STATEMENT NO. 1 CREATES FACTIONS

Fight for Control of Republican County Convention Today.

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT

Central Committee Leads Opposition to Statement Plank — Hodson, Beach and Bailey Head Rival Organization.

PROGRAMME OF REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING TODAY.

Delegates to the Republican mass meeting will meet at Selling-Hirsch Hall.

Chairman C. M. Idleman will call the convention to order at 10 o'clock.

The delegates will then elect a permanent chairman and secretary. Then will follow the naming of credentials committee, a committee on resolutions and also a committee on organization.

Two factions striving for control of today's Republican County Convention indicate that there will be a hot fight, rivaling old-time feuds. The factions are headed on the one side by the County Central Committee and on the other by a rebelling organization, led chiefly by C. W. Hodson, S. C. Beach and A. A. Bailey. Each side declares itself certain of capturing the convention. Each has chosen its men for chairman, secretary and committees on credentials and resolutions, made up its programme and drafted its platform, so that whichever wins can put things through in short order. The convention will be the first held in Oregon since the state conventions of April, 1904.

There is no doubt that the majority of the delegates oppose Statement No. 1. But on the question whether the convention should adopt an anti-Statement plank the division is more nearly equal. The Central Committee element, headed by Chairman C. M. Idleman, opposes such a plank. The Hodson-Bailey-Beach element favors such a declaration to the extent at least of calling on Republican candidates for the Legislature to pledge support only to the Republican choice for United States Senator. This faction accuses the other of having given insufficient notice of the time and places of choosing the delegates, for the purpose of shoving through a Statement No. 1 plank and of boosting itself into power.

Accuses Rival Faction.

But the Idleman faction retorts that it has no purpose even of referring to Statement No. 1, since that would rend the party. It insists that the rival contingent is dragging in a matter that has no business in the convention, and that it is trying to bolster up a Legislative ticket, opposed to Statement No. 1, with a convention declaration.

The ticket thus referred to is composed of C. W. Hodson, Sig Sichel, J. C. Bayer, John B. Coffey and John Driscoll, for the State Senators, and of J. W. Beveridge, Robert Farrell, Louis Kuehn, L. E. Crouch, C. N. McArthur and others, for Representatives. To this the Hodson-Bailey-Beach men reply that the County Central Committee, abetted by the Union Republican Club, is working for H. M. Cake for United States Senator, and for the election of a ticket pledged to Statement No. 1.

The convention will begin at 10 o'clock this morning, at the call to order of C. M. Idleman, chairman of the County Committee. M. G. Griffin, of precinct 86, Sellwood, is the choice of the Idleman element for chairman, and James Kertchem, precinct 43, or L. E. Crouch, precinct 66, for secretary. The other camp has picked out Frank F. Freeman, precinct 7, for chairman, and K. K. Kubli, precinct 85, for secretary. Each side has staked out the men to make motions at the proper spots, and the programmes cover the whole range of probable business.

Platform Is Drafted.

The platform of the Idleman faction reposed last night, in the inside pocket of Mr. Idleman, who will present it today to the resolutions committee of his organization should it control the convention. This platform was drafted chiefly by W. M. Davis, who with Richard Deich, A. B. Manley, James Kertchem and George M. Orton composed a special committee of the executive committee of the county committee, appointed for that purpose. The platform shuns Statement No. 1, as if it were charged with an explosive, and treats simply of matters about which there can be no conflict.

It contains some 15 planks, among them demands for the following: Employers' liability act, to replace that annulled by the United States Supreme Court; Asiatic exclusion, employment of convict labor in work not competing with free labor, high bridges over Willamette River, liberal appropriations for educational institutions, election of United States Senator by direct vote of people, division of Multnomah County into legislative districts, enactment of a more stringent banking law, upholding of the direct primary law, improvement of rivers and harbors and purchase of Oregon City locks by National Government, joint action with State of Washington, for improvement of Columbia River, control of all public service corporations by State Railroad Commission.

The platform of the Hodson-Bailey-Beach element, while kept more secret, will cover similar ground and in addition will either declare against Statement No. 1 or more probably in favor of pledging Republican candidates for the Legislature to support the party's choice for United States Senator.

Line-up of Forces.

The line-up of the opposing sides will be as follows:

Idleman element—C. M. Idleman, W. M. Davis, A. B. Manley, James Kertchem, George M. Orton, J. E. Magers, Dr. W. I. Cottel, M. G. Griffin, D. J. Quimby, Max G. Cohen, John Gill, F. E. Beach, Elmer Colwell, Dr. Emmet Drake.

Hodson element—C. W. Hodson, S. C. Beach, A. A. Bailey, Frank Freeman, Ralph Moody, Frank Bennett, Robert Platt, Dr. N. R. Cox, Howard Whiting, C. E. Lockwood, George L. Baker, W. H. Galvini, George McMillan, Otto Kraemer, R. R. Giltner, A. L. Finley, N. H. Bird, T. J. Geisler, J. M. Mann, A. R. Joy, S. B. Cobb.

There are many more on each side. Each of the 116 county precincts is entitled to three delegates, but not all will be represented. The convention will probably be composed of between 150 and 200 delegates, including proxies.

Were all opponents of Statement No. 1 members of the Hodson camp, there would be no doubt of that element's ruling the convention. As a matter of fact there are few Statement No. 1 delegates. The division is not on Statement No. 1, but on the question whether Statement No. 1 should be brought into the platform. Of the warring elements each is trying to control the utterance of the convention, and have taken sides on this question.

Republican Smoker Tonight.

The fifth monthly smoker of the Union Republican Club will be held tonight at Selling-Hirsch Hall. There will be a number of speeches by the party wheel-horses and also music and cigars.

What the Press Agents Say.

CLAY CLEMENT IN MATINEE

Closing Performance of Famous Artist at Marquam Tonight.

Tonight will witness the close of the engagement of that brilliant artist, Clay Clement, in his beautiful performance of the great English classic, "London Assurance." This has been the theatrical event of the month and the exquisite work of the star and his supporting company has been the delight of the local public.

"GRAUSTARK" AT THE BAKER

Last Two Performances of Beautiful Romantic Drama.

The last two performances of "Graustark" at the Baker will be this afternoon and tonight. Miss Jewel as the lovely Princess Yetive of Graustark, has a role entirely different from that of Nance Olden in her opening play. The roles of the two adventurous Americans are assumed by Robert Homan and Donald Bowles.

"The Battle of Life."

The last two performances of exciting melodrama, "The Battle of Life," in this city will be given this afternoon and tonight. Miss Ethel Tucker, who is playing the star role, is one of the best known melodramatic actresses in the country, and her performances are a treat for all lovers of this class of attractions.

Last Performances Today.

The last performances of "Adrift in the World" will be given at the Star Theater today by the French Stock Company. These will be the matinee this afternoon and the performance tonight. There is no more exciting comedy drama before the public today than "Adrift in the World," and it has given eminent satisfaction.

"Camille" Matinee Today.

A rare opportunity to see a great play really well acted is afforded this week by the Allen Company. Verna Felton's work as Camille has won for her the praise of the local press and has made a distinct impression on the public. In spite of her youth, she plays the famous role in a brilliant manner and compares favorably with some of her great predecessors in the part.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon at Heilig Tomorrow Night.

The attraction at the Heilig Theater, Fourteenth and Washington street, will be the costars, Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon, for four nights beginning tomorrow (Sunday) night. These famous players, together with an excellent supporting company, will present the interesting London society drama, "The Walls of Jericho." This play is said to be a perfect fusillade hurled against the vice and immorality of the London "smart set."

Paul Gilmore Sunday.

That popular young romantic actor Paul Gilmore will open a week's engagement at the Marquam Sunday afternoon in his newest play, "The Wheel of Love." Mr. Gilmore is too well and favorably known here to need an introduction. He is a general favorite and is said to be doing the finest work of his career in this new play.

"Zaza" Opens Tomorrow at Baker.

If ever Manager George L. Baker wished the Baker Theater could be expanded to meet the public demands, it is now and for the production of "Zaza," which opens tomorrow afternoon and continues all next week. The demand for seats to see this first stock production of the great drama has been the geratest in the history of the theater.

"The Virginian" Coming to Heilig.

The attraction at the Heilig, Fourteenth and Washington streets, for three nights, beginning next Thursday, March 5, will be the famous Western drama, "The Virginian." The noted actor, W. S. Hart, will be seen as the Virginian this season and the same old favorite, Frank Campeau as Trampas. A special price matinee will be given on Saturday afternoon.

"No Mother to Guide Her."

Tomorrow afternoon at the Empire the first appearance in this city of the powerful melodrama, "No Mother to Guide Her," will take place, and this strong attraction will run all next week, with the usual matinees Wednesday and Saturday. This is one of the big Lillian Mortimer melodramas of life in the great cities.

"By Right of Sword."

The coming attraction at the Lyric will be Ralph Stuart's great romantic drama, "By Right of Sword," in which Rupert Drumm will be featured, with excellent support from the other members of the company. The costumes will be the most elaborate the Lyric has ever provided.

"Way Out West" Tomorrow.

Tomorrow, with the matinee, the French Stock Company will present for the first time in Portland the new drama, "Way Out West," with its Indian attack on the fort, the defense of the soldiers and the other stirring, patriotic incidents.

Born Comedians.

Comedians, to be good, must be born and not made, and the headliners at the Grand next week, Crimmins and Gore, are born funsters. They have toured the world and raised laughs in every country.

Next Week at Pantages.

A genuine vaudeville treat will be afforded at Pantages for the ensuing week. The headline act will be a "musical uproar" by Delphino and Delmora, the noted international musical travesty artists.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

Fun at the Grand.

Fun bubbles in every act at the Grand this week and the current programme will be repeated until tomorrow night, with the usual Sunday performances tomorrow. Gilroy, Haynes and Montgomery, in their nautical burletta, "The Good Ship Nancy Lee," have the headline position and they set the house wild with laughter.

Pantages Hard to Beat.

Everyone who has gone to Pantages this week is boosting the show as one of the best in a lifetime. Hickey and Nelson are funmakers in a class of their own, and Colby and May, in a lively ventriloquist act, prove an important attraction. Herbert, the frogman, the three Garnders and Feurt and Window are all performers of the better class.

Passes Bill to Buy Out Poles.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—The Prussian House of Lords yesterday ratified the policy of Polish expropriation. The house rejected the amendments formulated by the committee among which was one to the effect that land held longer than ten years cannot be expropriated and adopted the original clauses of the measures by a vote of 13 to 111. The German newspapers this morning discuss at length the Polish expropriation. Surprise is expressed at the large government majority, the Lokal Anzeiger saying that this means the enactment of a harsh and extraordinary measure.

The Tageblatt declares that the bill is a double-edged weapon which may turn against the government.

The conservative journals consider the enactment of the bill the only means of securing a practical result in the Germanization of the Polish provinces.

PACIFIC COAST WEATHER.

Observations taken at 5 P. M., Pacific time, February 28.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometer continues unusually low over the North Pacific States and the high pressure area north of Montana is moving rapidly eastward, which will prevent any great amount of cold air draining into this district. Storm southeast warnings were ordered displayed at 6 P. M. at Cape Flattery and at the mouth of the Columbia River for moderately high southeasterly winds, which will prevail along the Washington coast tonight and Saturday. Light rain has fallen at scattered places on the Pacific Slope as far south as San Francisco and the temperatures have fallen slightly, except at Boise, where it is warmer than it was yesterday.

The indications are for rain or snow in this district Saturday, with no marked change in temperature.

FORECASTS.

Portland and vicinity—Occasional rain; southeasterly winds.

Western Oregon and Western Washington—Occasional rain; southeasterly winds, becoming high along the coast.

Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington and Idaho—Rain or snow.
