EAST PORTLAND STREETS.—There is some apprehension that East Portland streets will not be in condition for the Rose Festival parade in June unless special effort is made to get them improved and repaired. However, there is little doubt that Grand avenue will be completed. The Warren Construction Company has the contract for paving the street between Belmont street and Sullivan's Gulch, and several blocks have been completed. Assurances have been given Councilman Kellaher that the remainder will be paved in time and the company is getting everything ready to put down the pavement as soon as good weather comes. The greatest trouble may be with East Morrison street. It may be not in condition for the parade. However, the East Side Business Men's Club has taken up the matter of the car tracks at Grand avenue and East Morrison street with the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. Improvement of this intersection was held up over a year because the company did not put down its permanent tracks on the intersection, and there is no evidence now that it will be done soon. Secretary Jackson, of the East Side Business Men's Club, will endeavor to find out when the company will lay its tracks on this intersection.

DEATH OF SPOKANE PIONEER.—Hiram N. Muzzy, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nellie M. Overbaugh, 485 Ainsworth avenue, February 5, will be buried at Spokane this afternoon. He was 83 years old. Mr. Muzzy was a Spokane pioneer and lived there for 28 years. At one time he owned much of the townsite before the village was expected to become a great city. He saw it grow from a mere hamlet. Five years ago he came to Portland and made his home with his daughter. His wife died several years ago at Spokane. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Nellie M. Overbaugh, of Portland, and by a son, Frank Muzzy, of Spokane.

MAY BUILD NEW CHURCH.—Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock there will be a meeting of the members of St. Stephen's parish in Marguerite hall on Hawthorne avenue and East Thirty-fifth streets to consider the matter of erecting a new church. It is also proposed to build a school in connection with the church. All the families or representatives of families are asked to attend this meeting. Officers will be elected and plans for the new church will be laid. St. Stephen's parish is a new one, but is rapidly growing. Meetings have been held in Marguerite hall, but it has already proved too small and larger quarters are needed for the congregation.

STRENGTHEN CARMEN'S UNION.—Richard Cornelius, president of the San Francisco Carmen's Union, is in the city, presumably for the purpose of more thoroughly organizing the street railway employes of this city. Mr. Cornelius declares that fully 75 per cent of the employes of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company belong to the local organization and after a conference with representatives of the local union yesterday, he said that he expected to enroll all of the street railway employes in the union before he left the city.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY CONCERT.—St. Andrew's Society of Oregon will give a Scotch concert and dance in the Woodmen of Wooderaft Hall, Tenth and Taylor streets, tonight. The programme will include solos by Miss Ethel M. Lytle, Mrs. J. E. Laidlaw and F. T. Crowther. J. D. Murray will deliver a recitation and James H. MacDonald will give a number of selections on the bagpipe. A dance will follow the entertainment.

WILL TALK TO YOUNG WOMEN.—Dr. William F. Coburn will address the Young Women's Christian Association Sunday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, on "The Woman Who Chose the Better Part." SOCIAL TEA FOR MEN.—Preceding the services tomorrow night in Trinity Church a social tea for the men of the parish will be given in the parish house of Trinity Church. Strangers will be welcome. FATHER CANTWELL TO LECTURE.—Father Cantwell, of the Holy Redeemer Parish at Piedmont, will deliver doctrinal lectures beginning Sunday night in the Woodlawn hall, as the parish hall is not large enough. He lectured last year and requests have come that he undertake another course. Father Cantwell's lectures will pertain to the doctrines, moral and historical life of the church. These talks will be given in a way that will be easily understood and in the question and answer style. Any one in the audience may hand in written questions which will be answered the following Sunday night. Following are some of the questions Father Cantwell will answer tomorrow night: "What is the history and meaning of Lent?" "Is not the Catholic faith, that prescribes fasts and penances, a gloomy form of religion?" "What is the new marriage law that is to go into effect Easter Sunday?" "Does not the Pope's recent condemnation of modernism prove that the church is the enemy of scientific progress?" Non-Catholics are invited to attend these lectures.

DREDGE TO COMPLETE WORK.—The Port of Portland dredge is moored at the foot of East Alder street. It will complete the fills started several months ago between East Washington and Belmont streets. After this work is finished the spillway under the embankment on East Morrison street will be filled up. George Simon, the manager, says that the new dredge of the Pacific Bridge Company will begin active operations in about three weeks. At present it is at work scooping out a channel near the mouth of the Willamette River. An expert will be here in a few days to install the hoisting works on the company's dock on East Water street, when all will be in readiness for dredging from the river. The big dredge will handle over 200 cubic yards of material an hour.

ORGANIZE DISTRICT LEAGUE.—At a preliminary meeting of representatives of the Epworth Leagues in the various Methodist churches, held last night in Sunnyside Methodist Church, it was decided to hold a convention in Centenary Methodist Church, Friday, March 27, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization of a District Epworth League. Rev. W. B. Hollingshead, D. D., presided at the meeting and appointed a committee of five to arrange the details of the proposed convention. Rev. J. W. McDougal, pastor of Mount Tabor Methodist Church was chosen chairman of this committee. Each Epworth League in this district will be represented by two delegates and the junior leagues by one delegate each.

W. T. MILLS TO LECTURE.—W. T. Mills, who is on a lecturing tour of the Northwest, will address a meeting of the Initiative and Referendum League, at Alisky hall, next Thursday night. The league has arranged to meet hereafter at Alisky hall. At a meeting of the league officials yesterday, Harry Yanckwich and Waldemar Seton were chosen to represent the league at the coming trial of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company's suit against the city in which the validity of the initiative and referendum is to be attacked. The trial is set for March 9.

ACCIDENT TO W. A. STOREY.—W. A. Storey, once Mayor of Portland and later Sheriff of Multnomah County, met with a painful accident a few days ago. In rising suddenly from the chair in which he was sitting, his right leg became twisted and the tendons near the knee were pulled loose. He was confined to his home for a time, but is now able to get about on crutches. Mr. Storey is 54 years of age and of strong physique, but said last night that his injury was so severe that he will probably be lame for several weeks.

BODY SHIPPED TO ASHLAND.—The body of Langley Hall, an aged inventor, who died of pneumonia at the City Jail, Thursday afternoon, was shipped yesterday to Ashland, Or., where relatives will take charge of the funeral. Hall died after a prolonged spree. He was suffering from pneumonia and congestion of the lungs but his condition was thought to be entirely the result of drinking and he received no medical attention, being found dead in his cell a few hours after his arrest.

JOHN G. STEEL DEAD.—James Steel, State Bank Examiner, left last night for Spokane, Wash., having received a message announcing the death of his brother, John G. Steel, at the age of 66 years. John Steel was a mining man and had large interests in British Columbia. His family, consisting of a wife and daughter, are in the East. He served in the Civil War, being a member of the Twenty-seventh Regiment. He was also a brother of George A. Steel, State Treasurer of Oregon.

The collection has been on exhibition daily during the past three weeks and has been visited by large numbers of art-lovers. Admission tomorrow afternoon as well as this afternoon is free.

THEATRICAL MEN SEND OUT ROAD SHOW.—E. R. Heilig and C. N. Ryan, well-known theatrical men, have embarked in a road venture. They are sending the original hand-colored Pathe pictures of the "Life of Christ" that played to large business at the Marquam Grand, over the circuit of the Northwest Theatrical Association. Silverton, Corvallis and Salem have already been visited.

KENILWORTH WANTS PARK. — Representatives of Kenilworth appeared before the Park Commissioners yesterday and asked that a tract of land on Holgate and East Thirty-third street be purchased for a park for that portion of the city. CHIEF OF POLICE IN RAID

REMOVES OBJECTIONABLE PICTURE MACHINES.

Portland Municipal Association Starts Campaign and O. W. P. Waiting-Room Is First on List.

Because the waiting-room of the O. W. P. Railway at First and Alder streets contained picture machines showing views not fit for the public gaze, Chief of Police Gritzmacher personally made a raid yesterday afternoon, and seizing the machines which contained the offending pictures, had them removed to the police station in the patrol wagon.

The raid was ordered by District Attorney John Manning, after an appeal had been made to him by a committee of citizens of the Portland Municipal Association. Mr. Manning requested the Chief of Police to go in person, and if he thought that the exhibition was unfit for public view, to raid the place and remove the machines by force if necessary.

The pictures are the property of the firm of Fritz & West. Fritz is Fred Fritz, proprietor of the notorious theater on Second and Burnside streets. West is J. W. West, who is supposed to be the manager of Fritz' theater, and who is also Fritz' partner in the penny arcades in the theater lobby. It is also said that the firm of Fritz & West has a chain of these arcades all over the Pacific Northwest, extending as far East as Butte, Mont.

This raid is the first step in a general action taken by the Portland Municipal Association to make a fight on all public exhibitions of this character. Yesterday at noon Samuel Connell, Miller Murdoch, W. F. Edwards, D. A. Pattullo, J. T. Wilson, F. A. Frazier, John A. Patterson, Dr. S. A. Brown, O. P. M. Jamison, H. L. Weatherby, Dr. J. L. Hewitt and John Bain, comprising the Executive Board of the association, met as a result of a number of complaints which had been laid before them regarding these pictures.

Messrs. Bain, Pattullo, Patterson and Jamison were appointed a committee of investigation. They visited the waiting-room at First and Alder streets, an arcade at Fourth and Alder streets, and the resorts of Fritz, Erickson and Blasier in the North End. They immediately appealed to the Chief of Police and the District Attorney with a view to having some of these people prosecuted under the state law which prohibits the exhibition of obscene pictures and provides a punishment of a fine of not less than $500 or not more than $1500 or imprisonment of not less than one year or more than five.

When seen last night Mr. Bain, who is the chairman of the committee of the association, grew warm in discussing the matter. He said:

"The whole thing is a disgrace to a civilized community. I am astonished and surprised that these things should have been in the O. W. P. waiting-room. It is a well-chosen spot to exploit such objectionable and unmentionable things. A large number of ladies have complained to us. They said that they were attracted to the actions of some small children in front of one of these pictures and upon investigating to ascertain the cause, they were horrified at their discovery. We have started a fight against this sort of public exhibition and we will do everything in our power to stop this thing. I do not know whether the railway company has anything to do with this disgraceful affair or not, but if they have, their officials should come in for severe censure. We are not going to stop here. If we secure a conviction we will have every man who puts an indecent picture on exhibition under arrest soon as ever we hear of them. If the pictures we saw in the other places yesterday are not removed, no doubt other raids will follow. Warrants will probably be issued for the arrest of the proprietors."

JOHN WYNNE FACES JURY

On Trial for Killing W. H. DuPuis in Saloon Brawl.

John Wynne is on trial before a jury in Judge O'Day's department of the State Circuit Court for the killing of W. H. DuPuis on December 11, 1907. The two men became engaged in a drunken brawl in a Fourth-street saloon, during which DuPuis is said to have struck Wynne. Wynne, who is a cripple, thereupon drew a revolver and killed his assailant. The two men had been acquainted in Pendleton. Wynne having owned a saloon at that place at one time.

The jury which is to try the case was not completed until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the court ordered a recess while the jurors paid a visit to the scene of the shooting, that they might better understand the testimony of the witnesses. Only eight jurors were secured during the morning session. The four others were secured after 2 o'clock.

The opening statements will be made by the attorneys this morning. Deputy District Attorneys Haney and Seabrook are prosecuting the case, while Attorneys L. B. Reeder and George W. Coldwell are defending the accused.

The jury that will try Wynne is as follows: H. L. Douthit, F. D. Gibbs, W. W. Day, Charles S. Hacker, W. J. Hawkins, August Dippell, J. W. Brown, C. Corlew, W. A. Charles, S. E. Carnahan, W. Labbe and H. L. Searls. The jurors excused were: Frank Dickinson, T. C. Bloomer, D. M. Dean, E. B. Coman, J. H. Eaton, J. H. Dietz, Albert Eschman, Carey L. Howe, H. A. Chapman, A. W. Brookings, H. W. Brice.

VICTIMS OF BUNCO SCHEME

Smooth Stranger Hires Laborers, Exacts Deposit, Then Goes.

The police are looking for a man who has been staying at the Grand Central Hotel for the last day or two under the name of G. B. Taylor. A large number of workmen have complained that this man had swindled them by putting an "ad" in the papers calling for all kinds of skilled men to go out into the country. When the men called to see him he would inform them that to be sure they intended to accept the job he required them to leave a deposit of $5 each. He agreed to pay all expenses to the place where they were to work. The men acceded to this and put up their money. When they returned to go to the train they found that their would-be employer had flown. F. A. Howd, A. Navburt and Lewis Meyers, of Nineteenth and Vaughn street, and W. R. McDowell, of 750½ Kelley street, have applied for warrants for the man's arrest.

INSPECT BRIDGE PLANS

EAST SIDE CITIZENS CONFER WITH ENGINEER.

V. C. Sands Explains Drawings at Meeting of Improvement Association.

The North East Side Improvement Association had the pleasure of inspecting the preliminary plans for a high bridge with approaches at its meeting last night. V. C. Sands, a civil engineer, prepared for Robert Wakefield preliminary plans of a high bridge without a draw at the request of M. G. Munly, president of the association. Mr. Sands displayed the drawings and explained them to the meeting. These show a bridge 140 feet above low water mark, which is sufficient to allow the passage of any sailing vessel by lowering the top masts. On the West Side the landing is at Eighth street and the approach is 3750 feet long. Part of the approach is on Park blocks and ends near Everett street. The grade is 4 per cent for the first 500 feet and 3 per cent for the remainder of the distance. On the East Side the approach lands on Dupont street, instead of on Hancock. The bridge as planned would be 60 feet wide.

Mr. Sands explained the great difficulties to be overcome on the West Side. On the East Side the problem is an easy one, said the engineer. The estimated cost, exclusive of property condemned, is $2,180,000.

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Sands very frankly said his judgment was against the construction of a bridge without a draw. He favored a bridge with a lift draw as the most feasible and practicable, and explained that he had built several bridges of that type in Chicago that were successful. He thought such a bridge could be built for about $800,000.

After the plans had been explained it was announced that Mr. Mojeska, a famous bridge constructor, would be in Portland about the middle of the month and would be consulted. It was reported that 3000 names had been secured to the bridge petitions.

A report was submitted to the effect that the War Department is opposed to closing the bridge draws at stated times during the day. A letter was read from Assistant Secretary of War Robert Shaw Oliver to the effect that Colonel S. W. Roessler, of the Engineer Corps, had reported against such proposed regulation of the draws on the ground that it would interfere with navigation. Engineer Roessler suggests that the difficulties and delays on the bridges might be avoided by constructing more bridges across the Willamette River and building a few tubes under the river.

A. B. Manley reported that a meeting of the water committee would be held next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the fire hydrant question would be considered. He urged that a large delegation attend this meeting. The secretary was instructed to write all the push clubs that the special election to vote bonds for the new East Side school building would be held April 7 and that it would be necessary for all members to vote on that day.

It was voted to accept the invitation to attend the annual meeting of the United East Side Push Clubs next Tuesday night. It was voted to continue the circulation of the bridge petitions until 5000 names had been secured.

KREISLER'S PROGRAMMES

Great Violinist Spends Much Time Preparing Them and Will Present Fine Numbers Here March 17.

The Fritz Kreisler programmes are not the usual hackneyed offerings of the violin virtuoso, for he puts many hours' work on their selection and his programmes always contain works rarely heard. In fact, he often presents classics that many other violinists dare not attempt in public. Kreisler made a profound impression upon his audience when he played here two years ago, and widespread interest is taken in his coming. Especially interesting will be the joint recital in which he will play with the great pianist, Harold Bauer, on Tuesday evening, March 17, at the Heilig. The concert is under the direction of Lois Steers-Wynn Coman and is the fourth of their Winter series.
