev. B. Em-erick gave an address upon "Lincoln's Temperance Views," Mr. Poor spoke of "Lincoln's -Honesty," and Rev. Mr. Shaffer closed the service with a brief address concerning "Lincoln's Attitude to-ward Christianity." The music of the day was a special feature, and con-tributed largely to the inspiration of the being aware of her condition, gave her two ounces of the drug, which she drank immediately. tributed largely to the inspiration of the services. Besides the double quartet, the male quartet, Professor Owens, violinist, Miss Ingbretson, soloist, and Miss Fer-rier, soloist, furnished special numbers. The concluding number was the rendeq-ing of "Lincoln" Markham's poem, by The woman was taken to the hospital. where for a time she improved and hopes were entertained for her recovery, but acute gastritis set in Saturday and yesterday morning she died. Rev. Lewis I. Hadley, who had been pastor of the Friends Church, in Sunny-side, for the past two years, closed his work there yesterday. He occupied the pulpit morning and evening, these meet-ings being his farewell service. Rev. Hadley goes to Los Angeles, Cal., where he will become a member of the faculty of the Pacific Bible College and will have charge of the Whittler Church near by McAllister. These gatherings are held informally each week and all are wel-come. An especially attractive series of charge of the Whittler Church, near by talks will be given at the Young Women's Christian Association for four consecu-tive Wednesday noons, beginning Wed-Since he came to the Sunnyside church the membership has greatly increased During the past year $1000 was raised for missions alone, and the general work of the church enlarged. Rev. L. Wells, of nesday, February 26. The talks are 15 minutes long, from 12:35 to 12:50 and are called the "Why I Belleve" series. Dr. Berkeley, Cal., will succeed Rev. Hadley as pastor of the Sunnyside Church. He will arrive next July. Meanwhile the Benjamin Young, of the Taylor-Street Methodist Episcopal Church, a most forceful speaker, will give the series, which is already attracting much atten-tion from the business women. Open to Rev. Marion George, superintendent of missions, will supply the pulpit.
