

SENATOR PROCTOR DIES AT CAPITAL

Short Illness, Following Grip, Fatal to Aged Vermont Statesman.

END OF NOTABLE CAREER

Distinguished Solon Served as Secretary of War and Made Speech That to Great Extent Inspired Spanish - American War.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—United States Senator Redfield Proctor, of Vermont, died at his apartments at the Champlain here this afternoon, after a short illness, following an attack of the grip. The Senator's son, Governor Fletcher Proctor, of Vermont, who was summoned to the city, was at the bedside when the Senator passed away. Senator Proctor was 77 years old.

The Senator had been ill and confined to his room at the Champlain apartment for about a week. His illness was diagnosed as grip, which later developed into pleurisy, with pneumonia complications, which affected the heart and which, in his enfeebled condition, proved too much for his power of resistance. Besides his son, Governor Proctor, the Governor's wife and several intimate friends were at the bedside when death occurred. The Senator's body will be taken to the old home in Proctorville, Vt.

Health Breaking Some Time.

The Senator had been in feeble health ever since the assembling of Congress and it was remarked by his friends that for the first time in their recollection he had failed to return from his usual flying trip to the high state of health which he always enjoyed. His condition became alarming today and the members of his family were notified that the end was near. During the day his colleagues in the Senate learned for the first time of the dangerous turn his illness had taken.

The news of his death reached the senate a few minutes after 5 o'clock. Senator Warren, chairman of the committee on military affairs, was then urging the passage of a bill to increase the pay of the Army, which is a measure that for many years had attracted the interest of the late Vermont Senator. He had advocated putting the Army on an equality with the Navy as regards the pay of enlisted men.

Congress Will Adjourn Today.

No announcement of the death was made to the Senate. The information was communicated to Vice-President Fairbanks, who immediately advised Mr. Warren. Mr. Warren asked that the pending bill be laid aside for the day. The Senate was adjourned, but it was not desired formally to announce the death, for the reason that it was thought best to lay aside business for an entire day in respect to the Senator's memory. Therefore the official announcement will be made tomorrow by Senator Dillingham, Mr. Proctor's colleague from Vermont.

While definite funeral arrangements have not been made, Mr. Proctor's body will be sent tomorrow evening to Proctorville, Vt., for interment on Friday. When the two houses of Congress adjourn tomorrow at noon, official announcement will be made of Mr. Proctor's death and adjournment will be taken as a mark of respect. The Vice-President and the Speaker of the House of Representatives will tomorrow appoint committees to accompany the body to Vermont.

Senator Proctor was born at Proctorville, Vt., June 1, 1831, and was graduated at Dartmouth College and the Albany Law School. He served as Lieutenant and Quartermaster of the Third Regiment of Vermont Volunteers, on staff of Major-General William P. Smith, and was Major of the Fifth and Colonel of the Fifteenth Vermont Infantry.

Beginning his political career, Senator Proctor was a member of the Vermont House of Representatives in 1857 and afterward in 1858 and 1859. He was also a member of the State Senate and president pro tempore of that body in 1874 and 1875. Following this, he was Lieutenant-Governor from 1876 to 1878 and Governor from 1878 to 1880. In 1884 Senator Proctor was a delegate to the Republican National Convention and headed the Vermont delegations to the same convention in 1888 and 1892.

President Harrison appointed Senator Proctor as Secretary of War in 1889, in which position he served until 1891. At that time he withdrew from the Cabinet to accept an appointment as United States Senator to succeed George F. Edmunds. The following year he was elected by the Vermont Legislature to fill both the unexpired and full terms and was re-elected in 1898 and 1904. The term which he was serving at the time of his death would have expired March 2, 1911.

One of the most historic episodes in Senator Proctor's career was the important part he played in bringing about the Spanish-American War. In a few months before the blowing up of the Maine, he made a tour of Cuba and visited the concentration camps, where the insurrectionists were confined, and saw much of the cruelty of Spanish rule. On his return he made a speech in the Senate, in which he described in most graphic and feeling terms the horrors of the rebellion. This speech made a deep impression not only in Congress, but throughout the country, and did more than anything else, with the exception of the blowing up of the Maine, to ripen public sentiment in favor of intervention.

In two years Lipman-Wolfe's "Owl" Cut-Rate Drugstore has revolutionized the drug business in Portland.

The "Owl" Drugstore has brought to Portland the LOWEST PRICES ever known, honest and FULL MEASURE, absolutely PURE DRUGS, and a square deal all around. In two years we have built up the largest drug business in Oregon by doing a drug business on the square.

During these two years we have been fought bitterly by the druggists of Portland, who have combined to prevent wholesalers from selling goods to us and who have annoyed us maliciously.

The Druggists' Association has asked the City Council to amend the anti-trust law so as to exempt the Druggists' Association. We reprint the following from The Oregonian:

"They asked that the ordinance be amended to prevent any patent medicine or preparation being sold for a sum less than the price marked on the wrapper. This request was made, they said, for the purpose of PROHIBITING LARGE DEPARTMENT STORES FROM CUTTING PRICES on various articles and drugs far below the wholesale cost merely for advertising purposes. They said that in order to protect themselves against such illegitimate business methods the druggists had to combine to prevent wholesale dealers selling to those who persisted in cutting prices.

One of the members of the Drug Trust said: "We wish you to set a standard price for all articles on which the manufacturers have stamped a price, and thus PREVENT THESE CUT-RATE STORES FROM UNDERSELLING US. SEVERAL OF THESE LARGE FIRMS SELL THESE GOODS FOR LESS THAN WE CAN PURCHASE THEM FROM THE MANUFACTURER."

Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald said he believed the ordinance provided that all combinations in restraint of trade should be unlawful. He did not believe, however, that a law could be passed to prohibit an individual from fixing any price on an article, unless he did so as the result of an agreement with others. On the ground that the ordinance prohibited the fixing of a standard price, the petition of the druggists was denied.

Although our prices are always lower than those of any other store, the saving in this great Second Anniversary Sale will be sensational. Carloads of drugs have been purchased for this sale, and will be sold for lower prices than the drugstores PAY for them.

Twenty-five drug clerks will be on hand to wait on you. No waiting for change or wrapping. Quantities will be limited in order to protect our customers and to keep drugstores from purchasing. Some articles may not last all day.
