TIE AT END OF ELEVEN INNINGS

Beavers and Santa Barbara Each Pile Up Ten Before Darkness Comes.

PITCHERS ARE HARD HIT

Wildness Due to Lack of Practice Is Noticeable on Both Sides—Large Crowd Sees Game—Ready to Meet Chicago Tuesday.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., March 8.—(Special.)—The second game between the Portland team, of the Pacific Coast League, and the Santa Barbara nine, of the California State League, resulted in a swatfest which went 11 innings to a tie. Each team had scored 10 runs when the game was called on account of darkness.

Pernoll and Bloomfield pitched for Portland, while Charlie Hall, of the Columbus team, of the American Association, officiated for Santa Barbara. All three pitchers were hit hard and also received poor support, for the fielders of both teams seemed to lack teamwork, in addition to being stiff and sore from the strenuous exertions put forth in Saturday's game.

Considering the fact that the Oregon players had but recently arrived and were not hardened to the exercise, they put up a very good game, and most of the errors contributed were the result of wild throws, caused by sore arms. Very few mistakes were made in judgment, and the team is reported to show up exceedingly well for the short time at practice.

Charlie Hall pitched a good game, but even he showed signs of lack of control, and was hit at timely intervals. Pernoll and Bloomfield allowed the locals but eight hits all told, but these came at opportune times and were intermingled with several costly wild throws.

Good Plays Applauded.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd of people, most of whom are travelers wintering at this resort, and they were enthusiastic in applauding the good plays of the competing teams. Casey and Kennedy pulled off several plays that were made with lightning quickness. These two members of the Portland team are in good enough shape to play league ball at the present time. Casey was the star, both in the field and at the bat, although Johnson and Bassey secured as many hits and even longer ones. Bassey also made a sensational catch of a long fly. Malloy proved himself a fast man on the bases by stealing second and third bases consecutively. Catcher Ferraris, of the Santa Barbara team, while pegging nicely each time, failed to get this speedy runner.

More Players Coming.

Martinke, at third base for Santa Barbara, was the star performer for the home team. He handled several bunts most accurately and otherwise distinguished himself. As darkness was approaching, the captains of the two teams consented to the game being called, which announcement was gladly welcomed by the tired and sore-muscled players.

Groom, a pitcher; Cooney, shortstop, and Olsen are expected to reach here tomorrow morning. Several other players are due to arrive in a few days. Manager McCredie is anxious to have his men in condition to meet the Chicago Americans on Tuesday and Wednesday. Harmon and Johnson will probably pitch the first game against the White Sox and Bloomfield and Pernoll the second. This has not been settled positively, for McCredie says he will use the men who are in the best condition.

BASEBALL SEASON IS OPENED

Wabash White Sox Defeat Holladay Maroons, 8 to 2.

The Wabash White Sox and the Holladay Maroons opened the local baseball season yesterday with a most exciting contest on the East Portland grounds. The Wabash players were victorious in an exceedingly well-played game, considering that it was the first game of the season. The score was 8 to 2. Bill Mille, who occupied the slab for the winning team, distinguished himself by allowing his opponents but two scattered hits and striking out ten of the Maroons. Mille, who is a tall, lanky chap, was in splendid condition for an early-season contest, and to judge by his work yesterday, should prove a valuable addition to the Wabash team. He received fairly good support, considering that most of the players had not yet become hardened.

Captain Adams, the White Sox second baseman, displayed midseason form, and also secured a pair of timely bingles. McKinley negotiated three hits, one of which was a three-sack drive. "Baron" Jasman negotiated a couple of swats, which he afterwards cashed in at home plate.

Pitcher Jackson, of the Maroon team, fanned nine of the Wabash players, and pitched a steady, but uphill game. His battery partner, Bercovich, and Muller, Hersher, Donaldson and Duncomb of the defeated team deserve praise for their efforts. Umpire Burnside, of the Tri-City League, officiated in the most satisfactory manner. The Wabash team expects to meet the St. John team, of the Tri-City League, at St. John next Sunday.

MAY FIGHT ABE ATTELL

Harry Neicken, of M. A. A. C., Urged to Turn Professional.

One of the most scientific young boxers in the amateur ranks today is Harry Neicken, the champion of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club in the 125-pound division. This youngster, who is a Portland boy, joined the Multnomah Club as a junior and entered the boxing class under Professor Fred Rennick. He soon displayed more than ordinary talent in this particular line and the instructor took him in hand and coached him thoroughly.

In the various boxing and wrestling tournaments in which the Multnomah Club has participated Neicken has always been a winner in the event for which he entered, and when the local team goes to Seattle for the tournament there next Friday this lad is the one best bet among the entries. He is fast and possesses accuracy and judgment to such a marked extent that several of his admirers have proposed to match him against Abe Attell, providing the Portland lad will consent to aspire to a world championship.

The admirers of the Multnomah boy are ready to put up the money to guarantee the match at any time Neicken will consent to a match with the Californian. Neicken will not turn professional for some time at least, for he has consented to represent Multnomah in the coming Pacific Coast amateur championships, as well as in the contests at Seattle and Spokane.

Medford 6; Jacksonville 1.

MEDFORD, Or., March 8.—(Special.)—In the first game of the season today Medford defeated Jacksonville 6 to 1. Batteries—Medford, Boussum and Purdy; Jacksonville, Sexton, McIntyre and Wilson. Boussum was in good form for his first game and allowed but two hits. Medford had four.

Hears Single Tax Explained.

At the meeting of Evening Star Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, Saturday at the hall on the Section Line road, a committee of 15 was appointed to make preparation for entertaining Pomona Grange, which meets in this hall Wednesday, March 18. At this meeting H. D. Wagnon was asked to explain the proposed single tax amendment, which he did, and answered questions from members. It was announced that subscriptions for enlarging the hall are coming in liberally and the indications are that money will be raised for that purpose. It is desired to spend about $1500 in enlarging the hall.

LENT IS OBSERVED

Episcopal Churches Hold Special Services.

BISHOP PREACHES SERMON

Begins Series of Lenten Discourses, Which Are Studies in Comparative Religions—Shintoism Is Discussed.

Services appropriate to the Lenten season were observed in all the Episcopal churches of the city yesterday. At the Catholic churches the services were the same as on any other Sunday. Special Lenten services will be held at the Catholic churches next Wednesday and Friday nights, at 7:45 o'clock. The sermon on Wednesday night will be followed by the benediction of the blessed sacrament. On Friday night the service will be the Stations of the Cross, followed by benediction.

Father Thompson preached at the Cathedral yesterday morning, giving a sermon of instruction to members.

At St. Mark's Lenten services are to be held at 4 o'clock Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, and at 7:30 P. M. Friday. At All-Saints' Church Lenten service will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night.

The Right Rev. Charles Scadding, Episcopal Bishop of Oregon, preached at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church yesterday morning, the sermon following confirmation. In all the Episcopal churches Holy Communion was celebrated in the morning, in most cases at 8 o'clock.

Bishop Scadding said in part:

Man is a religious being, and when we consider how universal in all religion are such ideas as communion with deity, incarnation, sacrifice and immortality, it is not difficult to see that there was a real preparation for Christian doctrine in every pagan religion. Reverent and careful study of comparative religions will show that, while Christ is the true light, he lighteth every man, and that no religious belief is without some spark of that eternal radiance. Christians whose faith is something more than a mere intellectual assent to a body of doctrine, who know that their redeemer lives, and is with them, who have experienced the peace that passeth understanding, need have no feeling of trepidation in examining the religions of other peoples with the sincere purpose of discovering exactly what they teach.

Our pulses beat fast when we read of the boundless patriotism that has animated the people of Japan, and the deeds of dauntless valor that have never been surpassed and rarely equalled in the annals of history. What is the secret of the indomitable courage and contempt of death that have amazed the world? What has transformed the diminutive Nippon with his love of nature, of flowers, art and the pleasant things of life, into a warrior with a courage of a Hercules and the self-poise of an Aurelius? No doubt much of the success of the Japanese arms is due to racial qualities; but their immeasurable devotion to the Mikado, and their willingness to die, are directly traceable to their religion—the primitive religion of Japan.

Chit-Chat of Sporting World

BY WILL G. MAC RAE.

QUITE a delegation of Portland members of the Hunt Club will attend the Vancouver, B. C., Horse Show. An effort was made to have a carload of local horses taken to the show, but it fell through. The Vancouver people are preparing to entertain the Portlanders.

The season of Charley Horse and glass arm has arrived. In the sporting columns you will soon see this: "Dink Bolts, manager of Guff's highly touted southpaw, signed from the Mosquito League, is a punk slabster. He developed a case of Charley Horse and glass arm soon after his arrival, and Manager Guff tied a can to him."

Once more Jimmy Britt slipped one over on his enemy, Battling Nelson. Nelson was willing to meet Packy McFarland, but had to have his little haggle over the terms. While he was doing the Billy Nolan stunt Sam Berges came to terms with his side-kick, Britt, and now Britt will fight the Chicago boxer. They will fight March 31.

Kid Mohler, captain of the Seals, had 20 men in uniform the other day. He has a new pitcher named Gums—not our Gum—who weighs 192 pounds.

Watch The Oregonian for real baseball news. By Tuesday there will be dope for the fans right from the seat of war. There will be pictures also of the new recruits.

It's curious, yet it's a fact, that the fellow who drives an automobile in the speed mania tests is remembered about as long as the candidate who ran for dog-catcher.

A Philadelphia capitalist whose nerves went back on him took to sawing wood. Now he recommends the pastime to others. There is no danger of the fad becoming popular with the unemployed gentry in the sporting world.

Undertakers in Baltimore have reduced the price of funerals from $75 to $50. We hope this paragraph will meet the eyes of James Edward Britt, Battling Nelson, Frankie Neil and Jack O'Brien. Yes, and some ball players we might mention.

There may come a time when we can make a trip to Mars, but fighters and horse-hide chasing young men will avoid making the trip. Why? Well, Professor Slipher has discovered water on Mars. Isn't this notsy?

From now on and until McCredie brings his band of baseball recruits home, Billy Pangle will be asking "What's the dope? What do you think of 'em? Say, that fellow Plats can clout the ball some, eh?"

Danny Long, after keeping George Wheeler on the anxious seat for many weeks, mailed him a contract. Wheeler didn't follow his last year's game. Instead he attached his name to the contract and sent it to the Seal manager by return mail.

Some of the meat-wagon hounds racing at Emeryville are constantly doing the flip-flop stunt. The officials have given up trying to ditch the owners and are looking for the fellows who teach the skates to read the bookmakers' figures. They'll be busy.

Tod Sloan is going to turn informer. The great jockey that was once says he will expose the rottenness of the American racing game. Sloan was chased off the turf for crooked work, so he should be qualified to speak on the racing game from his side of it.

Racehorse-owners who feed cheap selling platers are not wanted at the Meadows this Summer. When racing officials put the ban on inferior horses they do a double service. It will chase from the race tracks a lot of mangy owners also.

REFUSE TO EXPOSE FRIEND

CHINESE SUSPECTED OF MURDER DENY GUILT.

Police Patrol Second Street and Seize Ammunition to Prevent Further Killings.

Lim Won and Yee Geung, the two Chinese occupying cells in the City Jail, charged with the murder of Lee Dai Hoy, which occurred Saturday night, remain silent despite the efforts of the police to learn the name of the third man who participated in the killing. Both deny their guilt in spite of having been identified by Lee Dai Hoy before he died from the effects of the seven bullets fired into his body by his assailants.

Jue Ah Bong, a third Celestial under arrest, is being held as a witness, but he also keeps his own counsel and refuses to shed any more light on the shooting, which seems to have been the result of a highbinder feud wherein Lee Dai Hoy was marked for slaughter and a San Francisco hatchet man imported here for the purpose of disposing of him. This San Francisco Chinaman is the missing third man of the trio.

In spite of the general belief that the killing of Lee Dai Hoy would lead to several more affairs of the kind among the Chinese, yesterday was a quiet day along Second street. The police, however, maintain a close watch over the Chinese quarter and Detectives Smith and Kay visited the haunts of the different societies frequently. On searching the headquarters of the tong to which the prisoners belong yesterday morning the officers seized 1000 rounds of ammunition for 32-caliber revolvers and brought the cartridges to the police station. A number of knives and revolvers were also seized and when added to the collection taken Saturday night made police headquarters look like a small arsenal.

The detectives as well as patrolmen in plain clothes were kept on duty in Chinatown during the entire day yesterday, and a thorough search is being made for Jue Mee and another Chinese whose name is not known. Both are believed to have some knowledge of the murder.

FUNDS FOR ROSE FESTIVAL

BENEFIT AT MARQUAM FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Talent From All City Theaters Will Contribute Acts for Big Matinee.

The most important event of the week in Rose Festival affairs will be the monster benefit performance at the Marquam Grand next Friday afternoon, at which all local playhouses will contribute the cream of their talent, free of charge. All proceeds of the performance will go to swell the Festival fund, as the contribution of the managers of the local theaters. The largest band every assembled in Portland will participate in the parade to be held before the benefit matinee and an enlarged orchestra will supply the musical numbers during the show.

The programme will be one of the longest and most varied lists of acts ever given on a local stage, and George L. Baker, manager of two local houses, is personally arranging the programme, and, with the assistance of his fellow-managers, will select the best acts and specialties holding the boards this week.

The purpose of giving this benefit is to get many people whom the Festival management cannot reach through solicitors, and who have not made any pledges to the fund, to contribute one dollar—that will be the price of admission to any part of the house—to be used to help defray the expenses of the Festival. Tickets will be placed on sale today or tomorrow and will be handled by the Rose Festival management.

Through the Portland Ad. Club it is expected some amicable arrangement will be made this week between the Board of Education and the parents of the school children which will permit the boys and girls who so desire to participate in the Festival parade. Just what steps the Ad Club will take is not known as yet, but it has made a start in this direction and, it is understood, will follow it up. The real difficulty, the admen say, is to devise some way of securing concerted action on the part of the parents.
